TeamTalk Limited appoints Andrew Hooker as Chief Technology Officer

TeamTalk Limited (NZX:TTK) have the pleasure in announcing the appointment of Andrew Hooker as its Chief Technology Officer. He will be a member of the TeamTalk Leadership Team reporting to Chief Executive Andrew Miller.

Andrew has over 30 years' experience in telecommunications across mobile networks, fixed line fibre networks, fixed line copper networks, microwave radio and UHF/VHF land mobile. Andrew's commercial and customer skills will enhance our sales process, assisting with not only the design of new solutions but also being part of the customer engagement.

Andrew brings strong financial, commercial and project management skills and has managed significant capital and operational programmes of work.

"Andrew's ability to think strategically and to connect the dots between commercial opportunities, people and technology will bring the leadership we desire across our Design, Delivery and Operational teams," commented Andrew Miller.

Andrew will start on 14 May.
