Chairman's Letter

Watermark Market Neutral Fund (WMK) reported strong profit growth for the period ending June 30 2016 with after tax profit rising from a loss in FY15 of $753,232 to $10.6 million. As at the 30 June, the after tax net tangible asset backing (NTA) of WMK was $1.05 per share, up from $0.99 at the prior year end. The Company paid 5 cents of partially franked dividends in the period and a special dividend at the half year of 1 cent per share. By virtue of its market neutral investment strategy, WMK can generate investment returns independent of the prevailing direction of share markets. As such, the Investment Manager was able to deliver a very strong result in a difficult year for the Australian share market.

The Company's investment portfolio performed strongly in FY16, increasing in value by 22.3% before fees and costs. This is compared with the All Ordinaries Accumulation Index which increased by 2%, with all of the return coming by way of dividends which offset a negative capital return for the period. With the outlook for shares domestically and abroad increasingly uncertain, the value of an investment strategy that provides scope to hedge out share market risk will be starkly realised, with little or no net exposure to the overall share market at any point in time.

Since inception, the gross value of the portfolio has increased by 43.5% while the benchmark RBA Cash Rate has increased by 7%. The investment process has added 36.4% to the value of your Company (before fees and expenses). The Board has endeavoured to return a significant portion of this to shareholders via ordinary and special dividends (13c paid to date; 15.5c declared to date).

The 2015 financial year was a difficult one for WMK. After weaker than normal performance, the Company's shares slipped to a discount to NTA, notwithstanding a stronger second half of FY15. The share price rebounded strongly in the 2016 new financial year and continued to perform well, appreciating by 23.8% over the course of the year. The shares have consistently traded at or around NTA in recent months.

Having generated solid returns from its investments in international shares, the Investment Manager has validated the Board's decision in December 2014 to extend the Company's investment mandate to allow for investments in offshore markets. In recognition of the value that has been created the board has lifted the limit on international shares further to up to 50% of the balance sheet.

The Australian share market rose again in FY16 as the global deflation cycle continued, spurred on by ultra-easy monetary policy from central banks around the world. Notwithstanding this continued support for risk assets such as shares, weak global growth has led to brittle recoveries in many developed economies, with risks weighing heavily on investor sentiment.

As we enter the early stages of what will be a prolonged period of normalisation in interest rates around the world, the medium-term outlook for global share markets is unclear and risks remain. It is clear however, from economic data and anecdotal information from Australian companies, that top line growth will be subdued and that we are in a low-return environment for shares for some time.

Your Company is well positioned to deal with the prevailing market conditions. By virtue of its ability to hedge share market risks, WMK offers protection against a major set-back in the share market. With lower returns expected from shares in the medium term, an investment strategy such as that employed by WMK will be more relevant than ever, as a means to average up returns while reducing volatility.

Chief Investment Officer's Report

The first half of FY16 saw the portfolios maintain their strong performance, even as share markets globally lost ground. Whilst conditions for long/short investors turned more challenging in the new calendar year, portfolio returns were stable and the solid performance continued. The Fund delivered a strong net return of 16.2% for the full year to June 30 2016.

Our endeavours in international shares have continued to make strong a strong contribution to Fund returns. Having remained relatively constant at 10-12% of our gross balance sheet for much of 2015, international exposure was increased in the 3rd quarter as new investment ideas in international shares were incorporated into the portfolios. Having approached our 20% limit by the end of 2015 and with more opportunities presenting themselves, the Board's resolution to increase the limit for international investments provided scope to incorporate successful investments in companies such as Group Eurotunnel and Merck & Co. International shares contributed 14% of the Fund's gross portfolio return in FY16 and importantly, our international research continues to yield deeper insights into our investigation of Australian companies.

Global share markets were volatile for the most part in FY16, although there were several key themes presenting both challenges and opportunities through the period. Mining and energy shares continued to come under pressure, with sustained falls in the price of most commodities, in particular oil, bulk commodities and certain industrial metals. These sectors led the market lower in the first half of the year, before renewed stimulus in China led to a surprise improvement in demand and a sharp, counter-cyclical rally.

