ASX RELEASE

PORT KEATS ROCK SALT PROJECT DRILLING DEFERRAL

9 September 2009

The Company advises that it has deferred its planned drilling of the Port Keats Rock Salt target until after the wet season.

The drilling contractor has advised that the rig and equipment originally intended to undertake the planned drilling at Port Keats are no longer available. The mobilisation and demobilisation costs of a replacement set of equipment from New South Wales are unacceptably high to the Company.

Minemakers will seek a renewal of the Authority for the drilling which was given this year, so as to enable the Company to undertake the drilling program after the wet season.
