Resignation of Joint MD

Perth, Western Australia: Tiger Resources Limited (ASX/TSX: TGS). Mr. David Young has advised that he will be stepping down from his role as the Joint Managing Director of Tiger Resources Limited for personal reasons and resigning from the Tiger Board with immediate effect. During his term as Managing Director Tiger has grown from a junior explorer to a near term operator with substantial assets in the Democratic Republic of Congo. David leaves Tiger's operations in a robust position, with production due to commence at Tiger's flagship Kipoi copper project in 2011 and a strong management team in place under Brad Marwood as Managing Director focused on taking Tiger forward. On behalf of the Company and shareholders, the Chairman Reg Gillard said "We would like to take this opportunity to wish David well in his future endeavours and thank him for his considerable contribution to Tiger over the past 5 years."
