

Cordlife Proposed Capital Reduction

Demerger of Cordlife Pte Ltd

Key Points

- Cordlife Limited (CBB) announces a proposed capital reduction (subject to shareholder approval) to be implemented by way of a distribution in specie of all of the issued ordinary shares in Cordlife Pte Ltd (Cordlife Singapore)
- Where approved, the capital reduction will effectively result in the demerger of Cordlife Singapore from CBB
- CBB has also secured access to additional working capital of A$7,412,000 pursuant to a bond issued by CBB to City Challenge Global Limited and under that bond allotted 21,800,000 options at an exercise price of A$0.40 cents per CBB share
- A CBB shareholders meeting has been convened for 16 June 2011 and, where approved, the capital reduction would be implemented on 30 June 2011.

Australia, 16 May 2011 - Cordlife Limited (CBB) today announced a proposed capital reduction, subject to shareholder approval, to implement the demerger of Cordlife Singapore (and its operations) from CBB.

At present the operations of the combined Cordlife group are conducted through two wholly owned subsidiaries:

- (a) Cordlife Services which owns the developing Cordlife blood bank businesses in India, Indonesia and the Philippines (Developing Businesses); and
- (b) Cordlife Singapore which owns the more mature Cordlife blood bank businesses in Singapore and through its subsidiary in Hong Kong. Cordlife Singapore also owns an indirect 10% interest in Guangzhou Municipality Tianhe Nuoya Bioenineering Co. Ltd which is the operator of the sole cord blood banking licensee in the Guangdong province in China (Mature Businesses).

The capital reduction where approved would result in a demerger of the Developing Businesses (which will continue to be owned by CBB) from the Mature Businesses (owned by Cordlife Singapore).

Steven Fang, Group CEO of CBB said that "We of the view that shareholder value will potentially be enhanced by separating the Developing Businesses (which require continued cash investment) owned by Cordlife Services, from the Mature Businesses (which are cash flow positive) owned by Cordlife Singapore. The objective is to have CBB continue as an ASX listed entity owning the Developing Businesses (with capital to invest in their continued development and expansion), but also for CBB shareholders to participate directly in Cordlife Singapore (owning the Mature Businesses) by directly holding shares in Cordlife Singapore."

CBB has entered into a convertible bond with City Challenge Global Limited pursuant to which CBB has secured access to additional working capital of A$7,412,000. Under the terms of that bond, CBB has also granted the bond holder 21,800,000 options, each exercisable at A$0.40 cents into a CBB share.

The CBB shareholders meeting to be held on 16 June 2011 is to be convened for CBB shareholders to consider, among other matters, whether to approve the capital reduction and to refresh the CBB's board authority to issue new shares (by ratifying the grant of the 21,800,000 options to City Challenge Global Limited).

Accompanying this announcement are the following documents:

- 1. Shareholder's letter regarding the proposed capital reduction;
- 2. Notice of Meeting for the meeting to be held on 16 June 2011;
- 3. Explanatory Memorandum (to assist CBB shareholders in considering the proposed resolutions).

13 May 2011

Dear Shareholder,

For some time now, the Cordlife Ltd Board has explored alternatives to enhance shareholder's value.

As the Cordlife group has expanded into new territories, it recognised that its business operations in different geographical regions could be characterised into those which are more developed yielding positive cash flow and those which are still in developmental phase requiring continued capital support.

Given the distinct financial and management characteristics required of the two business segments, we believe that shareholder's value would be enhanced by demerging our developed from our developing businesses. The demerger will also contribute to Cordlife's leadership position in the stem cell banking business with each segment driven by a separate Board and management team focused on delivering sustainable profit growth.

The Cordlife Ltd Board has planned for a shareholder meeting to consider the demerger proposal by way of an equal capital reduction. Please find in the enclosed a shareholders' notice of meeting and an explanatory memorandum which outlines the proposed demerger. If approved and implemented, the demerger would result in the following:

- 1. Cordlife Ltd (the existing ASX listed entity) will continue as an independent listed entity owning the developing businesses in India, Indonesia and the Philippines; and
- 2. Cordlife Pte Ltd, a private, unlisted company subject to the laws of Singapore will fully own the developed businesses in Singapore and Hong Kong market as well as an indirect ownership of the investment in Guangzhou.

Following the demerger, Cordlife Ltd shareholders will own the same percentage of shares in Cordlife Pte Ltd in addition to their existing CordLife Ltd shares. This means that you can benefit from ownership in two separate companies without any additional cash outlay.

This is an important and strategic decision for Cordlife Ltd. You should consider the enclosed documents carefully taking into consideration the benefits, limitations and inherent risks of this proposed demerger exercise.

The Cordlife Ltd Board unanimously recommends the demerger proposal tabled before you.

If you have any questions regarding the enclosed documents you can contact the Company's enquiry line on the numbers below or seek independent financial and legal advice.

Explanatory Memorandum

Introduction

This is an important shareholders' meeting to provide shareholders with the opportunity to consider effectively splitting the operations of Cordlife Limited (CBB) by distributing to the CBB's shareholders the entire issued ordinary share capital of CBB's wholly owned subsidiary Cordlife Pte Ltd (Cordlife Singapore) which will result in the demerger of CBB from Cordlife Singapore.

At present the operations of the combined Cordlife group are conducted through two wholly owned subsidiaries:

- (a) Cordlife Services (S) Pte Ltd (Cordlife Services) which owns the developing Cordlife blood bank businesses in India, Indonesia and the Philippines (Developing Businesses); and
- (b) Cordlife Singapore which owns the more mature Cordlife blood bank businesses in Singapore and through its subsidiary (Cordlife (Hong Kong) Ltd), in Hong Kong. Cordlife Singapore also owns an indirect 10% interest in Guangzhou Municipality Tianhe Nuoya Bioenineering Co. Ltd which is the operator of the sole cord blood banking licensee in the Guangdong province in China (Mature Businesses).

The CBB Board is of the view that shareholder value will potentially be enhanced by separating the Developing Businesses (which require continued cash investment) owned by Cordlife Services from the Mature Businesses (which are cash flow positive) owned by Cordlife Singapore. The objective would be to have CBB continue as an ASX listed entity owning the Developing Businesses (with capital to continue to invest in their continued development and expansion), but also for CBB shareholders to directly participate in Cordlife Singapore owning the Mature Businesses by directly holding the Cordlife Singapore Shares.

Cordlife Singapore is a private, unlisted company subject to the laws of Singapore - with limited or no secondary trading in the Cordlife Singapore Shares. The CBB Board has no intention that Cordlife Singapore should seek its own listing or like liquidity event. On implementation of the Capital Reduction, Cordlife Singapore is to be constituted by its own independent board (see Schedule 1) and the new board of Cordlife Singapore will determine its future course. CBB Shareholders should consider whether to approve the Capital Reduction on the basis that on implementation of the Capital Reduction you will receive on 30 June 2011 unlisted shares in a private company with limited or no secondary trading, with your returns primarily based on receipt of dividends from Cordlife Singapore. Please note that dividends may only be paid on the available profits derived by Cordlife Singapore in the relevant year and there is no guarantee of the payment of any dividends.

This Explanatory Memorandum has been prepared to provide additional information to enable CBB shareholders to have sufficient information to assess the merits of the proposed Capital Reduction. You should carefully read this Explanatory Memorandum and consult your own independent legal, accounting, financial and tax advisers. Please note that –

- (a) certain defined terms where used in this document are contained in section 13; and
- (b) the schedules to this document contain more detailed information which you should also carefully read.

Overview - Resolution 1

Where shareholders approve the capital reduction proposed under Resolution 1, CBB will on 30 June 2011 distribute all of the issued ordinary share capital of Cordlife Singapore (Cordlife Singapore Shares) to the CBB's shareholders (Capital Reduction) and CBB will retain the one issued Class A Share in Cordlife Singapore (Class A Share).

In accordance with the requirements of Sections 256B and 256C of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (Corporations Act) approval of the Capital Reduction is to be sought from the CBB shareholders at this general meeting.

