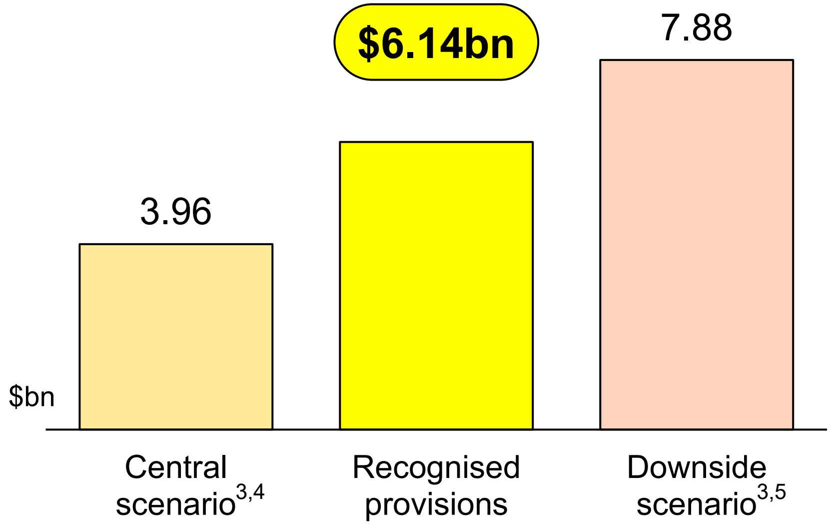
Provisions and scenarios

Jun 24



1. The Group uses four alternative macroeconomic scenarios to reflect a range of possible future outcomes in estimating the Expected Credit Loss (ECL) for significant portfolios, scenarios are updated based on changes in both the macroeconomic and geopolitical environment. 2. Revised APRA capital framework effective from 1 January 2023. 3. Assuming 100% weighting holding all assumptions including forward-looking adjustments constant and includes individually assessed provisions. 4. Central scenario is based on the Group's internal economic forecasts and market consensus as well as other assumptions used in business planning and forecasting. 5. The downside scenario contemplates the potential impact of possible, but less likely, adverse macroeconomic conditions, resulting from persistent inflationary pressures which leads to disorderly asset price declines, a sharp increase in credit spreads, corporate defaults and high unemployment. The scenario also reflects the potential macroeconomic impacts of climate risk from a severe drought in Australia, through a decline in house prices, higher unemployment as well as weaker growth.

Provisioning through the cycle

Forward-looking approach – customer, macroeconomic and sectoral considerations

Economic cycle

GDP

	Lower	CP – Base	Higher
Forward-looking components	Higher	CP – FLAs	Lower
Forward-looking components	Higher	CP – MES	Likely lower[1]
	Lower	IAPs[2]	Higher
	Higher	Total provisions[3]	Likely lower

- AASB 9 requires a forward-looking approach to loan loss provisioning to dampen pro-cyclical provisioning behaviour through forward-looking adjustments (FLAs) and multiple economic scenarios (MES) in determining collective provisions (CP).
- Total provisions will likely be lower following an economic contraction (despite higher base provisions) as we adopt a forward-looking view of an economic expansion.
- Sectoral considerations (last 6 months):
  - Consumer: reduction in modelled provisions due to rising house prices and lower expected losses on unsecured consumer finance, partly offset by ongoing adjustment for home loan customers under the greatest debt servicing pressures.
  - Construction: reduction in FLAs as portfolio starting to exhibit stable to improving trends. Number of dwellings under construction remains high and infrastructure pipeline is strong. Concerns remain on future dwelling construction activity as new approvals and commencements remain subdued.
  - Retail trade: non-material change in provision coverage. Discretionary spending still growing in nominal terms as a result of population growth. Non-discretionary spending remains resilient.
  - Entertainment, leisure and tourism: non-material change in provision coverage. Remain cautious about the sector, though real household disposable incomes are expected to rise on a per capita basis.
  - Commercial property: non-material change in provision coverage. Sales and valuations continue to be weak. Focus on where valuations will land under a prolonged higher interest rate scenario.
  - Agriculture: reduction in FLAs due to a period of favourable weather conditions. The sector is well placed to navigate headwinds.

1. If economic conditions are expected to recover following a recession, then the MES overlay would reduce as economic variables improve and/or the probability weighting towards more benign scenarios increases. This may not be the case where further deterioration in economic conditions is expected (e.g. a double-dip recession). 2. Individually assessed provisions (IAPs) are raised for non-performing exposures. 3. This refers to expectations before and after an economic slowdown. How total provisions change during a contraction is uncertain: if FLAs and MES under-predict actual losses, then total provisions will increase. If they over-predict losses (as was the case during the early stages of the COVID-19 pandemic) then total provisions will decrease.

