Tikforce Limited (ASX: TKF, 'the Company') is pleased to announced that the Company is now fully accredited as a National Police Check agency

Users of the Tikforce police check service will be able to, in most cases, complete their applications in minutes, either on their mobile device or online.

The accreditation eliminates the need for our clients to utilise third party providers to the satisfy integrity police checks, that many employment opportunities require.

Tikforce is a Regulatory Technology ("RegTech") Company that assists businesses to reduce the time, risks and costs associated with regulatory compliance of employees and contractors. The addition of police checks means that Tikforce is now able to provide a full range of work ready verification services, which saves companies the trouble of going to multiple providers.

TikForce CEO Kevin Baum commented "To be able to offer this service is a further validation of our solution, as the Company had to meet a number of government security standards in order to be classed as an accredited Police Check Agency.

The Tikforce platform now provides a turnkey suite of validation solutions, as a one stop shop for our client base."