This proposal under Resolution 1 has significant implications for both the ongoing business of CBB (where the Capital Reduction is approved) but also for shareholders (including without limitation their individual tax positions and nature of the Cordlife Singapore Shares). An overview of possible tax implications is contained in Schedule 3.

In addition two related resolutions are also proposed for consideration by shareholders.

Overview - Resolution 2

Resolution 2 provides for authorisation for the CBB Board to issue new CBB shares where by the Long Stop Date a Liquidity Event (as defined in section 13) has not occurred in respect of Cordlife Singapore and CBB has in its discretion elected to repurchase the Cordlife Singapore Shares. In these circumstances Resolution 2 will permit the CBB Board to issue new CBB shares to the then holders of the Cordlife Singapore Shares in consideration of CBB acquiring back Cordlife Singapore. The holders of Cordlife Singapore Shares will in addition to the new CBB shares in those circumstances also be entitled to a dividend from Cordlife Singapore in respect of its profits derived for the period from 1 July 2011 until the Long Stop Date.

Please note that a "Liquidity Event" will generally require either prior approval by the then holders of Cordlife Singapore Shares or, for example in the case of a takeover offer for Cordlife Singapore, participation by then holders of Cordlife Singapore Shares (as to whether to accept or reject a takeover offer).

Please note CBB has NO obligation to repurchase the Cordlife Singapore Shares but has an option to do so by virtue of holding the Class A Share under the Articles of Association of Cordlife Singapore.

Overview - Resolution 3

Resolution 3 relates to the bond entered into by CBB which is envisaged to provide sufficient working capital to CBB post demerger with Cordlife Singapore (CBB Bond). Under the CBB Bond, CBB has secured A$7,412,000 in additional funding which it intends to utilize in funding the Developing Businesses in their continued business plans (as outlined in Schedule 2).

Under the terms of the CBB Bond, CBB has granted to the CBB Bond holder:

- (a) an option to subscribe for 21,800,000 CBB shares (CBB Option); and
- (b) where the Capital Reduction is approved by CBB shareholders, will grant an option to subscribe for corresponding number of Cordlife Singapore Shares (where the additional Cordlife Singapore Shares on exercise would be issued by Cordlife Singapore for no additional consideration).

1. Background to the proposed Resolution 1 - Capital Reduction

1.1 CBB was admitted to the Official List of the Australian Stock Exchange in June 2004. Originally CBB was focused on the development of adult stem cell technologies including (a) a tissue and banking division; and (b) research and development of a stem cell expansion technology based on an expansion platform.

- 1.2 In 2007 CBB effectively disposed of its stem cell expansion technology to become solely focused on cord blood banking and CBB has continued to expand that cord blood service model in the Asian region.
- 1.3 The proposed Capital Reduction if approved by CBB shareholders would result in a separation of ownership of the Developing Businesses from the Mature Businesses. The CBB Board is of the opinion that this will allow markets to value the Mature Businesses on a more traditional valuation methodology, without the cash requirements of the Developing Businesses impacting on that valuation. It is therefore envisaged this may potentially enhance overall shareholder value.
- 1.4 Where CBB shareholders approve the Capital Reduction, CBB would on 30 June 2011 distribute the Cordlife Singapore Shares to the CBB shareholders as at the Record Date. Apart from the Singapore Class A Share retained by CBB, this would result in mirror shareholdings of the CBB shareholders as at the Record Date and the register of shareholders of Cordlife Singapore as at the date of distribution.
- 1.5 To assist in consideration of Resolution 1 we have provided in Schedule 1 an overview of Cordlife Singapore as a standalone entity, together with in Schedule 2 an overview of CBB as a standalone entity, in each case after the implementation of the Capital Reduction (and resulting demerger of Cordlife Singapore from CBB).

2. Contracts between CBB and Cordlife Singapore

CBB shareholders should carefully consider the material contracts that will govern the relationship of CBB and Cordlife Singapore, which contracts will become operative on the date of implementation of the Capital Reduction. These material contracts will be executed as soon as practical after the passing of Resolution 1.

It is very important to understand the nature and impact of those material contracts. Should the Capital Reduction proceed the ongoing relationships between the two companies will be determined by the operation of those contracts, as the ownership of CBB and the ownership of Cordlife Singapore will differ after the implementation of the Capital Reduction due to normal trading in CBB's shares on the ASX –and as a result the interests of both companies will no longer be directly aligned.

These material contracts may have a material impact on the value of both CBB shares and the Cordlife Singapore Shares after the implementation of the Capital Reduction.

A detailed overview of these material contracts is contained in Schedule 4 (Additional Information) but in summary those proposed contracts are:

- (a) Co-operation Agreement Co-Operation Agreement between Cordlife Singapore and CBB pursuant to which Cordlife Singapore authorises CBB (and certain subsidiaries) to enter into a cord blood banking contract with any customers on its behalf if any of such customers requests to use the cord blood banking facility in the Cordlife Singapore Jurisdiction. Likewise, CBB authorises Cordlife Singapore (and certain subsidiaries) to enter into a cord blood banking contract with any customers of Cordlife Singapore on CBB's behalf if any of such customers requests to use the cord blood banking facility in the CBB Jurisdiction. A commission is payable by each party to the other.
- (b) Cordlife Co-operation Agreement with Cordlife Stem Cell Technology Limited Ltd (CUO Agreement)- between Cordlife Singapore and Cordlife Stem Cell

Technology Limited Ltd (Cordlife Umbilical) which is a wholly owned subsidiary of CBB. Under the CUO Agreement, Cordlife Singapore (and certain subsidiaries) will market and sell the storage and banking of cord with Cordlife Umbilical to any of its customers. Cordlife Umbilical has the right to refuse to store and bank the cord blood of any customers in its sole discretion.

- (c) License Agreement re Trade Marks Trade Mark Licence Agreement between Cordlife Singapore and CBB pursuant to which Cordlife Singapore grants CBB the non-transferable right and licence within each CBB Jurisdiction (plus Australia and such further territories which the Parties may mutually agree in writing) to use the Cordlife name and use the Trade Marks in respect of permitted services.
- (d) Non-compete Agreement Non-compete Agreement between Cordlife Singapore and CBB pursuant to which Cordlife Singapore will not undertake any activities or carry on any business or trade that competes directly with the business carried on or proposed to be carried on by CBB in the CBB Jurisdiction.
- (e) Service Agreement Service Agreement between Cordlife Singapore and CBB. CBB will provide consulting services in the area of quality assurance and information technology (and such other areas as the parties may agree) to Cordlife Singapore. In consideration of these services, Cordlife Singapore will pay a direct cost plus margin to CBB.
- (f) Right of First Refusal Agreement The Right of First Refusal Agreement is between Cordlife Singapore and CBB. CBB grants a right of first refusal to Cordlife Singapore in relation to the businesses of Cordlife Sciences (India) Pvt Ltd, PT Cordlife Indonesia and Cordlife Medical Inc (Philippines) and to the shares or equity interests in those companies or any other entity which CBB owns and which engages in the business of cord blood banking in Indonesia, the Philippines and India.

3. Share capital structure

The following provides an overview (subject to the assumptions stated) of the share capital structure of CBB and Cordlife Singapore on implementation of the Capital Reduction (excluding the Singapore Class A Share).

| | Assumptions | CBB | Cordlife Singapore |
|--|-------------|-------------|--------------------|
| Existing issued shares as at the Record Date | | 145,360,920 | Nominal |
| Options | | | |
| (a) employees | | 5,674,770 | |
| (b) CBB Bond Options (see Schedule 4) | | 21,800,000 | |
| Proposed issued capital of CordIfie Singapore on implementation of Capital Reduction | | | 151,035,690 |

| Total | 172,835,690 | 172,835,690 |
|--|-------------|-------------|
| Additional Cordlife Singapore Shares issued to holder of CBB Bond Options (for no additional consideration) | | 21,800,000 |

As a consequence of the Capital Reduction, 5,116,435 of the Company's performance rights already allocated to employees and directors pursuant to the terms of the Company's approved Option and Performance Rights Plan will have their vesting dates brought forward to the date of approval of the Capital Reduction. Other than the advancement of vesting dates, the rights attaching to the performance rights (including the exercise price) will not vary as a result of the Capital Reduction.

