Chairman's Letter

Dear Shareholder,

U.S. stocks led global markets for the 12 months ended October 31, 2014. Returns for international shares were modest overall and varied widely from country to country, with emerging-market stocks, as a whole, outpacing those of developed countries.

The sluggish global economy took a toll on small-capitalization international stocks, which tend to be more sensitive to economic growth prospects. For the fiscal period, large-capitalization international stocks exceeded their smaller counterparts.

Vanguard FTSE All-World ex-US Index Fund, which invests in international large- and mid-cap stocks, returned 1.05% for the fiscal year ended October 31. Vanguard FTSE All-World ex-US Small-Cap Index Fund, which invests in smaller international companies, returned 0.15%. (All returns mentioned in this letter are for the funds' Investor Shares.)

The return of each fund diverged from its target index because of temporary price differences arising from fair-value pricing policies (see the box on page 6). Both funds exceeded the average return of their peers, which include both actively and passively managed international funds.

For U.S.-based investors, currency exchange rates hindered the returns of international stocks as the dollar's relative value generally rose during the period. (For more on currency effects and international diversification, see the box on page 7.)

If you hold your shares in a taxable account, you may wish to review information on the funds' after-tax returns later in this report.

Their smooth ride turned jagged, but U.S. stocks ended higher

The global stock market's occasional zigs and zags during the year included a roller-coaster ride in October that left international markets several steps behind the U.S. stock market for the 12 months ended October 31. Emerging markets advanced modestly, and the developed European and Pacific markets finished in negative territory.

In contrast, the broad U.S. stock market returned about 16% for the 12 months. Impressive corporate earnings and various global stimulus measures generally supported stocks against a bleaker backdrop that included tensions in the Middle East and Ukraine and international economic concerns. After falling in the first two weeks of October, several major U.S. indexes rebounded to finish at record highs. Reflecting confidence in the U.S. economy, the Federal Reserve announced October 29 that it was ending its stimulative bond-buying program as anticipated.

Bonds posted mixed returns as already low yields declined

International bond markets (as measured by the Barclays Global Aggregate Index ex USD, unhedged) slid in September and October en route to a -2.53% return for the 12 months, a modestly steeper decline than in the 12 months ended October 2013. However, after currency hedging, the index return was positive.

More than reversing its year-ago loss, the broad U.S. taxable bond market returned 4.14%. Bond prices, which backtracked at times over the summer, climbed in October as investors sought sanctuary from stock market volatility.

U.S. bond returns were strong despite many analysts' expectations that already low yields wouldn't decline further. Even as the Fed began steadily reducing its bond purchases in January, prices rose and the yield of the 10-year U.S. Treasury note ended October at 2.31%, down from 2.54% a year earlier. (Bond prices and yields move in opposite directions.)

Municipal bonds returned 7.82%, with tax-exempt issues in high demand even at a time of reduced supply.

The Fed's target for short-term interest rates remained at 0%–0.25%, restraining returns for money market funds and savings accounts.

The funds' emerging-market holdings surpassed those of Europe, Pacific

The FTSE All-World ex-US Index Fund and the FTSE All-World ex-US Small-Cap Index Fund provide investors with broad exposure to different segments of developed and emerging markets outside the United States. Three major market categories—developed Europe, the Pacific region's developed markets, and emerging markets—account for the bulk of the funds' holdings.

FTSE All-World ex-US Index Fund	0.30%	0.15%	0.12 %	0.10%	0.15%	1.36%
FTSE All-World ex-US Small-Cap Index Fund	0.40	—	0.19	—	0.20	1.51

The fund expense ratios shown are from the prospectus dated February 27, 2014, and represent estimated costs for the current fiscal year. For the fiscal year ended October 31, 2014, the funds' expense ratios were: for the FTSE All-World ex-US Index Fund, 0.29% for Investor Shares, 0.14% for Admiral Shares, 0.12% for Institutional Shares, 0.10% for Institutional Plus Shares, and 0.14% for ETF Shares; and for the FTSE All-World ex-US Small-Cap Index Fund, 0.37% for Investor Shares, 0.18% for Institutional Shares, and 0.19% for ETF Shares. The peer-group expense ratios are derived from data provided by Lipper, a Thomson Reuters Company, and capture information through year-end 2013.

Peer groups: For the FTSE All-World ex-US Index Fund, International Funds; and for the FTSE All-World ex-US Small-Cap Index Fund, International Small-Cap Funds.

As I mentioned earlier, even though international stocks of all sizes struggled during the fiscal year, large-cap stocks held up better. The FTSE All-World ex-US Index Fund posted positive results in two of the three major market categories. The FTSE All-World ex-US Small-Cap Index produced negative returns in two of those three categories. In general, emerging markets produced the strongest returns for both funds; Pacific region stock returns were higher than European stock returns in both funds.

Emerging-market stocks produced returns of more than 4% for the large- and mid-cap fund and about 2% for the small-cap fund. Several of the biggest economies, including India and China, posted gains. India was the top-performing emerging-market economy; investors were encouraged by the election of a pro-business prime minister. Despite fears of decelerating growth in China, the Chinese market—with an economy growing at a still-enviable rate—advanced. Brazil, however, facing political uncertainty during the period, registered declines.

Given China's voracious appetite for commodities and other imports, mounting concerns about its ability to meet its 7.5% annual growth target weighed on developed markets, including those in Europe.

Returns varied among European countries, while those for the region as a whole were slightly negative. The small-cap fund returned about -1% in Europe, while the mid- and large-cap fund's return was slightly below zero.

Early in the period, it looked as if Europe had emerged from a double-dip recession, but clouds reappeared on the economic horizon. Germany's economy, Europe's largest, contracted in the second calendar quarter and Italy slipped back into recession. Amid still-high unemployment and looming deflation, the European Central Bank cut interest rates twice and took other steps to try to stimulate growth.

The United Kingdom, which is the largest holding for both funds in the European region, was a relatively bright spot. Many other markets, including those of Germany, France, and Italy, lost ground. These declines weighed more heavily on the small-cap fund's performance.

In the Pacific region, the mid- and large-cap fund advanced modestly, while the small-cap fund's return was negative.