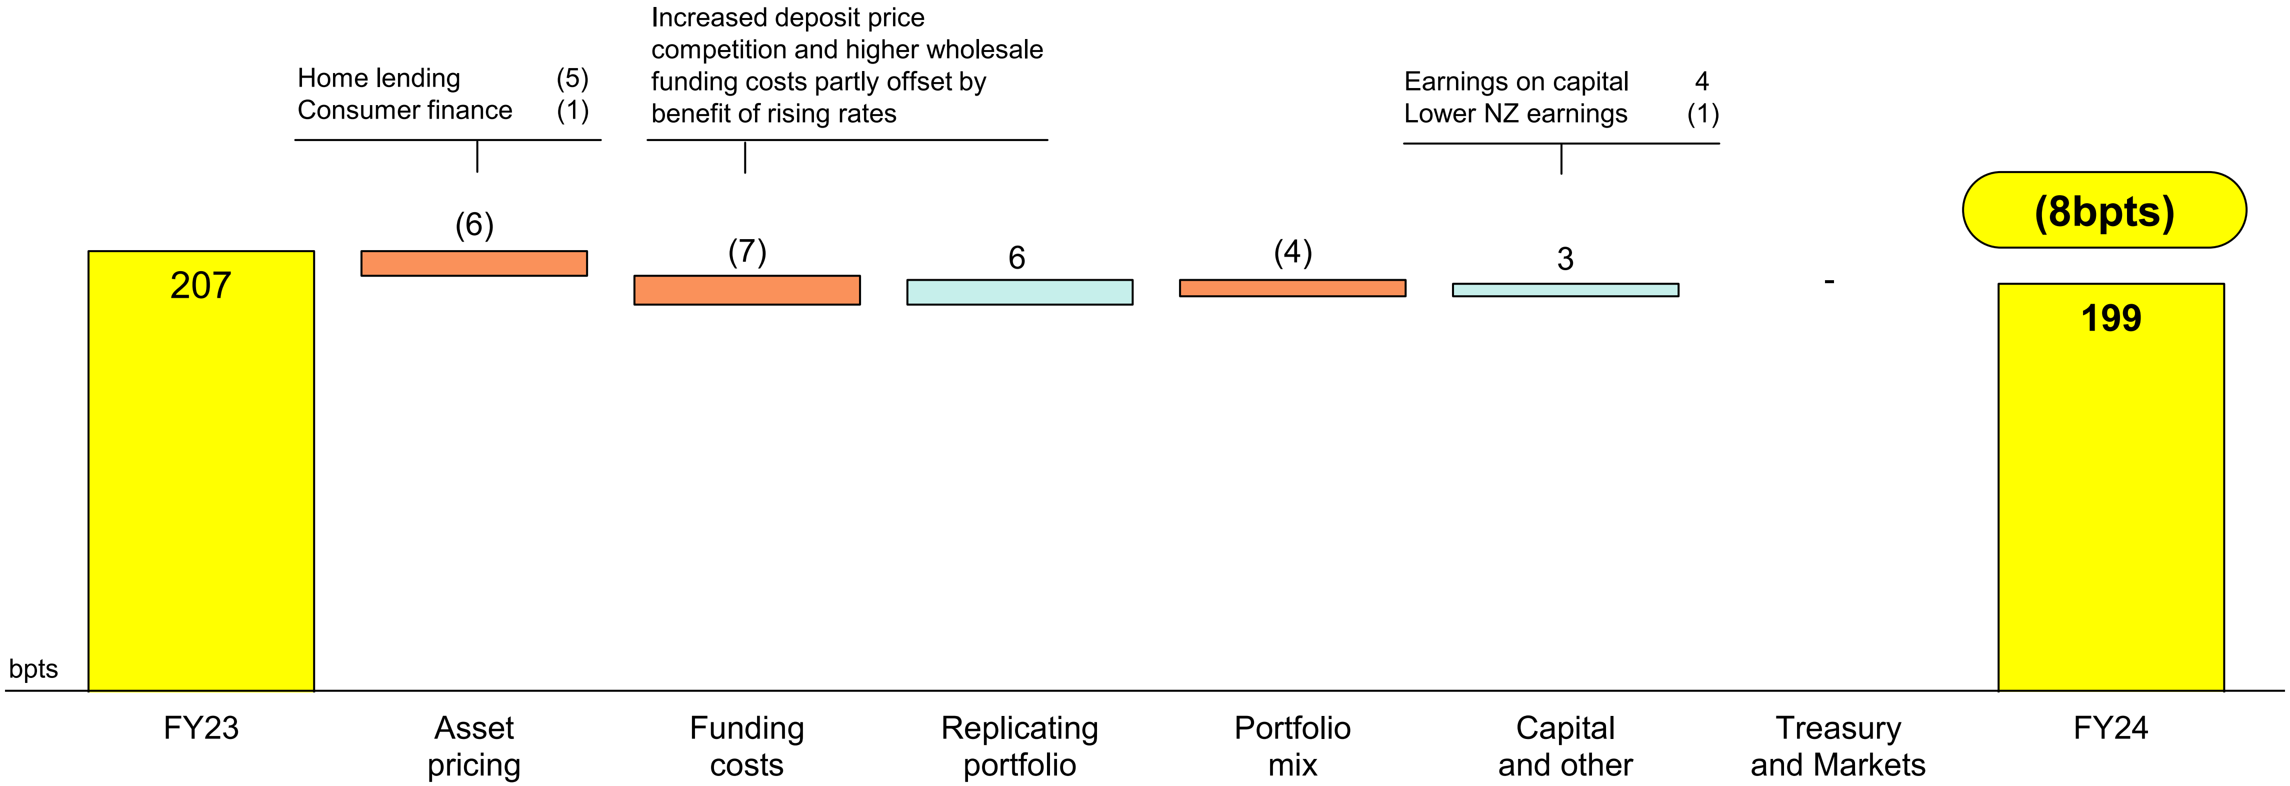
Group margin – 12 months

Competitive pressures and deposit switching partly offset by hedging returns



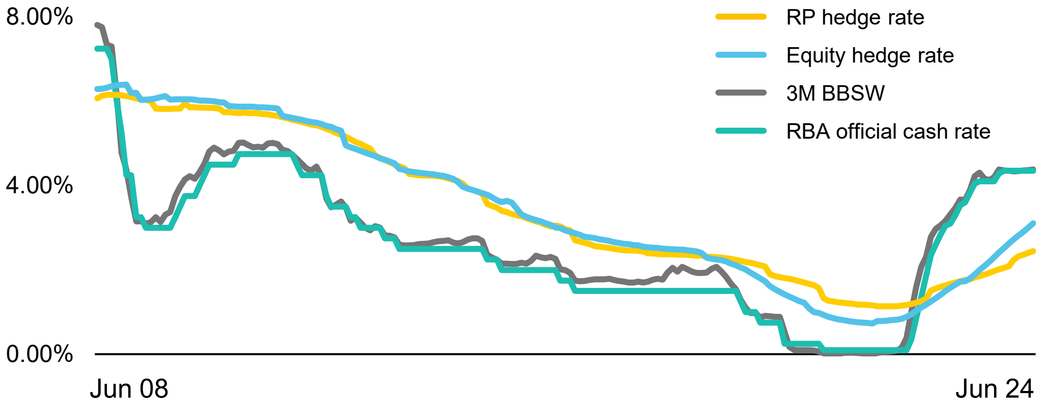
Group margin

Hedge earnings continue to increase due to higher interest rates

Replicated portfolio (RP) & equity hedge[1]

- In FY24, RP and equity hedge earnings benefitted from higher rates
- Earnings outlook continues to improve with higher exit tractor rates
- RP increased $11bn to $119bn as at Jun 24

	Jun 24 balance $bn	FY24 Avg. tractor[2]	Exit tractor[2] rate	Investment term
Domestic equity hedge	51	2.56%	3.11%	3 years
Deposit hedge	119	2.13%	2.45%	5 years



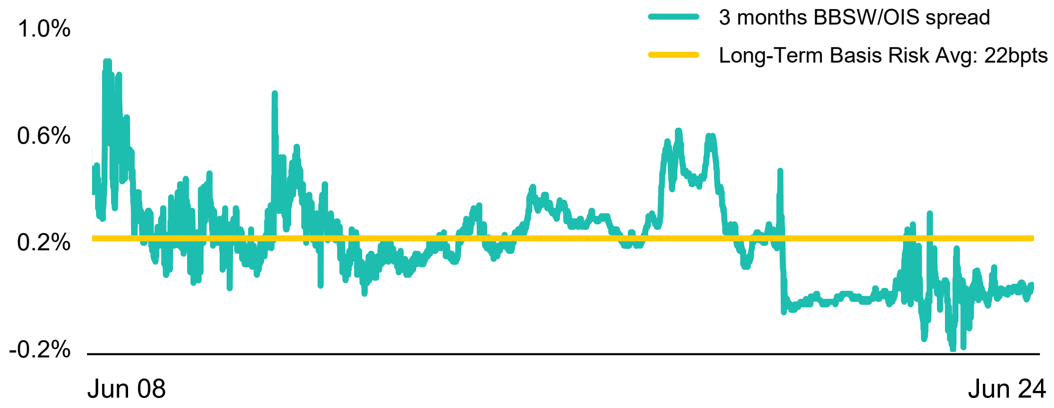
Liquidity & basis risk

Liquidity

- Every additional $10bn of liquid assets is expected to reduce Group NIM by ~2bpts

Basis risk

- Increased sensitivity to basis risk in FY24 with mix reversion back to variable rate home loans driving higher exposure to basis risk
- Jun 24 average BBSW/OIS spread = 2bpts
- As at Jun 24[3], every 7bpts = ~1bpt of Group NIM, this ratio will reduce as exposure to basis risk increases



1. Represents domestic AUD equity and deposit hedges. 2. Tractor is the moving average hedge rate on equity and rate insensitive deposits. Exit tractor rate represents average rate for June 2024.