4. Financials

Schedule 5 contains selected financial information detailing:

- (a) the proforma consolidated statement of financial position of Cordlife Singapore as a stand alone group (with the Mature Businesses); and
- (b) the proforma consolidated statement of financial position of CBB as a stand alone group (with the Developing Businesses), in each case is as at 30 June 2010 and 31 December 2010, and the proforma consolidated statement of income and proforma consolidated statement of cash flow for the year ended 30 June 2010 and six months ended 31 December 2010, assuming:

- (i) the resulting corporate structure after the Capital Reduction has always been in place; and
- (ii) the Capital Reduction has taken place as at 30 June 2010 and 31 December 2010 respectively, with no external valuation performed.

5. Cordlife Singapore Class A Share

One Class A Share in Cordlife Singapore prior to the implementation of the Capital Reduction will be allotted to CBB. In essence this a preference share which gives CBB the right to repurchase (but NOT the obligation) all of the Cordlife Singapore Shares in certain circumstances on the Long Stop Date. An overview of the terms for the Class A Share is contained in Schedule 4.

You should carefully note this is a right, not an obligation and there is no guarantee CBB will exercise such a right – especially as at the Long Stop Date the interests of CBB and Cordlife Singapore will not be aligned and both companies will have different shareholders simply as a result of trading of CBB shares on the ASX between the Ex Date and the Long Stop Date.

6. Rights attaching to the Cordlife Singapore Shares

Upon the distribution of the Cordlife Singapore Shares to CBB's shareholders, Cordlife Singapore shall only have one class of ordinary shares and one issued Class A Share. A brief outline of some of the key rights attaching to the Cordlife Singapore Shares are outlined below.

- (i) Dividends and distribution: Cordlife Singapore may by ordinary resolution of its shareholders (Cordlife Singapore Shareholders), declare dividends at a general meeting, but may not pay dividends in excess of the amount recommended by its board of directors. Dividends must be paid out of profits available for distribution. All dividends will be paid pro-rata among the Cordlife Singapore Shareholders in proportion to the amount paid up on each Cordlife Singapore Shareholder's Cordlife Singapore Shares, unless the rights attached to an issue of any Singapore Share provides otherwise.
- (ii) Voting rights: A holder of a Cordlife Singapore Share is entitled to attend, speak and vote at any general meeting in person or by proxy. Proxies need not be a Cordlife Singapore Shareholder. Except as otherwise provided in Cordlife Singapore's articles of association (Cordlife Singapore Articles), two or more Cordlife Singapore Shareholders must be present in person or by proxy to constitute a quorum at any general meeting. Under the Cordlife Singapore Articles, on a show of hands, every Cordlife Singapore Shareholder present in person and by proxy shall have one vote, and on a poll, every Cordlife Singapore Shareholder present in person or by proxy shall have one vote for each ordinary share which he holds or represents. A poll may be demanded in certain circumstances, including by the chairman of the meeting or by any Cordlife Singapore Shareholder present in person or by proxy and representing not less than 10.0% of the total voting rights of all Cordlife Singapore Shareholders having the right to attend and vote at the meeting or by not less than five Cordlife Singapore Shareholders having the right to vote at the meeting. In the case of an equality of votes, whether on a show of hands or a poll, the chairman of the meeting shall be entitled to a casting vote.
- (iii) Transfer: Cordlife Singapore Shares are transferable in accordance with the Articles of Association of Cordlife Singapore (but there is no market for Cordlife Singapore Shares and therefore there is expected to be limited or no secondary trading in Cordlife Singapore Shares.
- (iv) Winding up: On a winding up subject to the Singapore corporate laws and any preference rights, the Cordlife Singapore Shares will rank equally to the surplus assets available for distribution on liquidation.

7. Impact on creditors / share capital

- 7.1 Impact on creditors. The CBB Board believes that the Capital Reduction will not materially prejudice CBB's ability to pay its creditors as CBB has available to it sufficient cash reserves.
- 7.2 Impact on CBB's share capital: The issued share capital of CBB will not change as a result of the Capital Reduction other than:
 - (i) on the exercise of the CBB Option under the CBB Bond; or
 - (ii) under the terms of the where CBB in its discretion elects to repurchase the Cordlife Singapore Shares.

8. Regulatory requirements for approval of Capital Reduction

- 8.1 The provisions regulating the Capital Reduction are found in section 256B of the Corporations Act and require:
 - (a) the reduction to be fair and reasonable to CBB's shareholders as a whole;
 - (b) that the capital reduction not materially prejudice the company's ability to pay its creditors; and
 - (c) compliance with the notice provisions / shareholder approval detailed in section 256C.
- 8.2 Section 256C in essence requires a draft of the notice of meeting of shareholders to be lodged with ASIC prior to the dispatch of those documents to convene the relevant meeting of shareholders. The draft notice of meeting must contain all information known to CBB that is material to the decision on how to vote on the resolution to approve the Capital Reduction.
- 8.3 The CBB Board having reviewed the financial position of CBB is of the opinion that the Capital Reduction in the absence of a superior proposal is fair and reasonable to CBB's shareholders as a whole due to the potential to unlock inherent value in the Mature Businesses (where they may be valued on more traditional valuation methodology without the adverse impact of the cash requirements of the Developing Businesses)

9. CBB Board Recommendation

- 9.1 The CBB Board has also considered other alternatives for CBB, but believes the proposed Capital Reduction and resulting demerger provides the greatest potential value and certainty to CBB shareholders.
- 9.2 In the absence of a superior proposal, the Board unanimously recommends that CBB shareholders approve the Capital Reduction.
- 9.3 The CBB Board also recommends that CBB shareholders seek their own financial and taxation advice concerning the proposed Capital Reduction.

10. Additional information re Resolution 1

10.1 Subject to shareholders approving the Capital Reduction, the following indicative timetable* will apply:

| Shareholder Approval of Capital Reduction | 16 June 2011 |
|---|--------------|
| Ex Date (where CBB shares trade without the benefit of participation in the distribution of Cordlife Singapore Shares on implementation of the Capital Reduction) | 22 June 2011 |
| Record Date (for determining entitlements) | 28 June 2011 |
| Capital Reduction takes place (distribution of Cordlife Singapore Shares to the CBB shareholders entitled as at the Record Date) | 30 June 2011 |
| Cordlife Singapore Shares transferred to CBB Shareholders | 30 June 2011 |

- 10.2 ASX / ASIC waivers / modifications:
 - (a) ASIC CBB has obtained relief from ASIC on the following
 - Parts 6D.2 and 6D.3 of the Corporations Act for the "offer" of Cordlife Singapore Shares in the CBB notice of meeting for the proposed capital reduction; and
 - (ii) section 707(5) of the Corporations Act for any on sale of the Cordlife Singapore shares post the capital reconstruction.

The Notice of Meeting and this Explanatory Memorandum is substantially in the same format as lodged with ASIC on 12 May 2011.

- (b) ASX CBB has obtained relief from ASX with respect to the following
 - (i) ASX Listing Rule 7.3.2.

If CBB elects (under the terms of its Class A Share) that the demerger is to be effectively unwound (where the Liquidity Event is not achieved for any reason by the Long Stop Date), CBB would issue new CBB shares to the holders of CS Shares at that time. Under ASX LR 7.3.2 the Company must not issue the shares more than 3 months after the date of the shareholders meeting at which the approval for the issue was obtained (i.e. this meeting to which this Explanatory Memorandum applies). However, ASX has given relief under ASX Listing Rule 7.3.2 to enable CBB to issue the new CBB shares up to 31 March 2012 on an exercise by CBB of its rights as the holder of the Class A Share.

(ii) ASX Listing Rule 7.25

Resolution 1 relates to the approval of the Capital Reduction. ASX granted CBB a waiver in respect of Listing Rule 7.25 which would otherwise require that the share price of CBB shares post a re-organisation of capital exceed 20 cents. It is CBB's view that the Capital Reduction is not a re-organisation of capital, but for clarity ASX granted the waiver of Listing Rule 7.25.