Japan, which represented more than half the assets of each fund in the region, hurt their results. Prime Minister Shinzo Abe continued to implement economic reforms aimed at spurring growth in the world's third-largest economy. And, in a move that stunned global markets at the end of October, the Bank of Japan announced an expanded quantitative easing program with even more aggressive asset purchases, especially of Japanese government bonds. However, Japan's weakened yen versus

A note on fair-value pricing

The reported return of a fund that tracks an index sometimes diverges from the index's return a bit more than would be expected. This may be the result of a fair-value pricing adjustment.

These adjustments, which are required by the Securities and Exchange Commission, address pricing discrepancies that may arise because of time-zone differences among global stock markets. Foreign stocks may trade on exchanges that close many hours before a fund's closing share price is calculated in the United States, generally at 4 p.m., Eastern time. In the hours between the foreign close and the U.S. close, the value of these foreign securities may change—because of company-specific announcements or market-wide developments, for example. Such price changes are not immediately reflected in international index values.

Fair-value pricing takes such changes into account in calculating the fund's daily net asset value, thus ensuring that the NAV doesn't include "stale" prices. The result can be a temporary divergence between the return of the fund and that of its benchmark index—a difference that usually corrects itself when the foreign markets reopen.

the dollar significantly hindered the results of U.S. dollar-based investors in both funds. The small-cap fund's result for the region was further dampened by negative returns for Australia and Singapore.

Over the long term, the funds have closely tracked their indexes
Vanguard FTSE All-World ex-US Index Fund, which launched in March 2007, has returned 1.98% annually since

Currency fluctuation is one reason U.S. and international stocks diverge

Diversification is a proven way to reduce volatility and manage risk. That's why it can make sense for investors to allocate a portion of their stock portfolios to international equities (20% of the equity allocation can be a good starting point). International stocks, which make up about half of the world's stock market capitalization, perform somewhat differently than stocks in the U.S. market. One of the many reasons for this is currency fluctuation. Currency movements historically have not been correlated to stock price movements, meaning they tend not to move together.

International stocks have underperformed U.S. stocks recently for U.S.-based investors, in part because many foreign currencies have weakened against the U.S. dollar. But that divergence actually highlights the diversification benefit of owning both U.S. and international stocks. As you can see from the accompanying chart, at other times, international stocks have outshone their U.S. counterparts. (For more insight, see Global Equities: Balancing Home Bias and Diversification, available at vanguard.com/research.)

Trailing 12-month return differential between U.S. and non-U.S. stocks

Notes: U.S. equities are represented by the MSCI USA Index; international equities are represented by the MSCI All Country World Index ex USA. Data are from October 31, 1994, through October 31, 2014.

inception. Vanguard FTSE All-World ex-US Small-Cap Index Fund, which launched in April 2009, has returned 15.08% annually since inception.

The FTSE All-World ex-US Index Fund's average annual return for the seven years surpassed the average annual return of its peer group. The FTSE All-World ex-US Small-Cap Index Fund's average annual return for the five years trailed its peers.

Despite a challenging market environment—marked by the Great Recession, followed by record highs for many global markets—both funds have met their objectives of capturing the returns of their benchmarks when taking into account fair-value pricing, expenses, and transaction costs.

This is a testament to the experience, talent, and sophisticated systems of the funds' advisor, Vanguard Equity Investment Group, aided by the funds' low expenses, which enable shareholders to keep more of the returns on their investments.

When market volatility heats up, the best response is to stay cool

After several years of strength, stocks hit a rough patch toward the close of the fiscal year. From the end of September through the middle of October, global stock markets, as measured by the FTSE Global All Cap Index, returned -5.56%. They rebounded in the latter part of October, but many investors undoubtedly were left feeling unsettled.

What's my best advice to anxious shareholders? Remain calm and remember that volatility is a normal part of stock market investing. The value of keeping a cool head is highlighted in a Vanguard research paper on investor behavior during the financial crisis, when global stocks declined about 58% and U.S. stocks about 55%.

The 2010 study, Resilience in Volatile Markets: 401(k) Participant Behavior, September 2007–December 2009, from the Vanguard Center for Retirement Research, examined the behavior of participants in Vanguard-administered retirement plans. During that time, about three-quarters of the participants made no changes to their accounts, and only 3% gave up on stocks completely.

As stocks recovered, this discipline yielded big benefits. Between the end of 2008 and the end of 2013, the average Vanguard 401(k) portfolio nearly doubled in value, largely because of the surge in stock prices.

I'm pleased that, over time, our clients have demonstrated an impressive ability to remain focused on their long-term goals. They stayed the course through the 1987 correction, the dot-com boom of the 1990s, and the 2008 financial crisis, and they continue to do so today.

Sincerely,

F. William McNabb III
Chairman and Chief Executive Officer

Notes to Financial Statements

Vanguard FTSE All-World ex-US Index Fund is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as an open-end investment company, or mutual fund. The fund invests in securities of foreign issuers, which may subject it to investment risks not normally associated with investing in securities of U.S. corporations. The fund offers five classes of shares: Investor Shares, Admiral Shares, Institutional Shares, Institutional Plus Shares, and ETF Shares. Investor Shares are available to any investor who meets the fund's minimum purchase requirements. Admiral Shares, Institutional Shares, and Institutional Plus Shares are designed for investors who meet certain administrative, service, and account-size criteria. ETF Shares are listed for trading on NYSE Arca; they can be purchased and sold through a broker.

A. The following significant accounting policies conform to generally accepted accounting principles for U.S. investment companies. The fund consistently follows such policies in preparing its financial statements.

1. Security Valuation: Securities are valued as of the close of trading on the New York Stock Exchange (generally 4 p.m., Eastern time) on the valuation date. Equity securities are valued at the latest quoted sales prices or official closing prices taken from the primary market in which each security trades; such securities not traded on the valuation date are valued at the mean of the latest quoted bid and asked prices. Securities for which market quotations are not readily available, or whose values have been affected by events occurring before the fund's pricing time but after the close of the securities' primary markets, are valued at their fair values calculated according to procedures adopted by the board of trustees. These procedures include obtaining quotations from an independent pricing service, monitoring news to identify significant market- or security-specific events, and evaluating changes in the values of foreign market proxies (for example, ADRs, futures contracts, or exchange-traded funds), between the time the foreign markets close and the fund's pricing time. When fair-value pricing is employed, the prices of securities used by a fund to calculate its net asset value may differ from quoted or published prices for the same securities. Investments in Vanguard Market Liquidity Fund are valued at that fund's net asset value. Temporary cash investments acquired over 60 days to maturity are valued using the latest bid prices or using valuations based on a matrix system (which considers such factors as security prices, yields, maturities, and ratings), both as furnished by independent pricing services. Other temporary cash investments are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value.