The domestic banking sector was another part of the market that saw significant falls in the first half. Australian banks in particular came under pressure as APRA announced new policies in respect of the Banks' capital strength, with most forced into repeated capital management initiatives. Coupled with weak earnings trends and increased default rates in their corporate loan books, the major banks now face the daunting prospect of cutting dividends.

The RBA has been walking a tightrope for some time, balancing effervescent residential property prices on the east coast of Australia, with the deflationary effects of the mining downturn and a general lethargy in the industrial economy. Property-related sectors such as building materials and discretionary retail have been significant beneficiaries of these trends providing rare pockets of growth. The RBA's hand was forced in the second half, with rate cuts designed to stave off looming deflationary pressures trends and to devalue the resilient Australian dollar. Nevertheless, it is difficult to see further appreciation in property prices form here, and with household income stalling, we see risks ahead for many of the industries than have benefitted from these favourable trends.

Defensive shares were a strong contributor to performance in the period. The healthcare sector performed particularly well as a weight of funds flowing out of banks and miners forced prices of many market darlings sharply higher, pushing valuations to extreme levels. Short positions in a number of expensive, weaker businesses performed well through the year. We have held a negative view of the major Australian grocery sector for some time, with both major players battling competition from discount retailers.

Fortunes have been mixed for cyclical shares over the last 12 months. Business and consumer sentiment has been subdued, given the weak outlook for global growth and the unstable political backdrop. There continues to be pronounced bifurcation within the media sector as winners and losers emerge in an evolving digital landscape. Fairfax Media Ltd is an interesting example of a company that had fallen out of favour with investors due to challenges for its traditional media business, which has nevertheless performed well as a result of its strong digital real estate franchise in Domain. FY16 also saw the demise of the recently listed Spotless Group and Dick Smith Holdings. Brought to market by their private equity owners, both companies were burdened with debt and had inexperienced management teams at the helm. This has been an all too common set up for corporate collapses in recent years and both were successful shorts for the Company in FY16.

The portfolios were well-positioned in the first half of FY16 for the downturn in banking shares. The capital impost imposed by APRA was clearly flagged and with bad and doubtful debts at all-time lows, the major banks looked vulnerable to a de-rating by the market. Given its poorly executed Asian strategy and the capital strain that it caused, a short position in Australia and New Zealand Banking Group made a strong contribution. An investment in Smartgroup Corporation was the best performer in the period, an example of a high quality IPO with strong prospects for growth.

Given the violent falls in mining and energy shares followed by a rapid rebound in February 2016, positions in this sector provided some of the largest individual contributions. The dramatic fall in the price of oil saw speculative developments in shale oil and natural gas post big losses. The Company's core short in Liquified Natural Gas Ltd was the best performing short in the period. Short positions in Glencore and First Quantum Minerals also performed well as the price of copper fell. The lithium sector has enjoyed a resurgence in recent times, enjoying increases in demand with the electric vehicle revolution. The Company's investment in Orocobre Ltd was a beneficiary of this theme.

One clear trend in recent years has been the secular slowing in global growth. Shifting demographics, weak productivity, and deleveraging are all features of this deceleration. The precipitous fall in bond yields over the course of FY16 reflects this outlook, with many sovereign bond issues now trading below the zero bound. Our own 10 year Commonwealth government bond has slipped to 1.8%, fractionally above the cash rate. With the yield structure so flat and no carry or compensation for duration, it is hard to see any scenario where bonds can deliver anything but horrible returns in the medium term. Investors have been left with few choices, explaining the resilience of shares in the face of disturbing developments both politically and economically.

We feel more confident than ever in the merits of hedging strategies like those employed by Watermark. Bond yields are telling us the outlook for growth is as weak as it has been in a generation. There is no carry, a passive, buy and hold strategy will deliver low returns at best. Only an active strategy that can deliver enhanced returns through security selection stands a chance of delivering acceptable returns in this climate.

Company Profile

Investment Objective

The Company's investment objective is to deliver consistent positive returns with reduced market risk, irrespective of movements in the underlying share market. The Company will also seek to return a consistent stream of fully franked dividends to Shareholders.

