About Scimitar Resources Ltd (SIM)

Scimitar Resources Limited is a leading Australian company in the exploration for uranium. The company retains an experienced board of directors and management team, with proven success in the resources sector.

The company controls over 20,000 km² of uranium prospective tenements across three states, allowing for diversification not only geologically but also with regard to differing political sentiment and policy within each state towards uranium exploration and mining. The 100% company owned projects are effectively among the largest uranium portfolios, in historically some of the most uranium prospective areas in Australia.