2. Foreign Currency: Securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars using exchange rates obtained from an independent third party as of the fund's pricing time on the valuation date. Realized gains (losses) and unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on investment securities include the effects of changes in exchange rates since the securities were purchased, combined with the effects of changes in security prices. Fluctuations in the value of other assets and liabilities resulting from changes in exchange rates are recorded as unrealized foreign currency gains (losses) until the assets or liabilities are settled in cash, at which time they are recorded as realized foreign currency gains (losses).

3. Futures and Forward Currency Contracts: The fund uses index futures contracts to a limited extent, with the objectives of maintaining full exposure to the stock market, enhancing returns, maintaining liquidity, and minimizing transaction costs. The fund may purchase futures contracts to immediately invest incoming cash in the market, or sell futures in response to cash outflows, thereby simulating a fully invested position in the underlying index while maintaining a cash balance for liquidity. The fund may seek to enhance returns by using futures contracts instead of the underlying securities when futures are believed to be priced more attractively than the underlying securities. The primary risks associated with the use of futures contracts are imperfect correlation between changes in market values of stocks held by the fund and the prices of futures contracts, and the possibility of an illiquid market. Counterparty risk involving futures is mitigated because a regulated clearinghouse is the counterparty instead of the clearing broker. To further mitigate counterparty risk, the fund trades futures contracts on an exchange, monitors the financial strength of its clearing brokers and clearing-house, and has entered into clearing agreements with its clearing brokers. The clearinghouse imposes initial margin requirements to secure the fund's performance and requires daily settlement of variation margin representing changes in the market value of each contract.

The fund also enters into forward currency contracts to provide the appropriate currency exposure related to any open futures contracts. The fund's risks in using these contracts include movement in the values of the foreign currencies relative to the U.S. dollar and the ability of the counterparties to fulfill their obligations under the contracts. The fund mitigates its counterparty risk by entering into forward currency contracts only with a diverse group of prequalified counterparties, monitoring their financial strength, entering into master netting arrangements with its counterparties, and requiring its counterparties to transfer collateral as security for their performance. The master netting arrangements provide that, in the event of a counterparty's default (including bankruptcy), the fund may terminate the forward currency contracts, determine the net amount owed by either party in accordance with its master netting arrangements, and sell or retain any collateral held up to the net amount owed to the fund under the master netting arrangements. The forward currency contracts contain provisions whereby a counterparty may terminate open contracts if the fund's net assets decline below a certain level, triggering a payment by the fund if the fund is in a net liability position at the time of the termination. The payment amount would be reduced by any collateral the fund has pledged. Any assets pledged as collateral for open contracts are noted in the Statement of Net Assets. The value of collateral received or pledged is compared daily to the value of the forward currency contracts exposure with each counterparty, and any difference, if in excess of a specified minimum transfer amount, is adjusted and settled within two business days.

Futures contracts are valued at their quoted daily settlement prices. Forward currency contracts are valued at their quoted daily prices obtained from an independent third party, adjusted for currency risk based on the expiration date of each contract. The aggregate settlement values and notional amounts of the contracts are not recorded in the Statement of Net Assets. Fluctuations in the value of the contracts are recorded in the Statement of Net Assets as an asset (liability) and in the Statement of Operations as unrealized appreciation (depreciation) until the contracts are closed, when they are recorded as realized gains (losses) on futures or forward currency contracts.

During the year ended October 31, 2014, the fund's average investments in long and short futures contracts represented less than 1% and 0% of net assets, respectively, based on the average of aggregate settlement values at each quarter-end during the period. The fund's average investment in forward currency contracts represented less than 1% of net assets, based on the average of notional amounts at each quarter-end during the period.

4. Federal Income Taxes: The fund intends to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company and distribute all of its taxable income. Management has analyzed the fund's tax positions taken for all open federal income tax years (October 31, 2011–2014), and has concluded that no provision for federal income tax is required in the fund's financial statements.

5. Distributions: Distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

6. Securities Lending: To earn additional income, the fund lends its securities to qualified institutional borrowers. Security loans are required to be secured at all times by collateral in an amount at least equal to the market value of securities loaned. Daily market fluctuations could cause the value of loaned securities to be more or less than the value of the collateral received. When this occurs, the collateral is adjusted and settled on the next business day. The fund further mitigates its counterparty risk by entering into securities lending transactions only with a diverse group of prequalified counterparties, monitoring their financial strength, and entering into master securities lending agreements with its counterparties. The master securities lending agreements provide that, in the event of a counterparty's default (including bankruptcy), the fund may terminate any loans with that borrower, determine the net amount owed, and sell or retain the collateral up to the net amount owed to the fund; however, such actions may be subject to legal proceedings. While collateral mitigates counterparty risk, in the absence of a default the fund may experience delays and costs in recovering the securities loaned. The fund invests cash collateral received in Vanguard Market Liquidity Fund, and records a liability in the Statement of Net Assets for the return of the collateral, during the period the securities are on loan. Securities lending income represents fees charged to borrowers plus income earned on invested cash collateral, less expenses associated with the loan.

7. Credit Facility: The fund and certain other funds managed by The Vanguard Group participate in a $2.89 billion committed credit facility provided by a syndicate of lenders pursuant to a credit agreement that may be renewed annually; each fund is individually liable for its borrowings, if any, under the credit facility. Borrowings may be utilized for temporary and emergency purposes, and are subject to the fund's regulatory and contractual borrowing restrictions. The participating funds are charged administrative fees and an annual commitment fee of 0.06% of the undrawn amount of the facility; these fees are allocated to the funds based on a method approved by the fund's board of trustees and included in Management and Administrative expenses on the fund's Statement of Operations. Any borrowings under this facility bear interest at a rate equal to the higher of the federal funds rate or LIBOR reference rate plus an agreed-upon spread.

The fund had no borrowings outstanding at October 31, 2014, or at any time during the period then ended.

8. Other: Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income includes income distributions received from Vanguard Market Liquidity Fund and is accrued daily. Premiums and discounts on debt securities purchased are amortized and accreted, respectively, to interest income over the lives of the respective securities. Security transactions are accounted for on the date securities are bought or sold. Costs used to determine realized gains (losses) on the sale of investment securities are those of the specific securities sold.