Investment Strategy

The Company's Investment Manager employs an equity market neutral strategy in managing the portfolio. A market neutral strategy aims to profit from the outperformance of a long portfolio over a short portfolio of shares. As the portfolios are roughly of equal value, the structure is fully hedged, minimising exposure to the changes in the broader share market. It provides the Company an opportunity to gain exposure to mispriced listed securities; as identified by the Investment Manager, without being fully exposed to the volatility and risks of the share market.

The value of Company's assets (longs) and its liabilities (shorts) move up and down together with movements in the share market, thereby minimising their impact on the portfolio. The Company profits to the extent that the long portfolio outperforms the short portfolio, irrespective of prevailing market direction. In this way, portfolio returns in a market neutral strategy will almost entirely reflect the Manager's success in choosing shares to buy and sell (short).

Investment Philosophy

The Manager believes successful investing requires the following skills:

- An ability to evaluate the true worth of a business and the management charged with running it;
- An understanding of how and why a company's shares come to be mispriced; and
- An appreciation of the risks that may undermine the investment case.

Employing these skills, the Manager believes the best investment opportunities arise when shares in strong, well managed companies can be purchased on attractive terms. These companies typically exhibit the following characteristics:

- A history of superior returns through the economic cycle;
- Management with a track record of creating and distributing value to shareholders; and
- Businesses with a capacity to grow.

Consistent with these same principles, in selecting shares to short sell the Manager looks to sell the shares of companies with weak fundamentals on occasions when they become overvalued.

Investment Universe

The universe from which investments can be selected comprises companies listed in Australia and on international exchanges. The Company may invest up to 50% of its gross exposure in international shares. While the primary focus is Australian shares, access to international shares provides the Manager with the opportunity to better express its investment ideas while developing deeper insights into Australian companies that compete in global markets.

Investment Process

The Manager's investment process is a fundamentally driven, security selection process based on sound investment ideas taken from the investment of public companies. A summary of the investment process is set out below.

Security Selection

Investment ideas come from monitoring economic and industry trends as well as extensive contact with company management and industry sources.

Once identified, investment opportunities are screened to ensure they are of an investment grade. A full qualitative assessment of the proposed investment is completed to establish whether the business is of a suitable quality and attractively priced.

Qualitative Review

Once a suitable investment opportunity has been identified, a full review of financial performance will be completed. This is usually followed by a meeting with management to further develop an understanding of the business and the management philosophy. Where possible, representatives of the Manager will also meet with suppliers, regulators, competitors and customers to gauge the competitive environment.

Short Selling

Short selling is an important part of the investment strategy employed by the Manager. In a market neutral structure, the manager will seek to match long and short exposures to maintain a fully hedged portfolio.

The Manager employs a similar security selection process as above, but is looking for the opposite qualities in companies to borrow and sell. The Manager believes the best "shorting" opportunities are found in poorly managed companies with weak fundamentals where the shares in those companies can be sold for more than they are worth.

When targeting companies to borrow and sell (short), the Manager will target:

- A history of inferior returns.
- Management with a poor track record.
- Businesses operating in highly competitive industries that are struggling to grow.
- Securities which are expensive on a range of valuation measures.

Portfolio Construction

Unlike a traditional fund, the Manager constructs two portfolios, a long and a short portfolio with the weighting of each investment in each portfolio loosely correlated with the level of conviction around individual investment ideas.

This process ensures the Manager constructs portfolios around the best individual investment ideas, with the highest conviction, while retaining a bias in favour of good, well managed companies to buy (long), and weaker businesses to sell (short).

The manager will retain 100% of investors' capital in cash and cash equivalents, held with the Prime Broker and on deposit with an Australian bank. Funds are then raised through the short-sale of securities, with the proceeds invested in the long portfolio. As such, the company can maintain a gross market exposure of up to 400% of Shareholders' capital in mispriced securities while ensuring the portfolio is fully hedged against movements in the underlying share market.

