ICOLLEGE PARTNERS WITH BCA NATIONAL TRAINING GROUP

iCollege Holding Ltd (“iCollege”) is pleased to announce a partnership between iCollege and BCA National Training Group (“BCA National”) for the delivery of the Diploma of Sports Development (SIS50612) in Western Australia.

iCollege has agreed to an initial partnership that includes 100 places in the Diploma of Sports Development during 2016 and 2017, which will compliment iCollege’s strongly subscribed Certificate III and IV in fitness.

Participants’ will pay $15,000 per student. This partnership agreement has been registered with ASQA. The partnership brings together the experience of iCollege and a high quality RTO to jointly deliver a blended and engaging program some of WA’s most prominent sporting organisations. Following assessment and enrolment it is likely that many students may qualify for a Vet Fee Help Loan under the Federal Government scheme, making access to this program more achievable for young Australians looking to successfully balance both sport and education.

This training partnership will allow iCollege the opportunity to provide Diploma Level Training to our partner organisations including Baseball Western Australia (“BWA”). iCollege has also now signed a Letter of Intent (LOI) with Baseball Western Australia.

Under the LOI, an initial Pilot Program will provide 25 BWA athletes the opportunity to study the Diploma of Sports Development with learning taking place both in the classroom and on the field. All activities undertaken relate directly to units of competency in the Diploma. In addition, iCollege is currently negotiating similar opportunities with other sporting associations. iCollege is working closely with other partner organisations to link all training to employment opportunities for students. This is an opportunity to enter a sector which offers both sporting and career opportunities.

“This is an extremely positive program for WA athletes. We are delighted to be working closely with BCA National and where applicable and eligible, be able to provide Federal Government Funding to students who will benefit greatly from the experience and opportunity. In conjunction with this partnership, we are anticipating to see completion rates in excess of 85%,” says iCollege CEO Stuart Manifold.

“Additionally, we will be working collaboratively with Baseball WA to provide employment opportunities for their players. This will greatly assist their players in developing employment prospects after baseball and an opportunity to supplement their incomes during their playing careers.”

Mr. Manifold added, “having had the opportunity to work closely with Bruce Callaghan and the dynamic team at BCA National during negotiations, I am confident that the values and focus on compliance, effective delivery of training and the establishment of tangible pathways to employment are well aligned between the two organisations. iCollege is extremely excited to begin what we hope is a very long association with BCA National.”

Mr. Bruce Callaghan, Chief Executive Officer of BCA National said “BCA National are delighted to be developing this partnership in Western Australia. We look forward to further developing training programs across WA and we see substantial opportunity for a sports management program in rural and remote communities across the State.”
