Covata appoints Dana Danieli as its Sydney based VP of Marketing, Communications and Investor Relations

Sydney, 28 October 2016 – Covata Limited (ASX:CVT) a leading data and cyber security technology company, has appointed Dana Danieli as VP of Marketing, Communications and Investor Relations. Dana replaces Nichola Parker, VP of Growth and Investor Relations, and Jenny Song, the former VP of Marketing – both Washington DC based. Nikki has decided to remain in the US, following Covata's head office relocation back to Sydney, Australia, where the company has been listed on the ASX since November 2014.

Dana has more than 18 years of industry experience working with, and consulting for technology and finance companies. Almost ten of those were spent as the Head of Marketing & Communications for financial software company Bravura Solutions. During her tenure, Dana's global role across Asia Pacific (APAC) and Europe, Middle East and Africa (EMEA) saw her responsible for a team that managed the strategy, development and execution of Bravura's marketing, internal and external corporate communications, public relations and financial communications for the company.

In Dana's time at Bravura, the company grew from 70 employees in three offices in APAC, to over 1000 employees across 15 offices in ten countries, undertook eight merger & acquisition transactions, and spent over seven years listed on the ASX.

Commenting on the appointment, Covata Founder and CEO Trent Telford said, "We are excited to have Dana join our growing team. Her strategic and process oriented approach will be important to our product marketing and communications for both our Safe Share and Key-as-a-Service (KaaS) products across Australia, the UK and the US. "

Telford added, "I would like to take this opportunity to thank Nikki for her commitment to shareholder communications over the past two years. We wish her all the best in her future endeavours in the US."

Nikki Parker leaves Covata on 17 December 2016 providing for an orderly handover of IR to Dana Danieli.

Dana Danieli officially commences her role on 7 November 2016.