1 General information

Watermark Market Neutral Fund Limited (the "Company") is a listed public company domiciled in Australia. The address of Watermark Market Neutral Fund Limited's registered office is Level 6, 139 Macquarie Street, Sydney, NSW 2000. The financial statements of Watermark Market Neutral Fund Limited are for the year ended 30 June 2016. The Company is primarily involved in making investments, and deriving revenue and investment income from listed securities and unit trusts in Australia.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies

The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated. The financial statements are for the entity Watermark Market Neutral Fund Limited.

(a) Basis of preparation

These general purpose financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board and the Corporations Act 2001. Watermark Market Neutral Fund Limited is a for-profit entity for the purpose of preparing the financial statements.

The financial statements were authorised for issue by the Board of Directors on 16 August 2016.

(i) Compliance with IFRS

The financial statements of the Watermark Market Neutral Fund Limited also comply with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB).

(ii) New and amended standards adopted by the Company

There are no standards, interpretations or amendments to existing standards that are effective for the first time for the financial year beginning 1 July 2015 that have a material impact on the Company.

(iii) Historical cost convention

These financial statements have been prepared under the accruals basis and are based on historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss.

(iv) Critical accounting estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Company's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements, are disclosed in Note 5.

(v) New standards and interpretations not yet adopted

Certain new accounting standards and interpretations have been published that are not mandatory for 30 June 2016 reporting periods and have not been early adopted by the Company. The Company's assessment of the impact of these new standards and interpretations is set out below.

Title of standard	Nature of change	Impact	Mandatory application date/ Date of adoption by the Company
AASB 9 Financial Instruments	AASB 9 addresses the classification, measurement and derecognition of financial assets and financial liabilities and introduces new rules for hedge accounting. In December 2014, the AASB made further changes to the classification and measurement rules and also introduced a new impairment model. These latest amendments now complete the new financial instruments standard.	Following the changes approved by the AASB in December 2014, the Company no longer expects any impact from the new classification, measurement and derecognition rules on the Company's financial assets and financial liabilities. There will also be no impact on the Company's accounting for financial liabilities, as the new requirements only affect the accounting for financial liabilities that are designated at fair value through profit or loss and the Company does not have any such liabilities. The derecognition rules have not changed from the previous requirements, and the Company does not apply hedge accounting. The new standard also introduces expanded disclosure requirements and changes in presentation. The new impairment model is an expected credit loss (ECL) model which may result in the earlier recognition of credit losses. The Company has not yet assessed how the impairment provisions would be affected by the new rules.	Must be applied for financial years commencing on or after 1 January 2018. Based on the transitional provisions in the completed IFRS 9, early adoption in phases was only permitted for annual reporting periods beginning before 1 February 2015. After that date, the new rules must be adopted in their entirety. The Company has not yet decided whether it will early adopt AASB 9.

Title of standard	Nature of change	Impact	Mandatory application date/ Date of adoption by the Company
AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers	The AASB has issued a new standard for the recognition of revenue. This will replace AASB 118 which covers contracts for goods and services and AASB 111 which covers construction contracts. The new standard is based on the principle that revenue is recognised when control of a good or service transfers to a customer - so the notion of control replaces the existing notion of risks and rewards. The standard permits a modified retrospective approach for the adoption. Under this approach entities will recognise transitional adjustments in retained earnings on the date of initial application (eg 1 July 2017), ie without restating the comparative period. They will only need to apply the new rules to contracts that are not completed as of the date of initial application.	The Company's main sources of income are interest, dividends and distributions and gains on financial instruments held at fair value. All of these are outside the scope of the new revenue standard. As a consequence, the Directors do not expect the adoption of AASB 15 to have a significant impact on the Company's accounting policies or the amounts recognised in the financial statements.	Mandatory for financial years commencing on or after 1 January 2017. The Company has not yet decided whether it will early adopt AASB 15.

There are no other standards that are not yet effective and that would be expected to have a material impact on the entity in the current or future reporting periods and on foreseeable future transactions.