3. Based on average exposure to basis risk in June 2024.

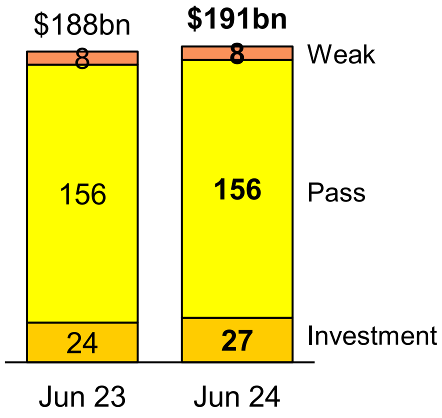
Stage 2 exposures by credit grade[3]



1. AASB 9 classifies loans into stages; Stage 1 – Performing, Stage 2 – Performing but significantly increased credit risk, Stage 3 – Non-performing. Performing relates to Stage 1 and Stage 2. Non-performing relates to Stage 3. Stage 2 is defined based on a significant deterioration in internal credit risk ratings, as well as other indicators such as arrears. Assessment of Stage 2 includes the impact of forward-looking adjustments for emerging risk. 2. Excludes estimated impairment provisions for derivatives at fair value. 3. Segmentation of loans in retail and risk rated portfolios is based on the mapping of a counterparty's internally assessed PD to S&P Global ratings (refer to Pillar 3), reflecting a counterparty's ability to meet their credit obligations. 4. The assessment of significant increase in credit risk includes the impact of forward looking multiple economic scenarios in addition to adjustments for emerging risks at an industry, geographic location or particular portfolio segment level, which are calculated by stressing an exposure's internal credit rating grade at the reporting date. This accounts for approximately 64% of Stage 2 exposures as at 30 June 2024 (31 December 2023: 62% and 30 June 2023: 62%).