(iii) ASX Listing Rule 7.3.8

Resolution 2 in respect of the Capital Reduction relates to the approval by CBB shareholders of the proposed issue of new CBB shares pursuant to ASX Listing Rule 7.1. Ordinarily Listing Rule 7.3.8 requires a voting exclusion statement with respect to ASX Listing Rule 7.1, the effect of which would be to exclude from voting all people who would participate in the proposed transfer of Cordlife Singapore Shares. As all CBB shareholders at the general meeting will have the same interest in Resolution 2 and if a voting exclusion statement was included, from a practical perspective, no CBB shareholder could vote on Resolution 2, the ASX granted a waiver from ASX Listing Rule 7.3.8.

- 10.3 Proxies. A CBB Shareholder entitled to attend and vote at the General Meeting is entitled to appoint not more than two proxies. The Proxy Form to be used is to be read in conjunction with, and accompanies this notice of meeting.
- 10.4 The Board of Directors is not aware of any other information which is relevant to the consideration by CBB Shareholders of the proposed resolution other than that which is detailed in the Notice.

11. Resolution 2

11.1 Short explanation – Resolution 2

Resolution 2 provides for authorisation for the CBB Board to issue new CBB Shares where a Liquidity Event is not achieved by Cordlife Singapore by the Long Stop Date and CBB in its discretion elects to repurchase all of the Cordlife Singapore Shares. Immediately prior to such repurchase, Cordlife Singapore would declare a dividend to its then shareholders out of the profits derived by Cordlife Singapore from 1 July 2011 until such date as is practical to the Long Stop Date.

In these circumstances Resolution 2 will permit the CBB Board to issue new CBB Shares to the holders of Cordlife Singapore Shares in consideration of CBB acquiring back Cordlife Singapore.

11.2 Regulatory requirements for Resolution 2

ASX Listing Rule 7.1 sets out the regulatory requirements that must be satisfied in relation to the issue of securities under Resolution 2. ASX Listing Rule 7.1 prohibits CBB issuing shares in excess of 15% of the existing share capital in any 12 consecutive month period without prior shareholder approval.

ASX Listing Rule 7.3 requires that a notice of meeting pursuant to which Shareholders are requested to consider approving an issue of shares pursuant to ASX Listing Rule 7.1 must include certain specified information in relation to the securities to be issued, as follows.

This information is set out below:

(a) maximum number of securities issued:

Where a Liquidity Event in respect of Cordlife Singapore does not occur by the Long Stop Date, CBB as the holder of the Class A Share in Cordlife Singapore shall have the right (but NOT obligation) to purchase (and the holders of Cordlife Singapore Shares are obliged to sell if CBB elects to purchase) the Cordlife Singapore Shares, representing the entire issued ordinary and paid up capital of the Cordlife Singapore, in return for which CBB shall issue and allot to the holders of the Cordlife Singapore Shares such number of new ordinary CBB shares calculated as follows:

$NS = (CSv / CBBv) \times IC$

Where:

NS – the number of new CBB shares to be issued under in aggregate on the exercise of the Class A Share rights to purchase the Cordlife Singapore Shares

CSv – the value of Cordlife Singapore as at the Ex Date for the Capital Reduction (as determined by an independent expert)

CBBv – the value of CBB as at the Ex Date (ie being equal to the capitalisation of CBB applying the closing bid price for CBB shares on the Record Date for the Capital Reduction)

IC – the number of CBB shares on issue as at the date of completion after the purchase of the Cordlife Singapore Shares on exercise of the rights of the holder of the Class A Share which will be calculated as at 30 June 2011 and remain fixed in number for the period to the Long Stop Date (subject to any capital reconstructions undertaken post 30 June 2011);

(b) date which the securities are to be issued

On the Long Stop Date

(c) issue price of the securities:

The consideration for the issue of the new CBB shares is the transfer to CBB by the holders of the Cordlife Singapore Shares pursuant to the terms of the Cordlife Singapore Constitution of all of the Cordlife Singapore Shares with the result that Cordlife Singapore will revert to a wholly owned subsidiary of CBB

(d) names of the allottee/s (if known):

The then holders of the Cordlife Singapore Shares as at the Long Stop Date

(e) terms of the securities:

Fully paid ordinary shares in the capital of CBB

(f) the intended use of the funds raised:

No cash funds are raised by the allotment, rather CBB acquires the Cordlife Singapore Shares

11.3 Calculation of the number of CBB shares

As outlined in section 11.2(a) above, an independent valuation of Cordlife Singapore is to be undertaken as at or immediately prior to the Ex Date. CBB proposes to update the market before the opening of trading on the Ex Date as to that valuation. For the purposes of calculation of the number of new CBB shares which may be issued under the formula outlined in section 11.2(a) above, CBB is to apply that independent valuation of Cordlife Singapore (as at the Ex Date) and determine the market capitalisation of CBB as at the Record Date. CBB proposes to provide a further update to the market at that time as to the number of shares which may be issued in accordance with the formula outlined in section 11.2(a) above. For guidance, the book value 31/12/10 of Cordlife Singapore in the CBB records is AUST$28,986,000. By way of example (which may not be indicative of actual values determined as at the "Ex Date") applying the formula in section 11.2(a) above –

Assumptions for example below:

 CSv = Aust$28,986,000 (book value 31/12/10)
 CBBv = Aust$50.876,322 (being CBB market capitalisation at CBB closing bid price of 35 cents at 12/5/11)
 Current issued CBB share capital = 145,360,920 shares

Example NS = CSv / CBBv x IC

NS = Aust$28,986,000 / Aust$50.876,322 x (145,360,920 + NS)

NS = 192,479,198

11.4 Board recommendation

The Board unanimously recommends that members vote in favour of Resolution 2.

11.5 Voting Exclusion Statement – Resolution 2

As all CBB Shareholders have the same interest in Resolution 2, no CBB Shareholder is prohibited from voting on Resolution 2.

12. Resolution 3

12.1 Short explanation - resolution 3

In May 2011 CBB entered into the CBB Bond and secured additional funding of A$7,412,000 which is intended to be applied by CBB in the continued development of the Developing Businesses – which working capital will be necessary to ensure CBB has sufficient capital post the Capital Reduction.

Under the terms of the CBB Bond, CBB also granted to the CBB Bond holder the CBB Option to subscribe for 21,800,000 CBB shares (plus upon the Capital Reduction being approved, an option for the CBB Bond holder to subscribe for a corresponding number of Cordlife Singapore Shares at no additional consideration).

Where the CBB Option is exercised, under the terms of the CBB Bond deed, the proceeds due to CBB on exercise of the CBB Option is to be applied towards the amount otherwise due to be repaid by CBB under the CBB Bond (including all accumulated interest).

The issue of the CBB Option to the CBB Bond holder was within the 15% limitation imposed by ASX Listing Rule 7.1, however CBB is now seeking shareholder ratification and approval pursuant to ASX Listing Rule 7.4 for the grant of the CBB Option, which ratification will effectively refresh the Company's ability to issue further securities under its 15% authority pursuant to ASX Listing Rule 7.1.

12.2 Information required under ASX Listing Rules 7.5 - resolution 3

ASX Listing Rule 7.5 requires that the meeting documents concerning a proposed resolution to approve an issue of securities in accordance with ASX Listing Rule 7.4 must include the following information:

(a) The maximum number of securities the entity is to issue:

An option entitling the CBB Bond holder on exercise to subscribe for 21,800,000 CBB shares

(b) The issue price of the securities:

Issued in consideration of the Bond holder subscribing for the CBB Bond

(c) The names of the allottee/s.

The CBB Bond holder (namely City Challenge Global Limited (BVI Number 1635774).

(d) The terms of the securities:

An option to subscribe for 21,800,000 CBB shares, which option has an exercise price of $0.40 per CBB Share and an expiry of 2 years after issue - which options may be exercised by the option holder at any time up to the expiry date but is automatically exercised on the occurrence of a Liquidity Event – with the proceeds on exercise being applied towards the amount otherwise due to be repaid by CBB under the CBB Bond (including all accumulated interest).

