

Silo incident at Edendale site

6 October 2016

On 16 September a raw milk silo collapsed at Fonterra's Edendale site in Southland. The silo was designed, built and erected by MGL in May 2009. The investigations into the cause of the collapse are continuing and MGL is working with Fonterra and other parties to determine the cause. We will update the market if or when there is a material outcome relating to the incident.