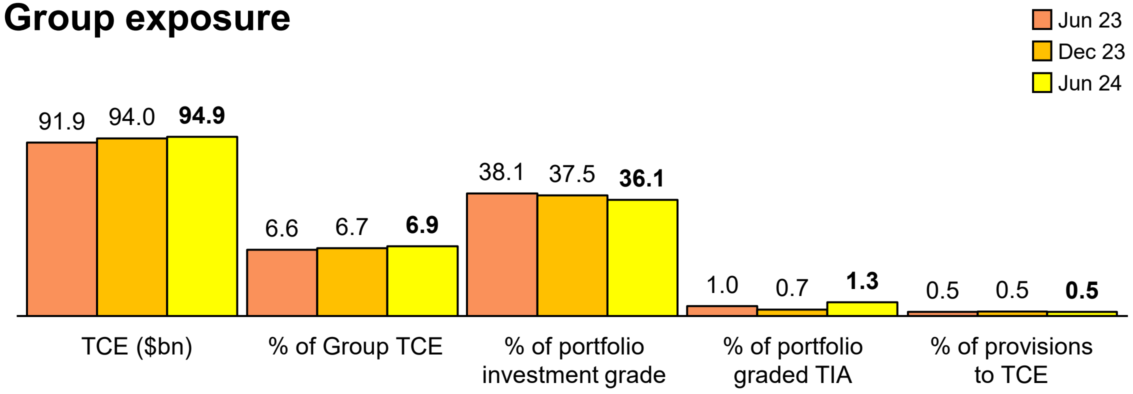
Commercial property

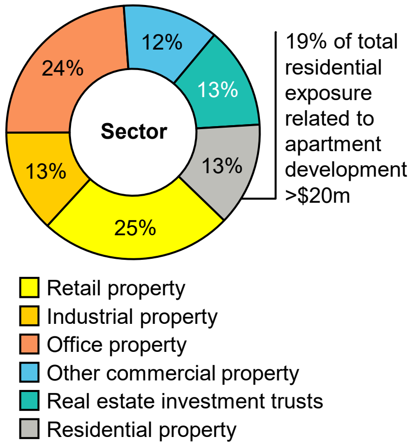
Moderate growth, well secured portfolio, market conditions easing

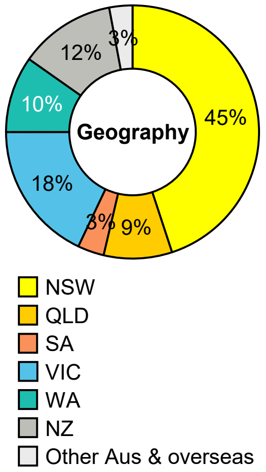
- Softening in yields and capital values has started to ease, although vacancies remain high for Office property in specific metropolitan Sydney and Melbourne locations.
- Maintaining close portfolio oversight with serviceability and Interest Coverage Ratio (ICR) origination thresholds.
- Approach to serviceability and ICR determination combined with active management of Loan to Valuation Ratios (LVR) has resulted in ongoing improvements to the security position of the portfolio, remaining well secured should there be further deterioration in asset values.
- Low exposure growth driven by low sales volumes, serviceability at higher interest rates driving lower LVRs, low levels of new development starts due to conditions in the construction sector, and early repayment of REIT exposures in the last six months.
- Exposure is diversified across sectors and by counterparty, with the top 20 counterparties representing 13% of the portfolio.
- Office exposures are weighted toward Premium/A Grade property with weighted average LVR maintaining a buffer to the Group's minimum requirements. Tighter origination LVRs are in place for Office properties in high vacancy precincts.
- Retail origination criteria actively managed with tighter criteria for assets with predominantly discretionary retailers as tenants.
- Portfolio remains well secured. Leverage for the individually risk rated property investment portfolio which represents ~80% of the exposure to the sector, remains moderate with average LVR of 45%[1]. Of the Unsecured exposure, 97% is to investment grade customers.
- TIA increase over the half is driven by downgrade of a small number of secured single name exposures, no material losses expected.

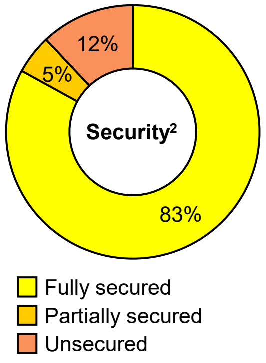
Group exposure



Profile







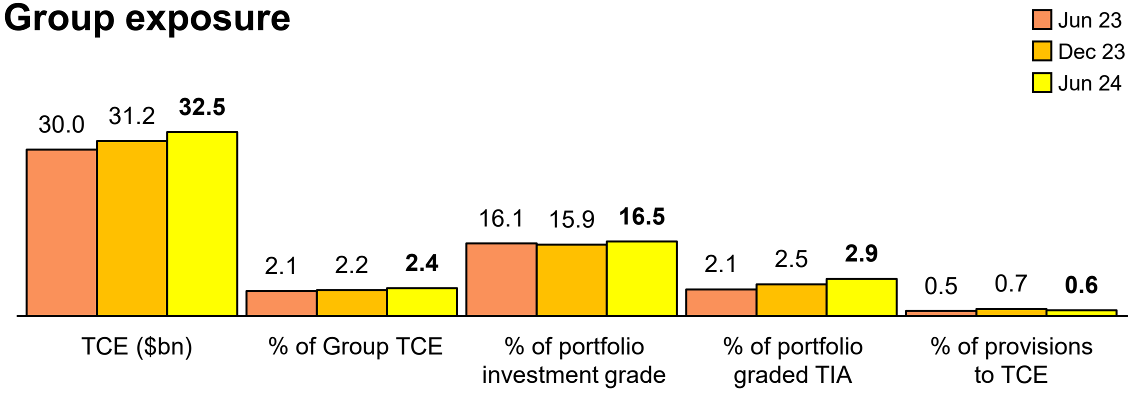
1. The remaining exposure primarily relates to statistically managed exposures where LVR is not available, and property development. 2. Security classification logic previously treated asset finance exposures as fully secured and is now treated as partially secured to align with classification of these exposures under Group Credit Policy.

