CLARIFICATION OF ASX ANNOUNCEMENTS

Birimian Limited (ASX:BGS; "Birimian" and "Company") wishes to clarify a typographical error in the announcement released today and clarify information in the announcement dated 28 July 2016.

In today's announcement the third paragraph on page 5 should read as follows;

"On 2 March 2016, Birimian estimated an initial Exploration Target at Goulamina in the range of 15Mt to 18Mt at grades between 1.8% and 2.2% Li₂O, representing approximately 270,000 to 396,000 tonnes of potential contained lithia (Li₂O). The Company notes that this Exploration Target is reported in accordance with the Australasian Code for Reporting of Exploration Results, Mineral Resources and Ore Reserves (2012 Edition). The potential quantity and grade of this Exploration Target is conceptual in nature. There has been insufficient work to estimate a Mineral Resource and it is uncertain if further exploration will result in the estimation of a Mineral Resource."

The * footnote on page 5 relates to the last paragraph on that page, paragraph 7. Birimian's Exploration Target is not a resource and there has been no decision to mine.

In the announcement dated 28 July 2016 the Company provides additional information relating to commentary regarding spectacular zones of densely crowded spodumene (lithium) intersected in diamond drill holes (GMDD001-003) at the Bougouni Lithium Project. Visual percentage estimates of spodumene range from 5% - 40% per metre in the drill core. The observed spodumene occurs as elongate crystals typically ranging in length between 5mm – 50mm, occurring as aggregates and disseminations throughout the host pegmatite (quartz-feldspar) rock. Analytical results are pending for the diamond drill holes.

Yours faithfully

Beverley Nichols