(e) The intended use of the funds raised

No cash funds were raised from the grant of the options but CBB secured additional funding under the CBB Bond of A$7,412,000.

12.3 Effect of passing of resolution 3

Resolution 3, if passed, will enable CBB to retain the flexibility to issue equity securities within the next 12 months up to the 15% threshold without the requirement to obtain prior Shareholder approval.

12.4 CBB Board recommendation

The CBB Board unanimously recommends shareholders vote in favour of Resolution 3.

12.5 Voting Exclusion Statement – Resolution 3

In accordance with the ASX Listing Rules, the Company will disregard any votes cast on Resolution 3 by:

- (a) City Challenge Global Limited and
- (b) any associate of City Challenge Global Limited

However CBB need not disregard a vote if:

- (a) it is cast by a person as a proxy for a person who is entitled to vote, in accordance with the directions on the proxy form; or
- (b) it is cast by the person chairing the meeting as proxy for a person who is entitled to vote, in accordance with a direction on the proxy form to vote as the proxy decides.

Schedule 1 – Overview Cordlife Singapore (after Capital Reduction)

- 1.1 Background: This material has been prepared on the assumption CBB shareholders approve the Capital Reduction / demerger, with the demerger of Cordlife Singapore being implemented on 30 June 2011.
- 1.2 History: CordLife Pte Ltd (Cordlife Singapore) was incorporated in May 2001, in the Republic of Singapore. Cordlife Singapore operates directly in Singapore and through its subsidiary Cordlife (Hong Kong) Ltd, in Hong Kong (Cordlife Hong Kong).
- 1.3 Guangzhou Municipality Tianhe Nuoya Bioenineering Co. Ltd (GZ): Cordlife Singapore owns an indirect 10% interest in GZ, which was acquired in September 2010. GZ is the operator of the sole cord blood banking licensee in the Guangdong province in China. The cord blood banks in Singapore and Hong Kong were licensed and began operations in June 2002 and March 2005 respectively. The cord blood bank operated by GZ received its cord blood banking license in June 2006. In May 2007 China Stem Cell South Company Limited (CSC South), a 90% owned subsidiary of China Cord Blood Corporation (NYSE: CO) acquired 100% of GZ equity interest. As described above, in November 2009, CBB purchased 10% of CSC South.
- 1.4 Corporate structure: Cordlife Singapore will have the following corporate structure (post the demerger):

1.5 Current business activities: Cordlife Singapore provides its services through its network of collaborating healthcare providers and directly to expectant mothers (clients), through various well developed sales and marketing platforms.

In Hong Kong, Cordlife Singapore operates through its wholly owned subsidiary Cordlife Hong Kong. It also indirectly owns 10% of the sole licensed cord blood banking operator in the province of Guangdong.

Substantially all its revenue is generated from service fees for the storage of cord blood on behalf of private clients. Clients contract with Cordlife over a period of 18 or 21 years (again, depending on the age of majority in the respective countries) and pay for the services either at the time of subscribing for the service or in installments. The latter payment structure is adopted by approximately 75% of Cordlife Singapore existing client base of over 30,000. After the initial contract period, the child (then an adult) may choose to extend the service when he or she reaches the age of majority.

As stated above, private cord blood banking involves the collection, testing, processing and storage of cord blood for expectant parents who choose to subscribe for such services for the sole benefit of their children and their family members. The markets in Singapore and Hong Kong are primarily served by private banks, although a public bank is available in each jurisdiction.

In Singapore there are two private banks serving a market of approximately 40,000 live births per year, as compared to Hong Kong, where there are three major banks (including Cordlife Singapore) serving a market of approximately 80,000 clients live births per year in private hospitals. Currently, private cord blood banks are not permitted to collect cord blood from clients delivering in public hospitals.

In addition, GZ is also required by the government of the People's Republic of China (PRC) to store cord blood units donated by the public and offer matching units to patients in need of transplants (which is sometimes referred to as the "matching services" in section 1.10(i) below).

- 1.6 Business model and intentions for growth of the business: Cordlife Singapore's strategy is to grow the market for umbilical cord blood services and its market share in Singapore and Hong Kong through the following:
 - (i) enhance its education and awareness programmes to ensure coverage of client segments which are currently under served;
 - (ii) invest further in marketing of its brand, enhance its customer focus and focus on cost control and productivity; and
 - (iii) seek additional, incremental, strategically sound growth opportunities to expand its businesses in other geographies in Asia (excluding Indonesia, India and the Philippines),
- 1.7 Board composition: If the demerger proceeds pursuant to the Capital Reduction, the Cordlife Singapore Board will initially comprise:

Chairman and Non-Executive Director – Dr. Ho, Choon Hou

Dr. Ho a co-founder of Cordlife Singapore. He is currently a Director at Southern Capital Group Limited, a private equity firm, which is principally involved in the management of investments for institutional investors. In 2004, he won the National Healthcare Group Post-Graduate Scholarship. Dr Ho Choon Hou read Medicine at the University of Sheffield. He has a Master of Medicine (Surgery) from the National University of Singapore and obtained membership into the Royal College of Surgeons (Edinburgh). He obtained his Masters of Business Administration (Honours) from the University of Chicago.

Chief Executive Officer and Executive Director YEE, Pinh Jeremy (see management team overview in section 1.8 below).

The CBB Board prior to the demerger pursuant to the Capital Reduction intends also to appoint at least two independent directors to Cordlife Singapore should the demerger proceed.

As General Manager she is responsible for the day-to-day operations and is in-charge of the planning and execution of the business strategy. She has extensive experience in management and had worked in Hong Kong and Singapore at managerial level for more than 10 years before joining CordLife Hong Kong. Prior to CordLife, she had worked for a multi-national pharmaceutical company and also worked for a Singapore based company as General Manager She graduated from the University of South Australia and also gained her Master in Business Administration with the same University.

Cordlife Singapore intends to appoint a Chief Financial Officer after the demerger.

- 1.9 Working capital requirements: It is the intention that Cordlife Singapore will on a stand alone basis be sufficiently financed to continue the operation of the Mature Businesses as the Mature Businesses are currently cash flow positive.
- 1.10 Risk Factors re Cordlife Singapore: Investing in Cordlife Singapore Shares carries risks unusual to a comparable Australian company as Cordlife Singapore is incorporated in Singapore and is governed by the company laws and regulations of Singapore. In addition, after the demerger, Cordlife Singapore will not be subject to the ASX Listing Rules and accordingly holders of Cordlife Singapore Shares will not have the same level of protection to shareholders of listed companies on the ASX.

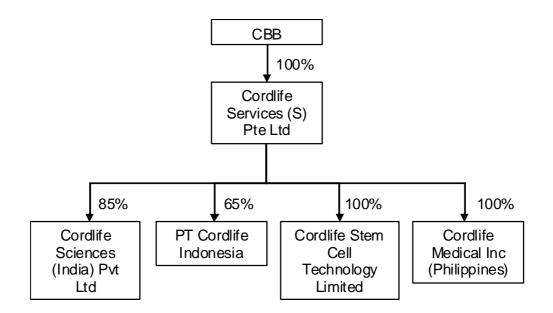

In addition to the differences in laws in Australia and Singapore, given the nature of the businesses of Cordlife Singapore, the following is an outline of some of the key risk considerations. This list is not exhaustive and it is recommended CBB shareholders obtain their own investment, legal, accounting and tax advice in respect of both the demerger and continuing to hold Cordlife Singapore Shares if the demerger is implemented.

