3.6 Acceptance of Applications under the Entitlement Offer

Lodgement of a completed Entitlement and Acceptance Form creates a legally binding contract between the Applicant and the Company for the number of New Shares applied for and is not revocable. The Entitlement and Acceptance Form does not need to be signed to be a binding acceptance of New Shares. If the Entitlement and Acceptance Form is not completed correctly it may still be treated as valid. The Directors' decision as to whether to treat the acceptance as valid and how to construe, amend or complete the Entitlement and Acceptance Form is final.

SECTION 4 PURPOSE AND EFFECTS OF THE OFFER

4.1 Purpose of the Offer and use of proceeds

The purpose of the Offer is to raise additional equity funding for working capital purposes and to enable the Company to investigate any business development opportunities which may be identified by the Company.

The current economic circumstances is causing difficult market conditions, and as a consequence, the Board has conducted a review of the Company's current operations, products and anticipated working capital requirements. The Company is also considering whether the interests of shareholders would be best served by a change to the Company's current operations. In particular, the Board is concerned that if the current difficult market conditions persist, it may not be possible to fund the Company's future capital requirements for its current products on competitive terms, and that the Company's current business model may need to be substantially modified or replaced. While no decisions have been made as at the date of this Prospectus, shareholders should be aware that there is a possibility that the Company will not continue in its current form. The Company will comply with the requirements of the ASX Listing Rules regarding shareholder approval for any significant change to the nature or scale of its activities or any significant change involving the Company disposing of all or part of its main undertaking.

The proceeds of the Offer will be used to fund the Company's increased working capital requirements, as well as to explore possible changes or alternatives to the Company's current activities.

The funds to be raised by the Offer may not be sufficient for all of these this purposes, and accordingly the Company anticipates that it may need to raise further funds in the future, regardless of the success of the Offer.

SECTION 5 RISK FACTORS

5.1 Overview

There are a number of factors, both specific to Island Sky and of a general nature, which may affect the future operating and financial performance of Island Sky and the outcome of an investment in Island Sky. There can be no guarantee that Island Sky will achieve its stated objectives, that forecasts will be met or that forward looking statements will be realised.

As discussed in section 4.1 above, the Board is prepared to consider options, which may include a change to Island Sky's current activities (subject to obtaining any necessary shareholder and regulatory approvals). In particular, the Board is concerned that it may not be possible to fund the Company's future capital requirements for its current products on competitive terms, and that the Company's current business model may need to be substantially modified or replaced.

As discussed below, Island Sky currently requires additional working capital in order to implement its growth strategies, expand its distribution capacity, and explore other business development opportunities. The year ended 31 December 2010 was challenging for the Company, and at balance date the Company did not have sufficient funding to drive sales growth and product development. There can be no assurance that the Company's operations will be profitable.

While no decisions have been made as at the date of this Prospectus, shareholders should be aware that there is a possibility that the Company will not continue in its current form. There can be no guarantees that Island Sky will be able to successfully change its activities, should it seek to do so.

This section describes certain, but not all, risks associated with an investment in Island Sky. Prior to making an investment decision, prospective investors should carefully consider the following risk factors, as well as the other information contained in this Offer or of which they are otherwise aware.

5.2 Specific risk factors

(a) Share Market

Share market conditions may affect the quoted Securities regardless of the Company's operating performance. Share market conditions are affected by many factors such as:

- economic conditions and general economic outlook;
- changes in Australian and international stock markets;
- interest rates and inflation rates;
- currency fluctuations;
- changes in investor sentiment towards particular market sectors;
- taxation, government and monetary policies;
- the demand for, and supply of capital; and
- war, terrorism or other hostilities.

(b) Economic Factors

Factors such as inflation, currency fluctuation, interest rates, supply and demand and industrial disruption have an impact on operating costs, commodity prices and stock market prices. The Company's future possible profitability and the market price of its quoted Securities can be affected by these factors, which are beyond the control of the Company and its Directors, particularly due to the number of jurisdictions in which Island Sky markets its products and the current global economic difficulties.

(c) Government Policy

The introduction of new legislation or amendments to existing legislation and regulations by governments, and the decisions of courts and tribunals, can impact adversely on the assets, operation and, ultimately, the financial performance of the Company and its Securities. Any adverse changes in political and regulatory conditions in the countries where the Company manufactures or exports its products could markedly affect the Company's prospects. Political changes such as changes in both monetary and fiscal policies, import regulations and tariffs, taxation, methods of taxation and currency exchange could affect the profitability of the Company and adversely affect the return of Shareholders.

(d) Manufacturing

There is no assurance that Island Sky products will be manufactured to required standards or on a timely basis. Failure in manufacturers standards or delays in manufacturing the product or in providing the product ready for distribution may occur as the result of technical difficulties, lack of components, industrial strikes, wars, natural disasters, political unrest, insufficient financing and other factors beyond the control of Island Sky. In the event of such delays, the Company's operations could be delayed, which could have a material adverse effect on its financial performance and share price.