(b) Foreign currency translation

(i) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of the Company are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates ('the functional currency'). The financial statements are presented in Australian dollars, which is Watermark Market Neutral Fund Limited's functional and presentation currency.

(b) Foreign currency translation (continued)

(ii) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at year end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Non-monetary items that are measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined. Translation differences on assets and liabilities carried at fair value are reported as part of the fair value gain or loss in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

(c) Revenue recognition

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Amounts disclosed as revenue are net of rebates and amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

Revenue is recognised where it is probable that the economic benefit will flow to the entity and can be reliably measured.

(i) Investment income

Profits and losses realised from the sale of investments and unrealised gains and losses on securities held at fair value are included in the Statement of Comprehensive Income in the year they are incurred in accordance with the policies described in Note 2(h).

(ii) Dividends and trust distributions

Dividends and trust distributions are recognised as revenue when the right to receive payment is established.

(iii) Interest income

Interest income is recognised as it accrues, taking into account the effective yield on the financial asset.

(iv) Other income

The Company recognises other income when the amount of revenue can be reliably measured, it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the entity. The Company bases its estimates on historical results, taking into consideration the type of customer, the type of transaction and the specifics of each arrangement.

(d) Income tax

The income tax expense/(income) for the year comprises current income tax expense/(income) and deferred tax expense/(income).

Current income tax expense charged to profit or loss is the tax payable on taxable income. Current tax liabilities/(assets) are measured at the amounts expected to be paid to/(recovered from) the relevant taxation authority.

Deferred income tax expense reflects movements in deferred tax asset and deferred tax liability balances during the year as well as unused tax losses.

Current and deferred income tax expense/(income) is charged or credited outside profit or loss when the tax relates to items that are recognised outside profit or loss.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled and their measurement also reflects the manner in which management expects to recover or settle the carrying amount of the related asset or liability.

Deferred tax assets relating to temporary differences and unused tax losses are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the benefits of the deferred tax asset can be utilised.

(d) Income tax (continued)

Current tax assets and liabilities are offset where a legally enforceable right of set-off exists and it is intended that net settlement or simultaneous realisation and settlement of the respective asset and liability will occur. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset where: (a) a legally enforceable right of set-off exists; and (b) the deferred tax assets and liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority on either the same taxable entity or different taxable entities where it is intended that net settlement or simultaneous realisation and settlement of the respective asset and liability will occur in future periods in which significant amounts of deferred tax assets or liabilities are expected to be recovered or settled.

(e) Cash and cash equivalents

For the purpose of presentation in the Statement of Cash Flows, cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, deposits held at call with financial institutions, other short-term, highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within borrowings in current liabilities in the Statement of Financial Position.

(f) Due from/to brokers

Amounts due from/to brokers represent receivables for securities sold and payables for securities purchased that have been contracted for but not yet delivered by the end of the year. Trades are recorded on trade date, and for equities normally settled within three business days. A provision for impairment of amounts due from brokers is recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income when there is objective evidence that the Company will not be able to collect all amounts due from the relevant broker. Indicators that the amount due from brokers is impaired include significant financial difficulties of the broker, probability that the broker will enter bankruptcy or financial reorganisation and default in payments.

(g) Trade and other receivables

Trade and other receivables are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment. Trade and other receivables are generally due for settlement within 30 days. They are presented as current assets unless collection is not expected for more than 12 months after the reporting date.

Collectability of trade and other receivables is reviewed on an ongoing basis. Debts which are known to be uncollectible are written off by reducing the carrying amount directly.

(h) Financial assets and liabilities

The Company's investments are classified as at fair value through profit or loss. They comprise:

Classification

(i) Financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss - held for trading

Financial assets are classified in this category if acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the short term. Assets in this category are classified as current assets if they are expected to be settled within 12 months; otherwise they are classified as non-current.

The Company makes short sales in which a borrowed security is sold in anticipation of a decline in the market value of that security, or it may use short sales for various arbitrage transactions. Short sales are classified as current financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss.

