

Management Appointments

Due to the exploration success at the Collierina Project and the increased focus on the Company's NSW copper and gold projects, Helix is pleased to announce the following additions to its Management team.

1. Pasquale Rombola will move to Executive Chairman (part-time) to oversee corporate strategy and investor relations. Mr Rombola has extensive experience in corporate strategy and investor relations having spent 19 years with Morgan Stanley and Deutsche Bank in Australia and internationally.
2. Paul Payne has joined the Company as a consultant technical adviser to work closely with Managing Director, Mick Wilson. Mr Payne is an experienced geologist with strong resource and development experience both in Australia and internationally.

Exploration programs are currently ongoing to advance the Collierina Copper-Zinc Project and the nearby Cobar Gold Project in Central New South Wales.

At the Collierina Project Geophysics (EM surveys) and geochemical (soil sampling) surveys are currently underway. These surveys will assist in prioritising targets for the next drilling program at Collierina.

At the Cobar Gold Project the Company recently announced a diamond and aircore drilling program. Drilling is due to commence next week.