- Cordlife Singapore will be an unlisted, private company and accordingly the Cordlife Singapore Board actions will not be subject to the same controls and shareholder protection as a shareholder would have in respect of shares in a listed public company. For example where the Capital Reduction proceeds. Cordlife Singapore will NOT be subject to the application of the ASX Listing Rules or the Australian Corporations Act post 30 June 2011;
- (ii) should a Liquidity Event not occur by the Long Stop Date and should CBB exercise it rights (as holder of the Class A Share) to 'unwind' the demerger, there is no guarantee that the value of Cordlife Singapore will be same at the time of the 'unwinding' as it was at the time of the demerger. For reasons including the performance of Cordlife Singapore after the demerger, any changes in Singapore law and the actions taken by the (independent) Cordlife Singapore Board after the demerger, Cordlife Singapore could be worth more or less than it is at the date of the demerger.
- (iii) There will be limited or no secondary trading in Cordlife Singapore Shares;
- (iv) If all or part of the demand for stem cells is met by matching cord blood units (described in section 1.5 above) donated by the public to patients in need of transplants, demand for Cordlife Singapore and its subsidiaries' (Cordlife Singapore Group) services may decline, and its business and financial results may be materially adversely affected;

- (v) Cordlife Singapore Group currently operates its business only in Singapore and Hong Kong and it has an indirect interest in GZ. As a result of this geographic concentration, a downturn in the local economy or birth-rate level of Singapore, Hong Kong or Guangdong (PRC) could impair its growth and adversely affect its financial results;
- (vi) Cordlife Singapore Group's prospects may be adversely affected if there are no new developments in medical science to overcome some of the current technical and therapeutic limitations on the use of cord blood in medical treatment;
- (vii) The profitability of Cordlife Singapore Group's business is subject to market acceptance of cord blood banking in the countries in which Cordlife Singapore operates;
- (viii) Changes in the cord blood banking industry dynamics and technologies could render Cordlife Singapore Group's services uncompetitive or obsolete, which could cause its revenues to decline;
- (ix) Unauthorised use of Cordlife Singapore Group's brand name by third parties may adversely affect its business;
- (x) Cordlife Singapore's proposed strategic partnership with CBB may not be successful (as outlined in the material contracts detailed in Schedule 4);
- (xi) Cordlife Singapore's ability to attract and retain skilled management personnel could materially affect its business, results of operations and financial condition;
- (xii) Economic, political, legal and regulatory conditions in the countries in which Cordlife Singapore operates may materially and adversely affect its business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects and the market price of the Cordlife Singapore Shares;
- (xiii) Changes in government legislation, regulations or policies in the countries in which Cordlife Singapore operates which affect the cord blood banking industry or Cordlife Singapore's inability to obtain, renew or maintain Cordlife Singapore's statutory and regulatory licenses required to operate Cordlife Singapore's business may adversely affect Cordlife Singapore's business operations;
- (xiv) Uncertainty in the PRC legal system may make it difficult for GZ to secure regulatory consents or predict the outcome of any disputes in which it may be involved in or which may adversely affect its business;
- (xv) Singapore laws contain provisions that could discourage a take-over of Cordlife Singapore; and
- (xvi) There has been no valuation of Cordlife Singapore and no prior market for the Cordlife Singapore Shares.

Schedule 2 – Overview CBB (after Capital Reduction)

- 1.1 Background: The following material has been prepared on the assumption CBB shareholders approve the Capital Reduction with the demerger of Cordlife Singapore being implemented on 30 June 2011. Accordingly the information in this Schedule 2 is based on CBB on a stand alone basis after the demerger with Cordlife Singapore.
- 1.2 Current business activities: Clients enter a contract with CBB covering a period of 18 or 21 years (depending on the age of majority in the respective countries) and pay for the services (storage of cord blood) either at the time of subscribing for the service or by instalments. Approximately more than 80% of the existing clients have opted for the instalment payments. This allows the CBB to enjoy a steady stream of cash inflow over the contract period. After the initial contract, the child (then an adult) may choose to extend the service when he has reached the age of majority.
- 1.3 Revenue: Currently, substantially all CBB's revenue is generated from service fees from its cord blood banking operations in India, Indonesia and the Philippines, these businesses commenced operations in October 2007, April 2008 and February 2010 respectively.
- 1.4 Cord blood industry: The cord blood banking industry typically provides two types of service private and public cord blood banking. The former involves the collection, testing, processing and storage of cord blood for expectant parents who choose to subscribe for such services for the sole benefit of their children and their family members. Public cord blood banking refers to parents who choose to donate their cord blood. The donated cord blood is subsequently made available to anyone, if it is a match for anyone who requires a stem cell transplant or for medical research.
- 1.5 Geographical considerations: In India, Indonesia and Philippines, the markets are primarily served by private banking. CBB is the sole licensed operator in Indonesia and Philippines at the moment. In India the market is served by several private banks.
- 1.6 CBB corporate structure: Should the demerger of Cordlife Singapore proceed in accordance with the proposed Capital Reduction, CBB will have the following corporate structure (excluding all dormant entities and investment companies):

1.7 Business model and intentions for growth of the business: Should the demerger proceed (with CBB shareholders approving the Capital Reduction) CBB intends to continue to be an ASX listed company with the objective of having sufficient capital to grow its cord blood banking operations to profitability in India, Indonesia and Philippines. The demerger will allow the management of CBB to better focus its resources in these developing countries.

Through alliances and licensing arrangements, CBB also intends to develop and market new products and services that are complementary to cord blood banking and/or the cord blood banking market, such as providing clients with processing and storage services of cord tissue.

In Indonesia and Philippines, CBB intends to leverage on its advantage as the largest operator in those regions to grow the current market through awareness and educational platforms tailored to the respective markets. In India CBB is expanding coverage, aiming to take market share in local jurisdictions where it currently does not have a presence.

- 1.8 CBB Board composition: If the Capital Reduction proceeds, CBB board of directors will remain unchanged, other than for the resignation of Jeremy Yee, who will assume the position Chief Executive Officer of Cordlife Singapore.
- 1.9 CBB Management team: Should the Capital Reduction proceed, the CBB senior management team will comprise:

Executive Director and Chief Executive Officer: Dr FANG, Steven

Dr Fang founded CordLife in Singapore in 2001 and negotiated the merger with Cytomatrix in 2003 which led to the establishment of CyGenics in 2004. CyGenics was subsequently renamed Cordlife Limited in 2007. He previously worked for Sterling Winthrop, Baxter and Becton Dickinson, where he undertook business development assignments in Malaysia, Korea, Taiwan, and the Philippines and spearheaded the establishment of private dialysis centres. At Becton Dickinson, he was the General Manager for Singapore, Malaysia and Vietnam. Steven is currently a council member of the Singapore British Business Council and International Enterprise Singapore's Action Community for Entrepreneurship – Internationalisation Action Crucible (IAC). He was a winner of the Spirit of Enterprise award and Outstanding Entrepreneurship Award (Asia Pacific) from APEA in 2003 and 2010 respectively. Steven holds a doctorate in Business Administration in Biotechnology with the University of South Australia and a MBA in Corporate Strategy as well as a first degree in Computer Engineering.

The CBB Board intends to undertake a review and appoint a new Chief Financial Officer where the demerger proceeds.

1.10 CBB working capital requirements:

CBB (excluding Cordlife Singapore) at 31 December 2010 had cash reserves of $8,493,000. In addition CBB has entered into the CBB Bond pursuant to which it has secured additional funding of A$7,412,000.

Taking into account existing cash reserves and the proceeds of the CBB Bond, CBB believes that it has sufficient working capital to continue to invest into the Developing Businesses in the near term to at least the same level as contributed in prior years.

1.11 CBB Risk Factors: There are always risks associated with investing in or continuing to hold shares, and to a degree the business risks relating to holding shares in CBB and to holding Cordlife Singapore Shares are similar - other than the Mature Businesses held by Cordlife Singapore have a positive cash flow and greater market penetration.

Without intending to be exhaustive, the following is intended as a summary of some of the key risks of continuing to hold shares in the CBB post the Capital Reduction of Cordlife Singapore:

- (i) If the proposed demerger proceeds, there would be expected to be a decrease in value of the CBB shares (as the Mature Businesses will be held by Cordlife Singapore which will become a stand alone company) and CBB's shares will reflect the risks of continued investment and development of the Developing Businesses;
- (ii) CBB's Developing Businesses may not be as successful due to the changes in management personnel;
- (iii) third party collaborations and opportunities that may have arisen or been developed with the combined Cordlife group (prior to the proposed Capital Reduction) may not develop, or develop to the same extent, with the changes to the geographical emphasis of the continuing Developing Businesses remaining with CBB);
- (iv) sufficiency of funding and ability to attract further investment, and on favourable terms, in the future;
- (v) CBB relies on its rights under the Trade Mark Agreement with Cordlife Singapore to use the Cordlife name and trademark.