(e) Intellectual Property

Securing rights to patents pending for Island Sky's air-to-water technology is an integral part of protecting its licensing value. The Company has been granted an Australian patent in relation to its unique air to water technology (Australian Patent). The Australian Patent covers the underlying technology that is used in both the Skywater14 machine and the Skywater300 machine.

The Company also has a number of pending patent applications in both the USA and countries outside USA, and failure of the relevant authority to grant these applications may have an adverse effect upon the Company.

The enforceability of a patent is dependent on a number of factors, which may vary between jurisdictions. These factors include the validity of the patent and the scope of protection it provides. Patent validity depends upon factors such as the novelty, and the requirement in many jurisdictions that the invention not be obvious in light of the prior art (including any prior use of documentary disclosure of the invention). The legal interpretation of these requirements often varies between jurisdictions. The scope of rights provided by a patent can also differ between jurisdictions, and the granting of a patent does not guarantee that the rights of competitors have not been infringed.

Island Sky Florida has been granted two USA patents, and other patents outside the USA, and has a number of patents pending for its air-to-water technology in the USA and in countries outside the USA. Island Sky has also applied for international patent protection. While the patented technology is advanced with inbuilt barriers to reverse engineering, it is possible that third parties may attempt to imitate or copy the intellectual property, and in doing so, attempt to design their product in such a way as to circumvent Island Sky's patent rights. In addition, the ability of the legal process to provide efficient and effective procedures for dealing with actual or suspected infringements can vary considerably between jurisdictions.

Island Sky is continuing to develop its technology and products in a relatively new industry. There is no guarantee that Island Sky will be able to rely on its patented technology to successfully develop, manufacture and market its technology and products.

(f) Capital Requirements

While Island Sky believes it will have sufficient funds after completion of the Offer to meet its immediate business goals, Island Sky's operations are capital intensive. There can be no assurance that the Company will not seek to exploit business opportunities of a kind which will require it to raise additional capital from equity or debt sources.

There can be no assurance that such funding, if required, will be available or, if available, will be on favourable terms. If the Company is unable to obtain such additional capital, it may be required to reduce the scope of its anticipated operations, which could adversely affect its business and financial position.

(g) Product Performance

The performance of Island Sky's products is critical to Island Sky's reputation, and its ability to achieve market acceptance. Island Sky's business exposes it to potential product liability, particularly through manufacturing, transportation, distribution and marketing.

There can be no assurance that a product liability or other claim would not materially and adversely affect the business or financial condition of Island Sky.

(h) Regulatory Approvals

Regulatory approvals for the continued operation of Island Sky's business and the marketing of its products need to be obtained from time to time. Island Sky is not aware of any circumstances which might give rise to the cancellation or suspension of any existing approvals. If any of those approvals are cancelled or suspended, Island Sky's business may be adversely affected.

The Company's operations are subject to a range of laws, regulations and policies in Australia and other jurisdictions, and the introduction of new legislation or amendments to existing legislation and regulations by governments, and the decisions of courts and tribunals, can impact adversely on the assets, operation and, ultimately the financial performance of the Company and its Securities.

(i) Increased Working Capital

Island Sky currently requires additional working capital in order to implement its growth strategies, expand its distribution capacity, and explore other business development opportunities. While the funds to be raised by the Offer should be sufficient for the Company's immediate needs, those funds will not be sufficient for the Company's medium term business goals. Accordingly the Company anticipates that it may need to raise further funds in the future, regardless of the success of the Offer.

The year ended 31 December 2010 was challenging for the Company, and at balance date the Company did not have sufficient funding to drive sales growth and product development in the manner and to the extent it would want. There can be no assurance that the Company's operations will be profitable.

(j) Managing Growth

Growth in the Company's operations may place considerable strain on its managerial, operational and financial resources. To manage its potential growth, Island Sky aims to improve its operational and financial systems and develop, expand, and manage its staff. No assurance can be given as to the Company's ability to achieve this aim or to manage future growth.

(k) Competition

Island Sky faces competition in the air-to-water industry. There are various companies developing and manufacturing air-to-water products. Island Sky will need to sustain and develop its intellectual property to ensure it maintains its competitive edge in the market.

The risk exists that a competitor's product will be more efficient and cost effective than an Island Sky product. There is also a risk that a competitor could develop and market new products in a way that creates extensive competition for Island Sky. Where this occurs, it could increase Island Sky's research and development costs, decrease the value of its products and its research projects, and reduce the profitability of the Company.

(l) Market Acceptance

While Island Sky believes its technology and products are equivalent to or superior to other air-to-water products in the market, there is no assurance that this position can be sustained. As the Company implements its growth strategies, it will need to ensure that its products are acceptable to the market. If for any reason its products do not achieve market acceptance, this could materially and adversely affect the Company.

Island Sky could be adversely affected by a change in consumer preferences resulting from a multitude of factors including increases in electricity costs, changes to regulatory requirements and atmospheric conditions.

