NG Bailey uses Urbanise to deliver Energy Focused Maintenance

Urbanise.com Limited (Urbanise) (ASX:UBN) announced today that it has signed a Hosted Services Agreement (HSA) with NG Bailey, the UK's leading independent engineering, construction and services company.

Under the agreement, NG Bailey will use the Urbanise platform to transform maintenance delivery from traditional planned and reactive works to Energy Focused Maintenance. NG Bailey has extensive experience in this area, having worked on a number of high profile projects including the BBC and Kings Cross Station.

Commenting on the announcement, NG Bailey head of energy, Chris Coath said, "With the ever increasing pressure our clients face to reduce their energy consumption, our solution helps to turn data into action and realise tangible cost savings. The Urbanise work order platform has been a critical component in assisting us in delivering a solution to this industry challenge."

Urbanise CEO Ben Churchill added, "NG Bailey is widely recognised as an innovator when it comes to facilities management and this new approach to building maintenance another example of this. We are delighted that this industry leader has selected the Urbanise platform to help disrupt the traditional maintenance regimes used by FM practitioners with an energy centered maintenance program that can be tailored to the suit the individual requirements of its customers. This new approach to building maintenance could well set the new industry standard."