Each class of shares has equal rights as to assets and earnings, except that each class separately bears certain class-specific expenses related to maintenance of shareholder accounts (included in Management and Administrative expenses) and shareholder reporting. Marketing and distribution expenses are allocated to each class of shares based on a method approved by the board of trustees. Income, other non-class-specific expenses, and gains and losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

B. The Vanguard Group furnishes at cost investment advisory, corporate management, administrative, marketing, and distribution services. The costs of such services are allocated to the fund based on methods approved by the board of trustees. The fund has committed to invest up to 0.40% of its net assets in Vanguard. At October 31, 2014, the fund had contributed capital of $2,229,000 to Vanguard (included in Other Assets), representing 0.01% of the fund's net assets and 0.89% of Vanguard's capitalization. The fund's trustees and officers are also directors and officers of Vanguard.

C. Various inputs may be used to determine the value of the fund's investments. These inputs are summarized in three broad levels for financial statement purposes. The inputs or methodologies used to value securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

Level 1—Quoted prices in active markets for identical securities.

Level 2—Other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.).

Level 3—Significant unobservable inputs (including the fund's own assumptions used to determine the fair value of investments).

The following table summarizes the market value of the fund's investments as of October 31, 2014, based on the inputs used to value them:

Investments	Level 1 ($000)	Level 2 ($000)	Level 3 ($000)
Common Stocks—North and South America	2,007,663	339,566	—
Common Stocks—Other	374,221	19,577,635	9,995
Temporary Cash Investments	319,666	10,000	—

1 Represents variation margin on the last day of the reporting period.

Securities in certain countries may transfer between Level 1 and Level 2 because of differences in stock market closure times that may result from transitions between standard and daylight saving time in those countries and the United States. Based on values on the date of transfer, securities valued at $270,656,000 based on Level 1 inputs were transferred from Level 2 during the fiscal year. Additionally, based on values on the date of transfer, securities valued at $324,300,000 based on Level 2 inputs were transferred from Level 1 during the fiscal year.

E. Distributions are determined on a tax basis and may differ from net investment income and realized capital gains for financial reporting purposes. Differences may be permanent or temporary. Permanent differences are reclassified among capital accounts in the financial statements to reflect their tax character. Temporary differences arise when certain items of income, expense, gain, or loss are recognized in different periods for financial statement and tax purposes. These differences will reverse at some time in the future. Differences in classification may also result from the treatment of short-term gains as ordinary income for tax purposes.

During the year ended October 31, 2014, the fund realized net foreign currency losses of $3,852,000, which decreased distributable net income for tax purposes; accordingly, such losses have been reclassified from accumulated net realized losses to undistributed net investment income. Certain of the fund's investments are in securities considered to be passive foreign investment companies, for which any unrealized appreciation and/or realized gains are required to be included in distributable net income for tax purposes. During the year ended October 31, 2014, the fund realized gains on the sale of passive foreign investment companies of $2,582,000, which have been included in current and prior periods' taxable income; accordingly, such gains have been reclassified from accumulated net realized losses to undistributed net investment income. Passive foreign investment companies held at October 31, 2014, had unrealized appreciation of $56,297,000.

The fund realized gains on the sale of securities that were subject to capital gains tax in certain foreign countries. Capital gains taxes reduce realized gains for financial statement purposes but are treated as an expense for tax purposes. Accordingly, $84,000 of capital gains tax has been reclassified from accumulated net realized losses to undistributed net investment income.

During the year ended October 31, 2014, the fund realized $87,119,000 of net capital gains resulting from in-kind redemptions—in which shareholders exchanged fund shares for securities held by the fund rather than for cash. Because such gains are not taxable to the fund, and are not distributed to shareholders, they have been reclassified from accumulated net realized losses to paid-in capital.

For tax purposes, at October 31, 2014, the fund had $109,152,000 of ordinary income available for distribution. At October 31, 2014, the fund had available capital losses totaling $868,376,000 to offset future net capital gains. Of this amount, $281,206,000 is subject to expiration dates; $1,431,000 may be used to offset future net capital gains through October 31, 2015, $29,919,000 through October 31, 2016, $138,066,000 through October 31, 2017, $32,560,000 through October 31, 2018, and $79,230,000 through October 31, 2019. Capital losses of $587,170,000 realized beginning in fiscal 2012 may be carried forward indefinitely under the Regulated Investment Company Modernization Act of 2010, but must be used before any expiring loss carryforwards.

At October 31, 2014, the cost of investment securities for tax purposes was $20,116,511,000. Net unrealized appreciation of investment securities for tax purposes was $2,522,235,000, consisting of unrealized gains of $4,258,779,000 on securities that had risen in value since their purchase and $1,736,544,000 in unrealized losses on securities that had fallen in value since their purchase.

F. During the year ended October 31, 2014, the fund purchased $3,877,090,000 of investment securities and sold $1,079,236,000 of investment securities, other than temporary cash investments. Purchases and sales include $1,511,224,000 and $185,252,000, respectively, in connection with in-kind purchases and redemptions of the fund's capital shares.

Notes to Financial Statements

Vanguard FTSE All-World ex-US Small-Cap Index Fund is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as an open-end investment company, or mutual fund. The fund invests in securities of foreign issuers, which may subject it to investment risks not normally associated with investing in securities of U.S. corporations. The fund offers three classes of shares: Investor Shares, Institutional Shares, and ETF Shares. Investor Shares are available to any investor who meets the fund's minimum purchase requirements. Institutional Shares are designed for investors who meet certain administrative, service, and account-size criteria. ETF Shares are listed for trading on NYSE Arca; they can be purchased and sold through a broker.

A. The following significant accounting policies conform to generally accepted accounting principles for U.S. investment companies. The fund consistently follows such policies in preparing its financial statements.

1. Security Valuation: Securities are valued as of the close of trading on the New York Stock Exchange (generally 4 p.m., Eastern time) on the valuation date. Equity securities are valued at the latest quoted sales prices or official closing prices taken from the primary market in which each security trades; such securities not traded on the valuation date are valued at the mean of the latest quoted bid and asked prices. Securities for which market quotations are not readily available, or whose values have been affected by events occurring before the fund's pricing time but after the close of the securities' primary markets, are valued at their fair values calculated according to procedures adopted by the board of trustees. These procedures include obtaining quotations from an independent pricing service, monitoring news to identify significant market- or security-specific events, and evaluating changes in the values of foreign market proxies (for example, ADRs, futures contracts, or exchange-traded funds), between the time the foreign markets close and the fund's pricing time. When fair-value pricing is employed, the prices of securities used by a fund to calculate its net asset value may differ from quoted or published prices for the same securities. Investments in Vanguard Market Liquidity Fund are valued at that fund's net asset value. Temporary cash investments acquired over 60 days to maturity are valued using the latest bid prices or using valuations based on a matrix system (which considers such factors as security prices, yields, maturities, and ratings), both as furnished by independent pricing services. Other temporary cash investments are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value.