Agriculture & forestry

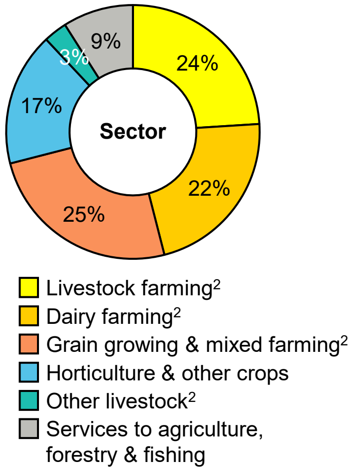
Sector performing well – underpinned by sound fundamentals

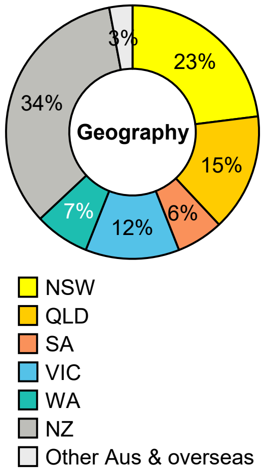
- The portfolio grew ~8% this year, mostly in the livestock and mixed farming sectors.
- Weather conditions have been favourable, with good subsoil moisture. There were dryer conditions in WA, Tasmania and New Zealand.
- Australian cattle prices improved toward historical average levels of 550c/kg, up from a low of 340c/kg in October 2023.
- Australian lamb prices fell over the past six months from 778c/kg to 584c/kg, though recently recovered to 710c/kg.
- Avian influenza (Bird Flu) remains a risk with some customers already impacted, and strong physical controls implemented by growers and State authorities.
- The agriculture portfolio remains well secured.

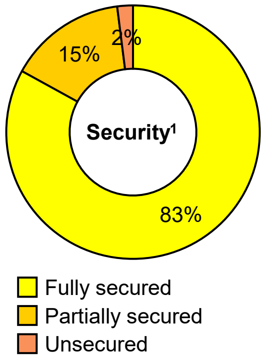
Group exposure



Profile







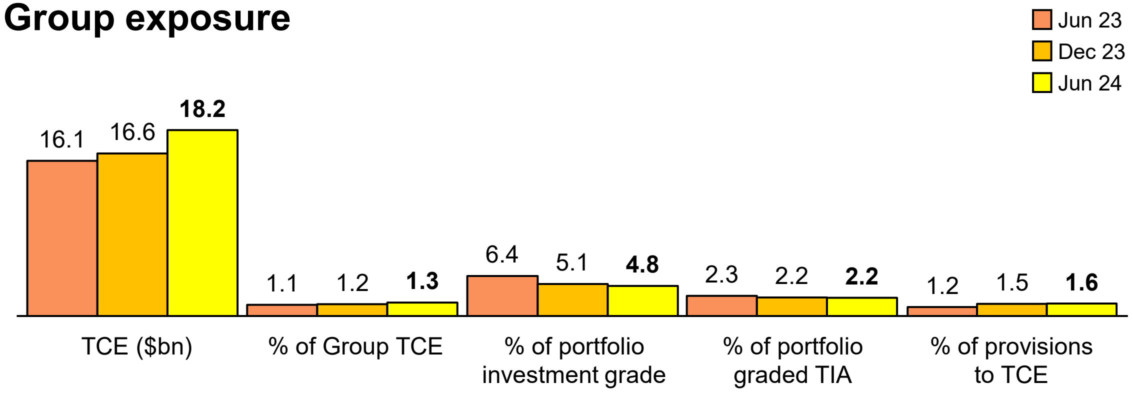
1. Security classification logic treats asset finance exposures as partially secured to align with classification of these exposures under Group Credit Policy. 2. Sub-sectors accounting for $20.7 billion of TCE within these sectors have been identified as exposed to elevated climate related transition risk and physical risk as at 30 June 2024. Refer to page 52 of the 2024 Climate Report for further information.