Dividends expense on short sales of securities, which have been classified at fair value through profit or loss, is recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

(h) Financial assets and liabilities (continued)

(ii) Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. They are included in current assets, except for those with maturities greater than 12 months after the reporting period which are classified as non-current assets. Loans and receivables are included in trade and other receivables (note 9) in the Statement of Financial Position.

(iii) Held-to-maturity investments

Held-to-maturity investments are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturities that the Company's management has the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity. If the Company were to sell other than an insignificant amount of held-to-maturity financial assets, the whole category would be tainted and reclassified as available-for-sale. Held-to-maturity financial assets are included in non-current assets, except for those with maturities less than 12 months from the end of the reporting period, which are classified as current assets.

Recognition and derecognition

Purchases and sales of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised on trade-date - the date on which the Company commits to purchase or sell the asset or liability. Investments are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the investments have expired or have been transferred and the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership.

Measurement

At initial recognition, the Company measures its financial assets and liabilities at fair value excluding any transaction costs that are directly attributable to their acquisition.

Transaction costs of financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are expensed in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Loans and receivables are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Subsequent to initial recognition, all instruments held at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value with changes in their fair value recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

When an investment is disposed, the cumulative gain or loss, net of tax thereon, is recognised as realised gains and losses from the sale of financial instruments in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Determination of Fair Value

AASB 13 defines fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date in the principal, or in its absence, the most advantageous market to which the Company has access at that date. The fair value of a liability reflects its non-performance risk.

The Company's accounting policy on fair value measurements is discussed in Note 4.

Under AASB 13, if an investment has a bid price and an ask price, the price within the bid-ask spread that is more representative of fair value in the circumstances shall be used to measure fair value. Accordingly, the Company uses the last sale price as a basis of measuring fair value.

(i) Trade and other payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Company prior to the end of financial year which are unpaid. The amounts are unsecured and are usually paid within 30 days of recognition. Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months from the reporting date. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

(j) Finance costs

Finance costs are recognised as expenses in the year in which they are incurred using the effective interest rate method.

(k) Issued capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity.

Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of new shares or options are shown in equity as a deduction, net of tax, from the proceeds.

(l) Profits reserve

A profits reserve has been created representing an amount allocated from current and retained earnings that is preserved for future dividend payments.

(m) Dividends

Provision is made for the amount of any dividend declared, being appropriately authorised and no longer at the discretion of the entity, on or before the end of the reporting period but not distributed at the end of the reporting period.

In accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, the Company may pay a dividend where the Company's assets exceed its liabilities, the payment of the dividend is fair and reasonable to the Company's shareholders as a whole and the payment of the dividend does not materially prejudice the Company's ability to pay its creditors.

It is the Directors' policy to pay fully franked dividends provided the Company has sufficient profit reserves and franking credits and to distribute the majority of franking credits received each year. Franking credits are generated by receiving fully franked dividends from shares held in the Company's investment portfolio, and from the payment of corporate tax on its other investment income, unfranked income and net realised gains.

From time to time the Board will offer a dividend reinvestment plan, although the DRP was suspended in respect of the interim dividend for the current reporting years.

(n) Earnings per share

(i) Basic earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing:

- the profit attributable to owners of the Company, excluding any costs of servicing equity other than ordinary shares
- by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the financial year and adjusted for bonus elements in ordinary shares issued during the year.

(ii) Diluted earnings per share

Diluted earnings per share adjusts the figures used in the determination of basic earnings per share to take into account:

- the after income tax effect of interest and other financing costs associated with dilutive potential ordinary shares, and
- the weighted average number of additional ordinary shares that would have been outstanding assuming the conversion of all dilutive potential ordinary shares.

(o) Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of associated GST, unless the GST incurred is not recoverable from the taxation authority. In this case it is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense.

Where applicable, the Company qualifies for Reduced Input Tax Credits (RITC) at a rate of at least 75%; hence fees for these services have been recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income net of the amount of GST recoverable from the taxation authority.

Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of the amount of GST receivable or payable. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included with other receivables or payables in the Statement of Financial Position.

Cash flows are presented on a gross basis. The GST components of cash flows arising from investing or financing activities which are recoverable from, or payable to the taxation authority, are presented as operating cash flows.