2. Foreign Currency: Securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars using exchange rates obtained from an independent third party as of the fund's pricing time on the valuation date. Realized gains (losses) and unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on investment securities include the effects of changes in exchange rates since the securities were purchased, combined with the effects of changes in security prices. Fluctuations in the value of other assets and liabilities resulting from changes in exchange rates are recorded as unrealized foreign currency gains (losses) until the assets or liabilities are settled in cash, at which time they are recorded as realized foreign currency gains (losses).

3. Futures Contracts: The fund uses index futures contracts to a limited extent, with the objectives of maintaining full exposure to the stock market, enhancing returns, maintaining liquidity, and minimizing transaction costs. The fund may purchase futures contracts to immediately invest incoming cash in the market, or sell futures in response to cash outflows, thereby simulating a fully invested position in the underlying index while maintaining a cash balance for liquidity. The fund may seek to enhance returns by using futures contracts instead of the underlying securities when futures are believed to be priced more attractively than the underlying securities. The primary risks associated with the use of futures contracts are imperfect correlation between changes in market values of stocks held by the fund and the prices of futures contracts, and the possibility of an illiquid market. Counterparty risk involving futures is mitigated because a regulated clearinghouse is the counterparty instead of the clearing broker. To further mitigate counterparty risk, the fund trades futures contracts on an exchange, monitors the financial strength of its clearing brokers and clearinghouse, and has entered into clearing agreements with its clearing brokers. The clearinghouse imposes initial margin requirements to secure the fund's performance and requires daily settlement of variation margin representing changes in the market value of each contract.

Futures contracts are valued at their quoted daily settlement prices. The aggregate settlement values of the contracts are not recorded in the Statement of Net Assets. Fluctuations in the value of the contracts are recorded in the Statement of Net Assets as an asset (liability) and in the Statement of Operations as unrealized appreciation (depreciation) until the contracts are closed, when they are recorded as realized futures gains (losses).

During the year ended October 31, 2014, the fund's average investments in long and short futures contracts represented less than 1% and 0% of net assets, respectively, based on the average of aggregate settlement values at each quarter-end during the period. The fund had no open futures contracts at October 31, 2014.

4. Federal Income Taxes: The fund intends to continue to qualify as a regulated investment company and distribute all of its taxable income. Management has analyzed the fund's tax positions taken for all open federal income tax years (October 31, 2011–2014), and has concluded that no provision for federal income tax is required in the fund's financial statements.

5. Distributions: Distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

6. Securities Lending: To earn additional income, the fund lends its securities to qualified institutional borrowers. Security loans are required to be secured at all times by collateral in an amount at least equal to the market value of securities loaned. Daily market fluctuations could cause the value of loaned securities to be more or less than the value of the collateral received. When this occurs, the collateral is adjusted and settled on the next business day. The fund further mitigates its counterparty risk by entering into securities lending transactions only with a diverse group of prequalified counterparties, monitoring their financial strength, and entering into master securities lending agreements with its counterparties. The master securities lending agreements provide that, in the event of a counterparty's default (including bankruptcy), the fund may terminate any loans with that borrower, determine the net amount owed, and sell or retain the collateral up to the net amount owed to the fund; however, such actions may be subject to legal proceedings. While collateral mitigates counterparty risk, in the absence of a default the fund may experience delays and costs in recovering the securities loaned. The fund invests cash collateral received in Vanguard Market Liquidity Fund, and records a liability in the Statement of Net Assets for the return of the collateral, during the period the securities are on loan. Securities lending income represents fees charged to borrowers plus income earned on invested cash collateral, less expenses associated with the loan.

7. Credit Facility: The fund and certain other funds managed by The Vanguard Group participate in a $2.89 billion committed credit facility provided by a syndicate of lenders pursuant to a credit agreement that may be renewed annually; each fund is individually liable for its borrowings, if any, under the credit facility. Borrowings may be utilized for temporary and emergency purposes, and are subject to the fund's regulatory and contractual borrowing restrictions. The participating funds are charged administrative fees and an annual commitment fee of 0.06% of the undrawn amount of the facility; these fees are allocated to the funds based on a method approved by the fund's board of trustees and included in Management and Administrative expenses on the fund's Statement of Operations. Any borrowings under this facility bear interest at a rate equal to the higher of the federal funds rate or LIBOR reference rate plus an agreed-upon spread.

The fund had no borrowings outstanding at October 31, 2014, or at any time during the period then ended.

8. Other: Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income includes income distributions received from Vanguard Market Liquidity Fund and is accrued daily. Premiums and discounts on debt securities purchased are amortized and accreted, respectively, to interest income over the lives of the respective securities. Security transactions are accounted for on the date securities are bought or sold. Costs used to determine realized gains (losses) on the sale of investment securities are those of the specific securities sold. Fees assessed on capital share transactions prior to July 25, 2014, were credited to paid-in capital.

Each class of shares has equal rights as to assets and earnings, except that each class separately bears certain class-specific expenses related to maintenance of shareholder accounts (included in Management and Administrative expenses) and shareholder reporting. Marketing and distribution expenses are allocated to each class of shares based on a method approved by the board of trustees. Income, other non-class-specific expenses, and gains and losses on investments are allocated to each class of shares based on its relative net assets.

B. The Vanguard Group furnishes at cost investment advisory, corporate management, administrative, marketing, and distribution services. The costs of such services are allocated to the fund based on methods approved by the board of trustees. The fund has committed to invest up to 0.40% of its net assets in Vanguard. At October 31, 2014, the fund had contributed capital of $245,000 to Vanguard (included in Other Assets), representing 0.01% of the fund's net assets and 0.10% of Vanguard's capitalization. The fund's trustees and officers are also directors and officers of Vanguard.

C. Various inputs may be used to determine the value of the fund's investments. These inputs are summarized in three broad levels for financial statement purposes. The inputs or methodologies used to value securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

Level 1—Quoted prices in active markets for identical securities.