Entertainment, leisure & tourism

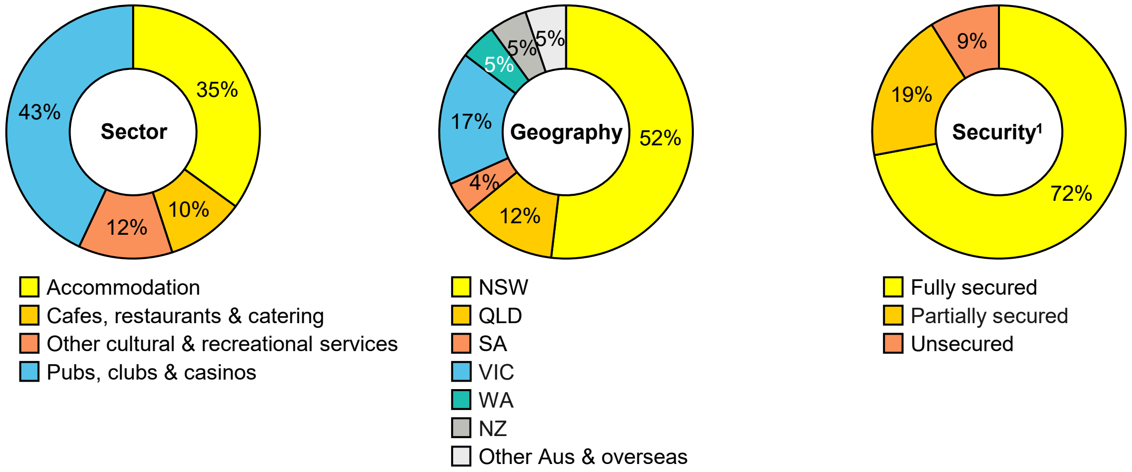
Stable performance

- Portfolio growth has focused on higher quality, well secured and diversified operators.
- LVRs are well positioned, typically lower than 55%.
- Spending on Hospitality has increased in the year, primarily in fast food outlets, food delivery services, restaurants, pubs, taverns and bars.
- Pubs and clubs have traded well despite operators noting moderating food and beverage spend.
- Real household disposable income has stabilised as the pace of inflation has eased. Household disposable income in real terms is expected to grow in the the next fiscal year.

Group exposure



Profile



1. Security classification logic previously treated asset finance exposures as fully secured and is now treated as partially secured to align with classification of these exposures under Group Credit Policy.

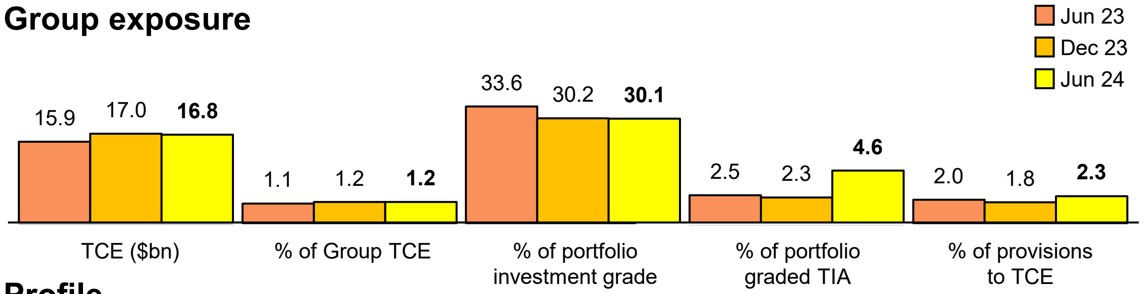
Wholesale & retail trade

Essential spending driving retail consumption, wholesale trade impacted by single name exposure

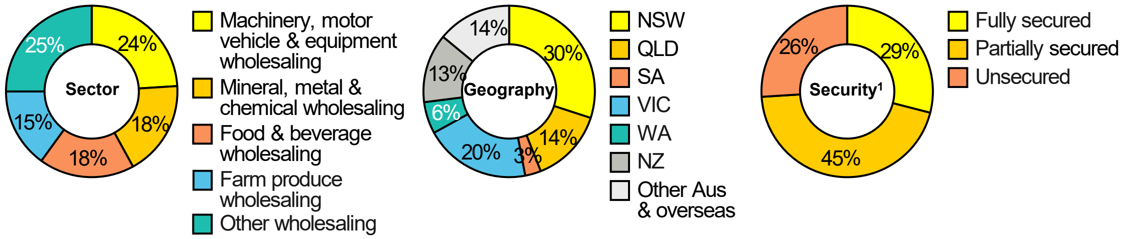
Wholesale trade

- Portfolio growth of ~6% across the year.
- Portfolio performance has been stable outside of the downgrade of a single name client in the period.
- High fuel and electricity costs, continued FX volatility and disrupted shipping routes remain key challenges for the sector.
- Strong inventory management is essential given uneven economic conditions.

Group exposure



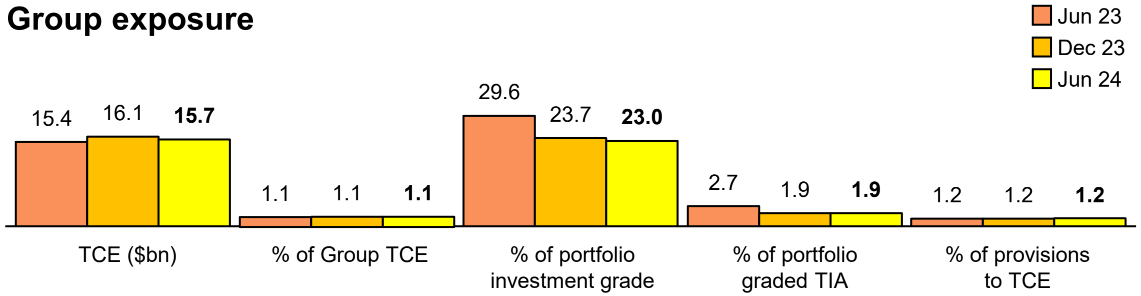
Profile

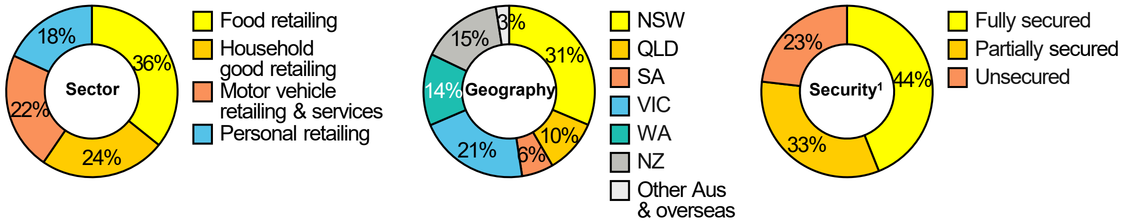


Retail trade

- Portfolio growth of ~2% across the year, predominantly within non-discretionary sectors. 64% of Retail Exposure is non-discretionary.
- Discretionary spending has risen in nominal terms, influenced by population growth, however growth on a per capita basis has been more subdued. Spending on essentials has remained resilient. The labour market remains tight, but migration has contributed to population growth and delivered some easing of labour availability pressures.
- Percentage of the portfolio rated investment grade decreased due to a mix of repayments and downgrades of small number of single name exposures across sub-sectors.

