Appointment of Director

KGL Resources Limited (ASX:KGL) is pleased to announce that the board has appointed Mr Ferdian Purnamasidi to replace Mr Brad Ellis as a non-executive director, effectively immediately.

Mr Ellis, whose resignation from the board was announced last Thursday, 21 April, had been the nominee of KMP Investments Pte Ltd, KGL's largest shareholder with a 27.3% holding. Mr Purnamasidi is an executive of the Salim Group, the Indonesian-based diversified conglomerate and the ultimate owner of KMP Investments.

The Chairman of KGL, Mr Denis Wood, welcomed Mr Purnamasidi's nomination as an indication of continuing support for KGL by its largest shareholder.

"Mr Purnamasidi has a strong background in international finance and a knowledge of major mining developments in Australia. His experience will be increasingly valuable to KGL in taking forward the Jervois copper and multi-metal project in the Northern Territory," Mr Wood said.

Mr Purnamasidi is responsible for corporate development and strategic acquisitions in resources for the Salim Group. In recent years, he has facilitated resource development opportunities between Australia and Indonesia. He is a director of Mach Energy Australia Pty Ltd, which has contracted to acquire 100% of the world class Mt Pleasant coal mines in the Hunter Valley. Mr Purnamasidi holds a Bachelor of Commerce degree and a Diploma of Business Management.