Level 2—Other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.).

Level 3—Significant unobservable inputs (including the fund's own assumptions used to determine the fair value of investments).

The following table summarizes the market value of the fund's investments as of October 31, 2014, based on the inputs used to value them:

	Level 1 ($000)	Level 2 ($000)	Level 3 ($000)
Investments
Common Stocks—North and South America	349,410	39,770	88
Common Stocks—Other	—	1,986,384	5,087
Temporary Cash Investments	150,465	1,000	—
Futures Contracts—Assets <sup>1</sup>	66	—	—

Securities in certain countries may transfer between Level 1 and Level 2 because of differences in stock market closure times that may result from transitions between standard and daylight saving time in those countries and the United States. Based on values on the date of transfer, securities valued at $41,472,000 based on Level 1 inputs were transferred from Level 2 during the fiscal year. Additionally, based on values on the date of transfer, securities valued at $37,706,000 based on Level 2 inputs were transferred from Level 1 during the fiscal year.

D. Distributions are determined on a tax basis and may differ from net investment income and realized capital gains for financial reporting purposes. Differences may be permanent or temporary. Permanent differences are reclassified among capital accounts in the financial statements to reflect their tax character. Temporary differences arise when certain items of income, expense, gain, or loss are recognized in different periods for financial statement and tax purposes; such differences are primarily attributed to the tax treatment of unrealized appreciation on passive foreign investment companies. These differences will reverse at some time in the future. Differences in classification may also result from the treatment of short-term gains as ordinary income for tax purposes.

During the year ended October 31, 2014, the fund realized net foreign currency losses of $309,000, which decreased distributable net income for tax purposes; accordingly, such losses have been reclassified from accumulated net realized losses to undistributed net investment income. Certain of the fund's investments are in securities considered to be passive foreign investment companies, for which any unrealized appreciation and/or realized gains are required to be included in distributable net income for tax purposes. During the year ended October 31, 2014, the fund realized gains on the sale of passive foreign investment companies of $5,026,000, which have been included in current and prior periods' taxable income; accordingly, such gains have been reclassified from accumulated net realized losses to undistributed net investment income. Passive foreign investment companies held at October 31, 2014, had unrealized appreciation of $17,789,000.

During the year ended October 31, 2014, the fund realized $143,816,000 of net capital gains resulting from in-kind redemptions—in which shareholders exchanged fund shares for securities held by the fund rather than for cash. Because such gains are not taxable to the fund, and are not distributed to shareholders, they have been reclassified from accumulated net realized losses to paid-in capital.

For tax purposes, at October 31, 2014, the fund had $28,776,000 of ordinary income available for distribution. At October 31, 2014, the fund had available capital losses totaling $28,101,000 to offset future net capital gains. Of this amount, $8,715,000 is subject to expiration on October 31, 2019. Capital losses of $19,386,000 realized beginning in fiscal 2012 may be carried forward indefinitely under the Regulated Investment Company Modernization Act of 2010, but must be used before any expiring loss carryforwards.

At October 31, 2014, the cost of investment securities for tax purposes was $2,471,642,000. Net unrealized appreciation of investment securities for tax purposes was $60,562,000, consisting of unrealized gains of $359,582,000 on securities that had risen in value since their purchase and $299,020,000 in unrealized losses on securities that had fallen in value since their purchase.

E. During the year ended October 31, 2014, the fund purchased $1,034,060,000 of investment securities and sold $633,071,000 of investment securities, other than temporary cash investments. Purchases and sales include $419,128,000 and $331,453,000, respectively, in connection with in-kind purchases and redemptions of the fund's capital shares.

F. Capital share transactions for each class of shares were:

This table presents returns for your fund both before and after taxes. The after-tax returns are shown in two ways: (1) assuming that an investor owned the fund during the entire period and paid taxes on the fund's distributions, and (2) assuming that an investor paid taxes on the fund's distributions and sold all shares at the end of each period.

Calculations are based on the highest individual federal income tax and capital gains tax rates in effect at the times of the distributions and the hypothetical sales. State and local taxes were not considered. After-tax returns reflect any qualified dividend income, using actual prior-year figures and estimates for 2014. (In the example, returns after the sale of fund shares may be higher than those assuming no sale. This occurs when the sale would have produced a capital loss. The calculation assumes that the investor received a tax deduction for the loss.)

The table shows returns for Investor Shares only; returns for other share classes will differ. Please note that your actual after-tax returns will depend on your tax situation and may differ from those shown. Also note that if you own the fund in a tax-deferred account, such as an individual retirement account or a 401(k) plan, this information does not apply to you. Such accounts are not subject to current taxes.

Finally, keep in mind that a fund's performance—whether before or after taxes—does not guarantee future results.

About Your Fund's Expenses

As a shareholder of the fund, you incur ongoing costs, which include costs for portfolio management, administrative services, and shareholder reports (like this one), among others. Operating expenses, which are deducted from a fund's gross income, directly reduce the investment return of the fund.

A fund's expenses are expressed as a percentage of its average net assets. This figure is known as the expense ratio. The following examples are intended to help you understand the ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in your fund and to compare these costs with those of other mutual funds. The examples are based on an investment of $1,000 made at the beginning of the period shown and held for the entire period.

The accompanying table illustrates your fund's costs in two ways:

- Based on actual fund return. This section helps you to estimate the actual expenses that you paid over the period. The "Ending Account Value" shown is derived from the fund's actual return, and the third column shows the dollar amount that would have been paid by an investor who started with $1,000 in the fund. You may use the information here, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period.

To do so, simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by  $$1,000 = 8.6$ ), then multiply the result by the number given for your fund under the heading "Expenses Paid During Period."

- Based on hypothetical 5% yearly return. This section is intended to help you compare your fund's costs with those of other mutual funds. It assumes that the fund had a yearly return of 5% before expenses, but that the expense ratio is unchanged. In this case—because the return used is not the fund's actual return—the results do not apply to your investment. The example is useful in making comparisons because the Securities and Exchange Commission requires all mutual funds to calculate expenses based on a 5% return. You can assess your fund's costs by comparing this hypothetical example with the hypothetical examples that appear in shareholder reports of other funds.

Note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight and help you compare ongoing costs only and do not reflect transaction costs incurred by the fund for buying and selling securities. Further, the expenses do not include any purchase, redemption, or account service fees described in the fund prospectus. If such fees were applied to your account, your costs would be higher. Your fund does not carry a "sales load."