Group exposure





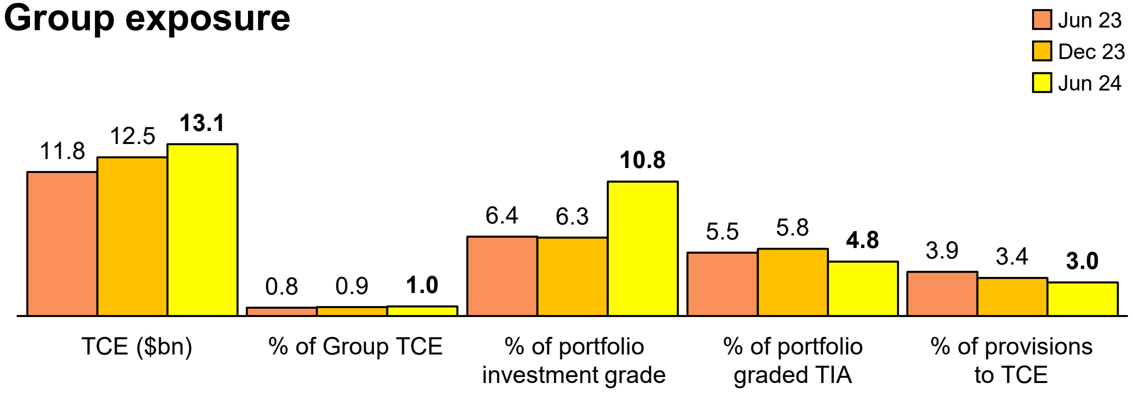
1. Security classification logic previously treated asset finance exposures as fully secured and is now treated as partially secured to align with classification of these exposures under Group Credit Policy.

Construction

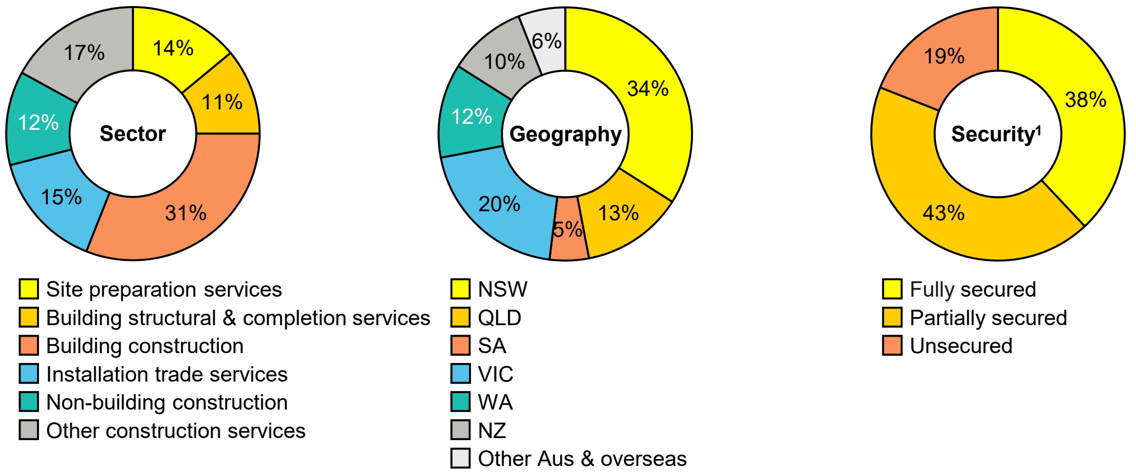
Sector remains challenged

- Portfolio growth focused on supporting existing clients.
- Residential and commercial builders have largely worked through the loss making fixed priced contracts that challenged the sector.
- Civil and non-building construction operators have benefitted from infrastructure spend and development of residential land. Our clients in these sub-sectors tend to be less exposed to long-term, fixed price contract risk.
- Trade and construction services is the largest and most diverse construction segment, consisting of small and medium sized businesses that provide trade services to construction companies (subcontractors), households and businesses.
- Labour constraints, cost inflation and reduced new housing starts remain key challenges for the sector.

Group exposure



Profile



1. Security classification logic previously treated asset finance exposures as fully secured and is now treated as partially secured to align with classification of these exposures under Group Credit Policy.