(p) Rounding of amounts

The Company is an entity of a kind referred to in ASIC Corporations (Rounding in Financial/Directors' Reports) Instrument 2016/191 issued by the ASIC relating to the 'rounding off' of amounts in the financial statements. Amounts in the financial statements have been rounded to the nearest dollars in accordance with that ASIC Corporations Instrument, unless otherwise indicated.

(q) Comparatives

Where necessary, comparative information has been reclassified to be consistent with current reporting period.

(r) Operating segments

The Company operated in Australia only and the principal activity is investing.

3 Financial risk management

The Company's financial instruments consist mainly of deposits with banks, trading portfolios, trade and other receivables and trade and other payables.

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (including interest rate risk, foreign exchange risk and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The Board of the Company has implemented a risk management framework to mitigate these risks.

(a) Market risk

The standard defines this as the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices.

(i) Price risk

Exposure

The Company is exposed to currency risk arising from its investments denominated other than in Australian dollars. The Fund retains a natural hedge of its foreign exchange risk as it holds both assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies. Any residual foreign exchange risk is actively managed by the Investment Manager through its treasury management framework.

The Company seeks to manage and constrain market risk by diversification of the investment portfolio across multiple stocks and industry sectors. The portfolio is maintained by the Investment Manager within a range of parameters governing the levels of acceptable exposure to stocks and industry sectors. The relative weightings of the individual securities and relevant market sectors are reviewed normally weekly and risk can be managed by reducing exposure where necessary.

The table below analyses the Company's concentration of price risk by region.

2016	Long Exposure	%	Short Exposure	%	Net Exposure

The North American region includes the United States and Canada. Europe includes countries in mainland Europe and the United Kingdom.

The Company's investment sectors as at 30 June 2016 and 30 June 2015 are as below:

Sector	2016 (%)	2015 (%)
Information technology	4.72	86.79
Financials	202.46	64.77
Energy	62.58	12.12

Total	100.00	100.00

As at 30 June 2016 no individual securities represented over 5 per cent of the long or short investment portfolio.
As at 30 June 2015 two securities represented over 5% of the long or short investment portfolio.

Sensitivity

The following table illustrates the effect on the Company's equity from possible changes in other market risk that were reasonably possible based on the risk the Company was exposed to at reporting date, assuming a flat tax rate of 30 per cent:

	Impact on post-tax profit/(loss)
	2016 $	2015 $
Decrease 5%	71,376	(149,733)
Increase 5%	(71,376)	149,733
Decrease 10%	142,753	(299,466)
Increase 10%	(142,753)	299,466

Post-tax profit/(loss) for the year would decrease/increase as a result of gains/(losses) on equity securities classified as at fair value through profit or loss.

At balance date, the net portfolio position was $2,039,327 short (2015: $4,278,078 long) therefore there is a small price risk impact on post-tax profit (2015: post-tax loss).

(ii) Foreign exchange risk

Exposure

The Company is exposed to currency risk arising from its investments denominated other than the Australian dollars. As there was a national hedge, the Investment Manager actively manages the Company's foreign exchange risk through its treasury management framework.

Sensitivity

The analysis is based on the assumption that the Australian dollar weakened and strengthened by 10% (2015:10%) against the foreign currencies to which the Company is exposed. The impact on post-tax profit for the year (2015: post-tax loss) would be $9,745 higher/$9,745 lower (2015: $37,430 lower/$37,430 higher).

(iii) Cash flow and fair value interest rate risk

The Company's interest bearing financial assets expose it to risks associated with the effects of fluctuations in the prevailing levels of market interest rates on its financial position and cash flows. The risk is measured using sensitivity analysis.

The table below summarises the Company's exposure to interest rate risks. It includes the Company's assets and liabilities at fair values, categorised by the earlier of contractual repricing or maturity dates.