Schedule 3 – Taxation considerations re Capital Reduction

Important note: All shareholders are advised to obtain their own advice as to the taxation implications of the Capital Reduction. The comments in this section are addressed to CBB shareholders holding their CBB shares on capital account and who will hold their Cordlife Singapore shares (after the Capital Reduction) on capital account.

It does not deal with CBB shareholders who are holding their CBB shares, or who will hold their Cordlife Singapore Shares (after the Capital Reduction), as trading stock or otherwise on revenue account.

This section considers the taxation implications for shareholders resident in Australia, Singapore, Hong Kong and the British Virgin Islands. The comments in this section do not deal with the circumstances of shareholders resident in other jurisdictions and such shareholders should obtain their own tax advice in respect of the taxation implications of the Capital Reduction in their jurisdiction of residence.

1.1 Australian taxation implications:

(a) Return of capital

- (i) The Capital Reduction constitutes a CGT Event G1. It results in a reduction in the cost base of a shareholder's share in CBB by the value of the Cordlife Singapore Shares. Where the amount of the Capital Reduction exceeds the cost base of the share then the cost base is reduced to zero and any excess is treated as a capital gain. Where the shareholder is an individual, superannuation fund or trust and the share has been held for more than 12 months then the capital gain is eligible to be treated as a discount capital gain.
- (ii) Where the Australian Commissioner of Taxation forms the view that the Capital Reduction has been made in substitution for the payment of a dividend, he may determine to treat part or all of the Capital Reduction as an unfranked dividend.
- (iii) Where the transaction is unwound and the value of the CBB shares received in consideration for the disposal of the Cordlife Singapore Shares is less than or equal to the cost base of the Cordlife Singapore Shares then Australian resident, individual, trust and superannuation fund shareholders will suffer a disadvantage (as against the position where the transaction had not occurred) as the new CBB shares issued to them will, for the purposes of the capital gains tax discount provisions in Division 115 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997, be acquired at the time of their issue and therefore they will need to hold those shares for more than 12 months from the issue date in order to access the CGT discount on a disposal of those shares.
- (iv) CBB has made an application to the ATO for a Ruling outlining the income tax consequences arising from the proposed Capital Reduction. Whilst CBB's legal representatives have had pre-lodgement discussions with the ATO regarding the matter, CBB does not expect the Ruling to be issued in final form by the date of the CBB shareholder approval.

(b) Dividend distributions by Cordlife Singapore

Australian resident shareholders will, generally, be subject to tax in respect of dividends paid to them in respect of their Cordlife Singapore Shares.

(c) Transfer of Cordlife Singapore Shares to CBB

Where the Capital Reduction transaction is unwound (due to the exercise by CBB of its rights as the holder of the Class A Share in Cordlife Singapore) and Cordlife Singapore Shares are transferred to CBB, this will constitute a CGT Event A1 to Australian resident shareholders in respect of their Cordlife Singapore Shares.

If the value of the CBB shares received is greater than the cost base held by the shareholder in their Cordlife Singapore Shares a capital gain will be realised. Shareholders may choose scrip for scrip rollover relief so as to defer recognition of that capital gain until they dispose of the CBB shares acquired. Where scrip for scrip rollover is chosen then, for the purposes of the capital gains tax discount provisions in Division 115 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936, shareholders will be deemed to have acquired their newly issued CBB shares at the time at which they acquired the Cordlife Singapore Shares that they have disposed.

If the value of the CBB shares received is less than the cost base held by the shareholder in their Cordlife Singapore Shares then a capital loss will be realised.

(d) Gains on disposal of Cordlife Singapore Shares

Generally, Australian resident shareholders holding their shares in Cordlife Singapore on capital account will be subject to Australian capital gains tax in respect of any gain on disposal of their Cordlife Singapore Shares.

1.2 Singapore taxation implications:

(a) Income Tax

- (i) Return of capital
 - (A) The Capital Reduction involves the distribution of the entire issued ordinary share capital of Cordlife Singapore and represents a return of capital. Consequently the cost of investment held by shareholders in CBB will be reduced by the amount of capital returned.
 - (B) For Singapore income tax purposes, a return of capital would generally be treated as capital in nature, and would not be taxable to the shareholders in Singapore, except in certain cases, such as shareholders who are traders in securities or who have classified their investments as trading stocks, marketable securities or short-term investments and shareholders who had not the intention to hold the shares as long-term investments.
- (ii) Dividend distributions by Cordlife Singapore
 - (A) Singapore does not impose withholding tax on dividends paid to Singapore resident or non-Singapore resident shareholders.
 - (B) Under the one-tier tax corporate tax system in Singapore, the tax paid by a Singapore tax resident company is a final tax and the after-tax profits of the company can be distributed to its shareholders as onetier tax exempt dividends.
 - (C) Where Cordlife Singapore is tax resident in Singapore, Cordlife Singapore may distribute one-tier tax exempt dividends to its shareholders. The dividend will be exempt from Singapore income tax in the hands of the shareholders.

- (iii) Gains on disposal of Cordlife Singapore Shares including through a transfer of Cordlife Singapore Shares to CBB
 - (A) Singapore does not impose tax on capital gains. However, gains may be construed to be of an income nature and subject to Singapore income tax if they arise from activities which are regarded as the carrying on of a trade or business and the gains are sourced in Singapore.
 - (B) As such, any profits from the disposal of Cordlife Singapore Shares, if regarded as capital profit, are not taxable in Singapore unless the seller is regarded as having derived these profits as Singaporesourced profits from carrying on a trade or business of dealing in securities, in which case, the disposal profits would be taxable as trading profits.

(b) Stamp Duty

Stamp duty is payable on an instrument of transfer of Cordlife Singapore Shares at the rate of S$0.20 for every S$100 or any part thereof of the consideration or market value of the shares, whichever is higher. The transferee is liable for stamp duty, unless there is an agreement to the contrary. However, no stamp duty is payable if no instrument of transfer is executed or if the instrument of transfer is executed outside Singapore. Stamp duty may be payable if the instrument of transfer executed outside Singapore is subsequently received in Singapore.

(c) Goods and Services Tax ("GST")

(i) Return of Capital

The distribution of shares in Cordlife Singapore in specie to the shareholders would not be subject to any GST.

- (ii) Sale of Cordlife Singapore Shares
 - (A) The sale of shares in Cordlife Singapore by a shareholder belonging in Singapore to another person belonging in Singapore is an exempt supply not subject to GST. Any GST (for example, GST on brokerage) incurred by the shareholder in connection with the making of this exempt supply would generally become an additional cost to the shareholder unless the shareholder satisfies certain conditions prescribed under the GST legislation or by the Comptroller of GST.
 - (B) Where the shares are sold by a GST-registered shareholder to a person belonging outside Singapore (and who is outside Singapore at the time of supply), the sale would constitute a taxable supply subject to GST at zero-rate. Consequently, any GST (for example, GST on brokerage) incurred by him in the making of this zero-rated supply for the purpose of his business would, subject to the conditions prescribed under the GST legislation or by the Comptroller of GST, be recoverable as an input tax credit in his GST returns.

- (iii) GST incurred on expenses in connection with the purchase and sale of the shares
 - (A) Services such as brokerage and handling services rendered by a GSTregistered person to a shareholder belonging in Singapore in connection with the shareholder's purchase or sale of the shares will be subject to GST at the prevailing rate (currently 7%). Similar services rendered contractually to a shareholder belonging outside Singapore are subject to GST at zero-rate provided that the shareholder is not physically present in Singapore at the time the services are performed and the services do not directly benefit a person who belongs in Singapore.
 - (B) Shareholders should seek their own tax advice on the recoverability of GST incurred on expenses in connection with the purchase and sale of the shares.

1.3 Hong Kong taxation implications:

(a) Profits Tax

(i) Return of capital

Hong Kong does not impose tax on gains of a capital nature. The Capital Return by way of a distribution of Cordlife Singapore Shares is generally regarded as capital sums in the hands of the shareholders and therefore is not subject to Hong Kong Profits Tax unless the shareholders have the intention to hold the shares for trading purposes.