The calculations assume no shares were bought or sold during the period. Your actual costs may have been higher or lower, depending on the amount of your investment and the timing of any purchases or redemptions.

You can find more information about the fund's expenses, including annual expense ratios, in the Financial Statements section of this report. For additional information on operating expenses and other shareholder costs, please refer to your fund's current prospectus.

The calculations are based on expenses incurred in the most recent six-month period. The funds' annualized six-month expense ratios for that period are: for the FTSE All-World ex-US Index Fund, 0.29% for Investor Shares, 0.13% for Admiral Shares, 0.12% for Institutional Shares, 0.10% for Institutional Plus Shares, and 0.14% for ETF Shares; and for the FTSE All-World ex-US Small-Cap Index Fund, 0.36% for Investor Shares, 0.18% for Institutional Shares, and 0.19% for ETF Shares. The dollar amounts shown as "Expenses Paid" are equal to the annualized expense ratio multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by the number of days in the most recent six-month period, then divided by the number of days in the most recent 12-month period.

Glossary

Beta. A measure of the magnitude of a fund's past share-price fluctuations in relation to the ups and downs of a given market index. The index is assigned a beta of 1.00. Compared with a given index, a fund with a beta of 1.20 typically would have seen its share price rise or fall by 12% when the index rose or fell by 10%. For this report, beta is based on returns over the past 36 months for both the fund and the index. Note that a fund's beta should be reviewed in conjunction with its R-squared (see definition). The lower the R-squared, the less correlation there is between the fund and the index, and the less reliable beta is as an indicator of volatility.

Dividend Yield. Dividend income earned by stocks, expressed as a percentage of the aggregate market value (or of net asset value, for a fund). The yield is determined by dividing the amount of the annual dividends by the aggregate value (or net asset value) at the end of the period. For a fund, the dividend yield is based solely on stock holdings and does not include any income produced by other investments.

Earnings Growth Rate. The average annual rate of growth in earnings over the past five years for the stocks now in a fund.

Equity Exposure. A measure that reflects a fund's investments in stocks and stock futures. Any holdings in short-term reserves are excluded.

Expense Ratio. A fund's total annual operating expenses expressed as a percentage of the fund's average net assets. The expense ratio includes management and administrative expenses, but does not include the transaction costs of buying and selling portfolio securities.

Inception Date. The date on which the assets of a fund (or one of its share classes) are first invested in accordance with the fund's investment objective. For funds with a subscription period, the inception date is the day after that period ends. Investment performance is measured from the inception date.

Median Market Cap. An indicator of the size of companies in which a fund invests; the midpoint of market capitalization (market price x shares outstanding) of a fund's stocks, weighted by the proportion of the fund's assets invested in each stock. Stocks representing half of the fund's assets have market capitalizations above the median, and the rest are below it.

Price/Book Ratio. The share price of a stock divided by its net worth, or book value, per share. For a fund, the weighted average price/book ratio of the stocks it holds.

Price/Earnings Ratio. The ratio of a stock's current price to its per-share earnings over the past year. For a fund, the weighted average P/E of the stocks it holds. P/E is an indicator of market expectations about corporate prospects; the higher the P/E, the greater the expectations for a company's future growth.

R-Squared. A measure of how much of a fund's past returns can be explained by the returns from the market in general, as measured by a given index. If a fund's total returns were precisely synchronized with an index's returns, its R-squared would be 1.00. If the fund's returns bore no relationship to the index's returns, its R-squared would be 0. For this report, R-squared is based on returns over the past 36 months for both the fund and the index.

Return on Equity. The annual average rate of return generated by a company during the past five years for each dollar of shareholder's equity (net income divided by shareholder's equity). For a fund, the weighted average return on equity for the companies whose stocks it holds.

Short-Term Reserves. The percentage of a fund invested in highly liquid, short-term securities that can be readily converted to cash.

Turnover Rate. An indication of the fund's trading activity. Funds with high turnover rates incur higher transaction costs and may be more likely to distribute capital gains (which may be taxable to investors). The turnover rate excludes in-kind transactions, which have minimal impact on costs.

The People Who Govern Your Fund

The trustees of your mutual fund are there to see that the fund is operated and managed in your best interests since, as a shareholder, you are a part owner of the fund. Your fund's trustees also serve on the board of directors of The Vanguard Group, Inc., which is owned by the Vanguard funds and provides services to them on an at-cost basis.

A majority of Vanguard's board members are independent, meaning that they have no affiliation with Vanguard or the funds they oversee, apart from the sizable personal investments they have made as private individuals. The independent board members have distinguished backgrounds in business, academia, and public service. Each of the trustees and executive officers oversees 177 Vanguard funds.

The following table provides information for each trustee and executive officer of the fund. More information about the trustees is in the Statement of Additional Information, which can be obtained, without charge, by contacting Vanguard at 800-662-7447, or online at vanguard.com.

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

To the Board of Trustees of Vanguard International Equity Index Funds and the Shareholders of Vanguard FTSE All-World ex-US Index Fund and Vanguard FTSE All-World ex-US Small-Cap Index Fund:

In our opinion, the accompanying statements of net assets – investments summary and the related statements of operations and of changes in net assets and the financial highlights (included in Item 1 of this Form N-CSR) and the schedules of investments (included in Item 6 of this Form N-CSR) present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Vanguard FTSE All-World ex-US Index Fund and Vanguard FTSE All-World ex-US Small-Cap Index Fund (the "Funds") at October 31, 2014, the results of each of their operations for the year then ended, the changes in each of their net assets for each of the two years in the period then ended, and the financial highlights for each of the periods indicated, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements, financial highlights, and schedules of investments (hereafter referred to as "financial statements") are the responsibility of the Funds' management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these financial statements in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits, which included confirmation of securities at October 31, 2014 by correspondence with the custodian and brokers, by agreement to the underlying ownership records of the transfer agent and the application of alternative auditing procedures where securities purchased had not been received, provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

THE VANGUARD FUNDS'
CODE OF ETHICS
FOR SENIOR EXECUTIVE AND FINANCIAL OFFICERS

I. Introduction

The Board of Trustees of each registered investment company that is managed, sponsored, and distributed by The Vanguard Group, Inc. (“VGI”) (each a “Vanguard Fund” and collectively the “Vanguard Funds”) has adopted this code of ethics (the “Code”) as required by Section 406 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. The Code applies to the individuals in positions listed on Exhibit A (the “Covered Officers”). All Covered Officers, along with employees of The Vanguard Group, Inc., are subject to separate and distinct obligations from this Code under a Code of Ethics adopted pursuant to Rule 17j-1 under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (“17j-1 Code of Ethics”), policies to prevent the misuse of non-public information, and other internal compliance guidelines and policies that may be in effect from time to time.

