NSX ANNOUNCEMENT

VERATIN FILES PROVISIONAL PATENT FOR FERMENTED PRODUCTS AND TRADEMARK

Manufacturing company Veratin Limited (NSX: VTN) ("VTN") is pleased to announce it has filed a provisional patent titled, "Alcoholic and non-alcoholic fermented products and method of preparation". The invention claims the use of wool as a source in fermented alcoholic and non-alcoholic products. The Company is also pleased to announce it has filed a Trademark for "Baa Baa" beverages.

Executive Chairman of Veratin, Dr Ramiz Boulos says, "I am extremely pleased with this development, which unlocks the use of wool as a sustainable and novel protein source in food products. This ground-breaking discovery will allow us to bring to the market for the first time the "Baa Baa" range of alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages. The significance of this invention however reaches far beyond food products and will allow us to develop products in other industries, including agricultural."