(ii) Dividend distributions by Cordlife Singapore

Hong Kong does not tax dividend income in the hands of the shareholders as a matter of law or practice.

(iii) Gains on disposal of Cordlife Singapore Shares – including through a transfer of Cordlife Singapore Shares to CBB

Hong Kong does not impose tax on capital gains or trading gains sourced outside Hong Kong. As such, gains on disposal of unlisted Cordlife Singapore Shares are not subject to Hong Kong Profits Tax if the shareholders hold the shares for long term capital investment purposes. If the gains are regarded by the Hong Kong tax authority as trading in nature, the gains would generally not be subject to Hong Kong Profits Tax if both the contract of purchase (i.e. the Capital Reduction agreement) and contract of sale of the shares are negotiated, concluded and affected outside Hong Kong. Having said that, the Hong Kong tax authority may also look at totality of factors, including factors other than the place where the purchase and sale contracts are effected, to ascertain the location of the relevant operations (i.e. the source) that produce the gains to determine its taxability. In Hong Kong, as the onus of proof is on the taxpayers, sufficient documentation should be available to substantiate that the location of the relevant operations is outside Hong Kong to support the offshore claim on the trading gains.

(b) Stamp Duty

On the basis that the Cordlife Singapore Shares are not listed in Hong Kong and neither is the share register maintained in Hong Kong, the transfer of Cordlife Singapore Shares will not trigger stamp duty in Hong Kong.

1.4 British Virgin Islands taxation implications:

In the British Virgin Islands, there is no tax levied on capital gains. Also, all British Virgin Islands companies are exempt from all taxes in the British Virgin Islands, with the exception of transactions involving real estate situated in the British Virgin Islands.

Further, individuals are not subject to tax on investment income in the British Virgin Islands. Moreover, personal income tax payable under the Income Tax Ordinance is presently applied at a 0% rate.

Therefore, there should be no adverse income tax implications arising in the British Virgin Islands for the shareholders of CBB from any of the proposed transactions.

Schedule 4 – Additional information for Resolution 1

- (b) rank in priority over the Cordlife Singapore Shares and all other shares of Cordlife Singapore for the return of assets or capital for the amount of Singapore $1.00 in the event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of Cordlife Singapore, but shall not thereafter participate in the surplus profits or assets of Cordlife Singapore.
- (c) not be entitled to vote at a General Meeting.
- (d) shall be automatically redeemed if CBB is delisted or disposes of all, or substantially all, of its assets.
- (e) Where a Liquidity Event does not occur by the Long Stop Date, CBB as the holder of the Class A Share shall have the right (but not obligation) to repurchase (and the Cordlife Singapore Shareholders are obliged to sell if CBB elects to purchase) the Cordlife Singapore Shares, representing the entire issued and paid up capital of the Cordlife Singapore, in return for which CBB shall issue and allot to the Cordlife Singapore Shareholders such number of ordinary CBB shares as follows:

 $NS = (CSv / CBBv) \times IC$

Where:

NS – the number of new CBB shares to be issued under in aggregate on the exercise of the Class A Share rights to purchase the Cordlife Singapore Shares

CSv – the value of Cordlife Singapore as at the Ex Date for the Capital Reduction (as determined by an independent expert)

CBBv – the value of CBB as at the Ex Date of the Capital Reduction (ie being equal to the capitalisation of CBB applying the closing bid price for CBB shares on the Record Date of the Capital Reduction)

IC – the number of CBB shares on issue as at the date of completion after the purchase of the Cordlife Singapore Shares on exercise of the rights of the holder of the Class A Share (that is the aggregate issued shares in CBB after the new issue of CBB shares on acquisition of the Cordlife Singapore Shares).

1.2 CBB Bond

CBB and Cordlife Singapore have entered into the CBB Bond with City Challenge pursuant to which it has secured funding of A$7,412,000.

As part of the terms for issue of the CBB Bond, CBB granted to the Bond holder an option which converts into 21,800,000 CBB Shares at an exercise price of 40 cents per CBB share (CBB Option).

In addition, on the approval of the Capital Reduction; Cordlife Singapore will issue City Challenge the Singapore Shares Option which on exercise permits City Challenge to subscribe for that number of Cordlife Singapore Shares which would be issued to City Challenge if City Challenge had exercised the CBB Option immediately prior to the above Ex Date, at zero exercise price and otherwise on the terms set out in the Singapore Shares Option. The Singapore Shares Option cannot be exercised if the CBB Option had already been exercised prior to the date of the grant of the Singapore Shares Option.

On exercise of the CBB Option, CBB is treated as having repaid the CBB Bond and all accumulated interest under the CBB Bond with those proceeds applied towards the exercise price under the CBB Option.

The Bond has a Redemption Value of A$9,802,370 and a Maturity Date being 2 years from the date of the CBB Bond.

Subject to the conditions of the CBB Bond (including the automatic exercise of the CBB Option and the corresponding deemed redemption of the CBB Bond on the occurrence of a Trigger Event) CBB will redeem the CBB Bond on the Maturity Date and

- (i) if the redemption is not in conjunction with the exercise of the CBB Option, pay the Redemption Value in full to City Challenge (for the outstanding amount of the CBB Bond which has not been the subject of an Early Redemption) on the Maturity Date, in which case the CBB Option and the Singapore Shares Option will immediately lapse on the Maturity Date; or
- (ii) if the redemption is in conjunction with an exercise of the CBB Option, redeem for an amount equal to the Issue Price of the CBB Bond (A$7,412,000) plus the Option Exercise Bond Yield (15% per annum on the Issue Price compounding annually). This amount is to be applied by CBB on behalf of City Challenge in paying the outstanding exercise price of the CBB Option.

Either CBB or City Challenge at any time after 12 months may require the CBB Bond to be redeemed prior to the Maturity Date, in which case CBB shall pay City Challenge the Issue Price of A$7,412,000 plus the Early Redemption Yield (being a pro rata payment 15% per annum on the Issue Price compounding annually).

For the period that the CBB Bond is outstanding, to the extent City Challenge must pay taxes on the CBB Bond, CBB will bear those taxes.

CBB agrees to pay interest on any overdue amount at the rate of the 17% pa.

CBB indemnifies City Challenge against any claim, cost, loss, damage or expense made against, suffered, incurred or payable by it, as a result of or in connection with (i) the enforcement of or the preservation or exercise of a right, remedy or power under any Bond Document, (ii) the occurrence of an Event of Default; or (iii) liability for payment of Taxes arising under the CBB Bond documents.

City Challenge may terminate the CBB Bond upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, in which case CBB must pay the Early Redemption Yield and in so doing the CBB Option and the Singapore Shares Option will automatically immediately lapse and not be capable of exercise by City Challenge. The Events of Default include: a failure to pay; CBB does not maintain a minimum cash balance to meet at least 100% of its principal obligations (being the Issue Price of the CBB Bond); CBB fails to remedy a default under the Bond Deed within 5 days; a receiver or administrator is appointed to CBB; insolvency events occur or there occurs a material adverse effect with respect to a warranty provided under the Bond Deed.

CBB and City Challenge provide warranties to each other conventional for this type of transaction.

The CBB Bond is not transferable for the period of 12 months from issue, but after this period it is transferrable together with the CBB Option and the Singapore Shares Option (if granted prior to the date of transfer). The CBB Bond is governed by the law in force in Victoria.

Trigger Event: means the occurrence of both:

- (a) CBB's shareholders approving a scheme of arrangement to be carried out in relation to the Issuer in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth); or
- (b) CBB issuing a notice of general meeting to approve the sale or disposal of all or a substantial part of the assets of the CBB (including without limitation a divesting by CBB of any substantial business operations on a capital reduction), whether conditional or unconditional;

- (c) a return is generated in respect of the Cordlife Singapore Shares (for example via a takeover or trade sale) of no less than 6x PE ratio of 2010 audited net income of Cordlife Pte Ltd, or
- (d) the sale for cash of all, or substantially all, of the assets or main undertaking of Cordlife Singapore.
