O'Donnell Griffin secures $19.4m contract for Canberra Airport

Norfolk Group Limited (ASX: NFK) subsidiary, O'Donnell Griffin, has secured a $19.4 million tender for the delivery of electrical services at the Multi-user Terminal of Canberra Airport in the Australian Capital territory (ACT).

The contract is with Construction Control and will commence immediately. The project relates specifically to the installation of electrical and data communications services within the New Terminal.

O'Donnell Griffin's ACT business has worked with Construction Control in the past on projects at Canberra Airport, and is currently in the final stages of delivering $1.2 million of electrical services at the Canberra Airport car park. O'Donnell Griffin has also worked with Construction Control on a number of landmark projects in the Canberra CBD, Defence facilities and the Australian National University.