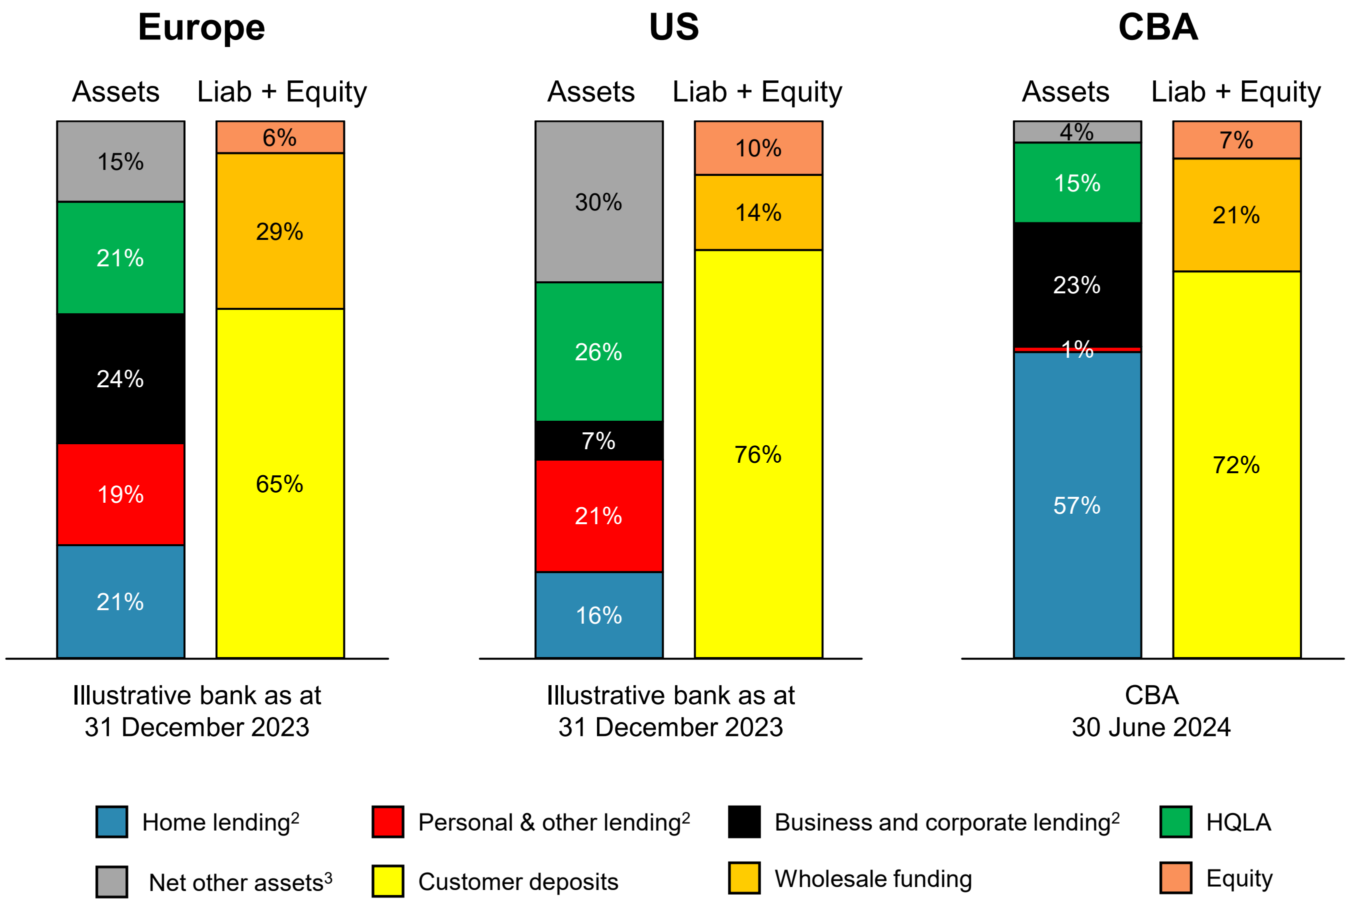
Balance sheet composition[1]

CBA has stable, high quality assets and conservative funding settings



Assets – CBA has a stable, high quality asset profile:

- High proportion of well secured home lending assets
- Very low proportion of higher risk unsecured consumer finance/personal lending
- HQLA primarily consists of cash and deposits with central banks, government and semi-government securities; all bonds held are fully hedged for interest rate risk

Funding – CBA has proactively maintained conservative funding settings:

- Low proportion of short-term funding which provides flexibility through tighter financial conditions
- Long-term wholesale funding has a weighted average maturity of 5.2 years and is diversified by product and currency; track record of good access to global funding markets
- Large proportion of customer deposits funding including highest proportion of stable household deposits

Based on published peer bank balance sheet disclosures, with the exception of other assets, which are presented net of other liabilities, and High Quality Liquid Assets (HQLA) which is based on Pillar 3 disclosures. 2. Capital management – share buy-back

$9.3bn buy-backs in last three years

- $282 million of current $1 billion on-market share buy-back completed to date
- Buy-back period extended by 12 months to allow for flexibility in execution
- Completion of remaining $718 million on-market share buy-back expected to reduce CET1 capital ratio by ~15bpts. Timing and actual number of shares purchased will depend on market conditions and other considerations
- Supports long-term value creation for shareholders, enabled the distribution of an additional ~65 cents in dividend per share over the last three years as a result of lower share count from the buy-backs completed to date
- Equity remains the most expensive form of funding

Glossary

Term	Description
Cash Profit	The Profit Announcement (PA) discloses the net profit after tax on both a statutory and cash basis. The statutory basis is prepared in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) and the Australian Accounting Standards, which comply with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). The cash basis is used by management to present a clear view of the Bank's operating results. It is not a measure based on cash accounting or cash flows. The items excluded from cash profit, such as hedging and IFRS volatility and losses or gains on acquisition, disposal, closure, capital repatriation and demerger of businesses are calculated consistently with the prior year and prior half disclosures and do not discriminate between positive and negative adjustments. A list of items excluded from cash profit is provided on page 3 of the Group's 30 June 2024 PA, which can be accessed at our website: www.commbank.com.au/results
