Managing Director, David O'Connell advised, "The Geneva board resolved to approve the 1.50 cents per share dividend, reduced from 2.25 cents per share paid last year, in response to the uncertainties the finance industry is facing in the post covid-lockdown period." He then further commented. "Once there was greater clarity as to the impact covid was having on the wider economy and the finance sector in particular, the board would reassess the prudence of increasing returns to shareholders to prior year levels"