This Code is designed to promote:

- Honest and ethical conduct, including the ethical handling of conflicts of interest;
- Full, fair, accurate, timely, and understandable disclosure in reports and documents that a Vanguard Fund files with, or submits to, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, or in other public communications made by the Vanguard Funds or VGI;
- Compliance with applicable laws, governmental rules, and regulations;
- Prompt internal reporting to those identified in the Code of violations of the Code; and
- Accountability for adherence to the Code.

II. Actual or Apparent Conflicts of Interest

A. Covered Officers should conduct all activities in accordance with the following principles:

1. Shareholders' interests come first. In the course of fulfilling their duties and responsibilities to Vanguard Fund shareholders, Covered Officers must at all times place the interests of Vanguard Fund shareholders first. In particular, Covered Officers must avoid serving their own personal interests ahead of the interests of Vanguard Fund shareholders.
2. Conflicts of interest must be avoided. Covered Officers must avoid any situation involving an actual or potential conflict of interest or possible impropriety with respect to their duties and responsibilities to Vanguard Fund shareholders.

3. Compromising situations must be avoided. Covered Officers must not take advantage of their position of trust and responsibility. Covered Officers must avoid any situation that might compromise or call into question their exercise of full independent judgment in the best interests of Vanguard Fund shareholders.

All activities of Covered Officers should be guided by and adhere to these fiduciary standards regardless of whether the activity is specifically described in this Code.

B. Restricted Activities

1. Prohibition on secondary employment. Covered Officers are prohibited from accepting or serving in any form of secondary employment. Secondary employment that does not create a potential conflict of interest may be approved by the General Counsel of VGI.
2. Prohibition on service as director or public official. Unless approved by the General Counsel of VGI, Covered Officers are prohibited from serving on the board of directors of any publicly traded company or in an official capacity for any federal, state, or local government (or governmental agency or instrumentality).
3. Prohibition on misuse of Vanguard time or property. Covered Officers are prohibited from making use of time, equipment, services, personnel or property of any Vanguard entity for any purposes other than the performance of their duties and responsibilities in connection with the Vanguard Funds or other Vanguard-related entities.

III. Disclosure and Compliance

- A. Each Covered Officer should be familiar with the disclosure requirements generally applicable to the Vanguard Funds.
- B. Each Covered Officer should not knowingly misrepresent, or cause others to misrepresent, facts about the Vanguard Funds to others, including to the Vanguard Funds' directors and auditors, or to government regulators and self-regulatory organizations.
- C. Each Covered Officer should, to the extent appropriate within the Covered Officer's area of responsibility, consult with other officers and employees of VGI and advisers to a Vanguard Fund with the goal of promoting full, fair, accurate, timely and understandable disclosure in the reports and documents the fund files with, or submits to, the SEC and in other public communications made by a Vanguard Fund.
- D. It is the responsibility of each Covered Officer to promote compliance with the standards and restrictions imposed by applicable laws, rules, regulations, and the 17j-1 Code of Ethics.

IV. Reporting and Accountability

A. Each Covered Officer must:

1. Upon adoption or amendment of the Code (or thereafter as applicable, upon becoming a Covered Officer), affirm in writing that he or she has received, read, and understands the Code;
2. Affirm at least annually in writing that he or she has complied with the requirements of the Code;
3. Not retaliate against any other Covered Officer or any employee of VGI for reports of potential violations of the Code that are made in good faith; and
4. Notify the General Counsel of VGI promptly if the Covered Officer knows of any violations of this Code.

B. The Vanguard Funds will use the following procedures in investigating and enforcing this Code:

1. The General Counsel of VGI is responsible for applying this Code to specific situations and has the authority to interpret this Code in any particular situation. The General Counsel will report on an as-needed basis to the Board of Trustees regarding activities subject to the Code.
2. The General Counsel will take all appropriate action to investigate any potential violations of the Code that are reported to him or her.
3. If, after investigation, the General Counsel believes that no material violation of the Code has occurred, the General Counsel is not required to take any further action.
4. Any matter that the General Counsel believes is a material violation of the Code will be reported to the Chief Compliance Officer and the Board of Trustees of the Vanguard Funds.
5. If the Board of Trustees of the Vanguard Funds concurs that a material violation of the Code has occurred, the Board will consider appropriate action. Appropriate action may include reassignment, suspension, or dismissal of the applicable Covered Officer(s), or any other sanctions the Board deems appropriate. Appropriate action may also include review of, and appropriate modifications to, applicable policies and procedures.
6. Any changes to or waiver of this Code will, to the extent required, be disclosed as provided by SEC rules.

Other Policies and Procedures

This Code shall be the sole code of conduct adopted by the Vanguard Funds for purposes of Section 406 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act and the rules and forms applicable to registered investment companies thereunder. Insofar as other policies or procedures of the Vanguard Funds, VGI, or other service providers govern or purport to govern the behavior or activities of the Covered Officers, they are superseded by this Code to the extent that they overlap or conflict with the provisions of this Code.

VGI's and the Vanguard Funds' 17j-1 Code of Ethics, policies to prevent the misuse of non-public information, and other internal compliance guidelines and policies that may be in effect from time to time are separate requirements applying to the Covered Officers and others, and are not part of this Code.

VI. Amendments

This Code may not be materially amended except by the approval of a majority vote of the independent trustees of the Vanguard Funds' Board of Trustees. Non-material, technical, and administrative revisions of the Code do not have to be approved by the Board of Trustees. Amendments must be in writing and communicated promptly to the Covered Officers, who shall affirm receipt of the amended Code in accordance with Section IV. A. 1.

VII. Confidentiality

All reports and records prepared or maintained pursuant to this Code shall be considered confidential and shall be maintained and protected accordingly. Except as otherwise required by law or this Code, such matters shall not be disclosed to anyone other than the Vanguard Funds' Board of Trustees, VGI's General Counsel and the Chief Compliance Officer of VGI and the Vanguard Funds.
