

1 September 2017

Industry veteran to lead Orion Health's U.S. operation

Orion Health Group Limited (OHE: NZX/ASX) has appointed health IT veteran Terry Macaleer to head its U.S. operation.

Mr Macaleer has helped establish two successful health IT enterprise software companies, both of which achieved multi-million dollar sales. He was a co-founder of Eclipsys, a publicly traded electronic health records company that later merged with Allscripts. Mr Macaleer then went on to found Carefx, a software company that streamlines and simplifies clinical and business workflow and connects care providers to the information they need. Following this he was Senior Vice President of Sales at AllScripts for six years.

Orion Health CEO Ian McCrae: "Terry's outstanding leadership skills, management abilities and keen understanding of the complexity of the U.S. market – as evidenced by successfully building two health IT companies – make him a great choice to lead Orion Health's U.S. team and serve our U.S. customers."

Mr Macaleer will take over from Wayne Oxenham, the current president of Orion Health U.S., who held the role for 18 months on a fixed-term basis. Mr Oxenham will be relocating back to Orion Health's corporate headquarters in Auckland.

ends

For Investor Relations enquiries:

Brent Matuschka
+64 21 819 348
brent.matuschka@orionhealth.com

For media enquiries:

Sarah Putt
+64 21 610 592
sarah.putt@orionhealth.com

About Orion Health

Orion Health (NZX:OHE) is a health technology company that provides solutions which enable healthcare to over 110 million patients globally. Its open technology platform Orion Health Amadeus seamlessly integrates all forms of relevant data to enable population and personalised healthcare around the world. The company employs over 1200 people around the world and is committed to continual innovation, investing substantially in research and development to cement its position at the forefront of precision medicine. For more information visit www.orionhealth.com