GBST appoints Christine Bartlett to the Board of Directors

Sydney, 24 June 2015 — GBST (ASX:GBT), a global provider of technology to the financial services industry, today announces the appointment of Christine Bartlett to the GBST Board of Directors.

Christine brings strong and extensive commercial experience to GBST, across a range of sectors including finance, banking, superannuation, property and information technology.

Christine recently held the position of Executive General Manager, Asset Servicing at National Australia Bank (NAB) and successfully led the NextGen technology transformation program through the delivery of several key initiatives, including the successful migration of UBank customers onto NAB's new core banking platform. From 2004 to 2009, Christine was Chief Executive Officer of Jones Lang LaSalle Australia and prior to this served as Chief Operating Officer for IBM's Business Consulting Services in the Asia Pacific region. Christine also held executive roles with IBM in consulting, sales, marketing and brand management in Australia, New York and Tokyo.

Christine is currently an Independent Non-Executive Director of the Mirvac Group (ASX: MGR) and The Smith Family (a national and independent children's charity), and is a member of Chief Executive Women, the Australian Institute of Company Directors and the UNSW Australian School of Business Advisory Board.

Commenting on Christine's appointment, GBST's Chairman John Puttick said, "On behalf of the GBST Board of Directors, I am delighted to welcome Christine. Her wealth of experience in the IT and financial services sector will bring exciting additional counsel to our business as we continue to build upon the international growth we are experiencing in the regions we operate in.

"Christine's skills and experience complement our existing Board members and we look forward to her joining us."