 Net exposure to interest rate risk	 77,318,497	 6,112,801	 83,431,298

Sensitivity

At 30 June 2016, if interest rates had increased by 75 or decreased by 75 basis points from the year end rates with all other variables held constant, post-tax profit for the year would have been $489,551 higher/$489,551 lower (2015 changes of 75 bps/75 bps: $405,922 lower/$405,922 higher on post-tax loss), mainly as a result of higher/lower interest income from cash and cash equivalents.

(b) Credit risk

The standard defines this as the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation.

Under the arrangements which the Company has entered into to facilitate stock borrowing for covered short selling, borrowed stock is collateralised by the long stock portfolio. If the stock borrowing counterparty became insolvent, it is possible that the Company may not recover all of the collateral that the Fund gave to the counterparty. The collateral on securities sold short is set at 100% (2015: 100%) of the borrowed stock.

The maximum exposure to credit risk, excluding the value of any collateral or other security, at balance date to recognised financial assets, is the carrying amount, net of any provisions for impairment of those assets, as disclosed in the Statement of Financial Position and Notes to the Financial Statements.

Credit risk is managed as noted in Note 8 with respect to cash and cash equivalents, Note 9 for trade and other receivables and Note 10 for financial assets at fair value through profit or loss. None of these assets are over-due or considered to be impaired.

(c) Liquidity risk

The standard defines this as the risk that an entity will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities.

The Investment Manager monitors its cash-flow requirements daily in relation to the investing account taking into account upcoming dividends, tax payments and investing activity.

The Company's inward cash flows depend upon the level of dividend and distribution revenue received. Should these decrease by a material amount, the Company would amend its outward cash flows accordingly. As the Company's major cash outflows are the purchase of securities and dividends paid to shareholders, the level of both of these is managed by the Board and Investment Manager.

The assets of the Company are largely in the form of readily tradeable securities which can be sold on-market if necessary.

Maturities of financial liabilities

The tables below analyse the Company's non-derivative financial liabilities into relevant maturity groupings based on their contractual maturities at year end date.

The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows. Balances due within 12 months equal their carrying balances as the impact of discounting is not significant.

Contractual maturities of financial liabilities	Less than 1 month $	Total contractual undiscounted cash flows $

4 Fair value measurements

The Company measures and recognises the following assets and liabilities at fair value on a recurring basis:

- Financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)

The Company has no assets or liabilities measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis in the current reporting period.

(a) Fair value hierarchy

AASB 13 requires disclosure of fair value measurements by level of the following fair value measurement hierarchy:

- quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1)
- inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (as prices) or indirectly (derived from prices) (level 2), and
- inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs) (level 3).

(i) Recognised fair value measurements

The following table presents the Company's assets and liabilities measured and recognised at fair value at year end.

Included within Level 1 of the hierarchy are listed investments. The fair value of these financial assets and liabilities have been based on the last sale prices at the end of the reporting year, excluding transaction costs.

The majority of the investments included in Level 2 of the hierarchy include amounts in relation to Initial Public Offerings and Placements in which the Company has subscribed to during the year. These investments have not listed on the Australian Securities Exchange as at year end and therefore represent investments in an inactive market. In valuing these unlisted investments, included in Level 2 of the hierarchy, the fair value has been determined using the valuation technique of the subscription price and the amount of securities subscribed for by the Company under the relevant offers.

There were transfers between levels 1 and 2 for recurring fair value measurements during the year, relating to the listing of the unlisted equity securities as at year end. There were no transfers in and out of level 3.

The Company's policy is to recognise transfers into and transfers out of fair value hierarchy levels as at the end of the reporting period.

(ii) Disclosed fair values

For all financial instruments other than those measured at fair value their carrying value approximates fair value.

The carrying amounts of trade and other receivables and payables are reasonable approximations of their fair values due to their short-term nature.

5 Critical accounting estimates and judgements

(a) Significant estimates and judgements

Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that may have a financial impact on the entity and that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

(b) Critical accounting estimates and assumptions

The Company makes estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The resulting accounting estimates will, by definition, seldom equal the related actual results.

6 Segment information

The Company has only one reportable segment. The Company operates in one industry being the securities industry, deriving revenue from dividend and trust distribution income, interest income and from the sale of its trading portfolio.