(m) Contract Risks

Island Sky is a party to various agreements relating to its products, including numerous distribution arrangements, which are important to the future of its business.

Any failure by a party to perform its obligations under, or the termination of any of, its material agreements could have an adverse affect on Island Sky and there can be no assurance that Island Sky would be successful in enforcing its contractual rights. In addition, due to the relevant jurisdictions in which it operates, in some cases it may be prohibitively expensive for Island Sky to seek to enforce its contractual rights.

(n) Research and Development

One of Island Sky's business strategies is to develop new products and cost-efficient processes, through continued research and development efforts. Island Sky's competitiveness is dependent on its ability to develop new products to meet customers' requirements and to improve the quality of its products and expand its product range to meet changing market demands.

In the event that the results of its research and development efforts are not commercially viable and cannot be utilised for commercial production or for any reason cannot gain market acceptance, Island Sky's profitability may be adversely affected, as it may have incurred substantial research and development expenses.

(o) Reliance on Key Executives

The success of the Company is dependent upon a number of highly qualified and experienced personnel, the loss of whose services could materially and adversely affect the Company and impede the achievement of its business goals.

Due to the specialised nature of Island Sky's business, its ability to achieve its business goals partly relies on its ability to attract and retain suitably qualified personnel. There can be no assurance that Island Sky will be able to retain its key personnel or find suitable replacements, if required. The failure to retain key personnel and attract highly qualified personnel could materially affect Island Sky's financial position.

(p) Termination of Underwriting Agreement

The Underwriting Agreement is summarised below at section 6.10, and prospective investors should note the termination events set out in that section. If one or more of these events occur, the Lead Underwriter has the discretion to terminate the Underwriting Agreement.

In the event that the Underwriting Agreement is terminated, there may be a shortfall of Shares taken up and less funds than expected may be raised from the Offer. As a result, Island Sky may not be able to progress its expenditure plans as set out in this Prospectus and this may negatively impact upon the value of the Shares.

The directors and management of Island Sky will use their best business judgment to address any issues arising from the termination of the Underwriting Agreement, if such a situation arises.

They may be held in uncertificated form (that is, no share certificate will be issued) on the CHES subregister under sponsorship of a broker or on the issuer-sponsored subregister. ## 6.6 Rights attaching to New Shares

There is only one class of shares in Island Sky; fully paid ordinary Shares. The New Shares will rank pari passu with existing fully paid ordinary Shares of Island Sky.

The rights attaching to Shares in Island Sky are:

- set out in the Constitution of Island Sky, a copy of which is available for inspection at Island Sky's registered office; and
- in certain circumstances, regulated by the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules, the ASTC Settlement Rules and the general law.

The following is a summary of the principal rights of the holders of Shares in Island Sky.

(a) Voting

Subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to any class or classes of shares, at a general meeting of members every member present in person or by proxy, attorney or representative has one vote on a show of hands, and one vote per Share on a poll. In the case of a vote on a poll, persons who hold a share which is not fully paid shall be entitled to a fraction of a vote equal to that proportion of a vote that the amount paid on the relevant share bears to the total issue price of the share.

(b) Dividends

Subject to the rights of holders of shares issued with any special rights (at present there are none), the profits of the Company, which the Directors may from time-to-time determine to distribute by way of dividend, are divisible among the Shareholders in proportion to the number of Shares held by them, and in proportion to the amount paid on the Share in respect of which the dividend is paid. All Shares, including the New Shares, are fully paid shares.

(c) Future Issues

Subject to the Company's Constitution, the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules, the Directors may, on behalf of the Company, issue, grant options over, or otherwise dispose of unissued shares in the Company on terms determined by the Directors. The Company may issue preference shares.

(d) Transfer of Shares

A Shareholder may transfer Shares by a proper ASTC registered transfer or an instrument in writing in any usual form, or in any form approved by the Directors. The Directors may refuse to register any transfer of Shares only if that refusal would not contravene the Listing Rules or the ASTC Settlement Rules. The Directors must not register a transfer if the Corporations Act, Listing Rules or ASTC Settlement Rules forbid registration. The Company must not refuse to register, give effect to, delay or in any way interfere with a proper ASTC transfer of other Securities.

(e) Meetings and Notices

Each Shareholder is entitled to receive notice of, and to attend, general meetings of the Company and to receive all notices, accounts and other documents required to be sent to Shareholders under the Constitution, Corporations Act or Listing Rules.

Shareholders may requisition meetings in accordance with the Corporations Act and the Constitution.

(f) Winding Up

Subject to the Constitution and the rights and liabilities attaching to Shares (at present there are no liabilities), Shareholders will be entitled in a winding up to any surplus assets of the Company in proportion to the number of Shares held by them, less any amounts which remain unpaid on the Shares at the time of distribution. However, if this deduction results in the distribution to the Shareholder being a negative amount, the Shareholder must contribute that amount to the Company.

If the Company is wound up the liquidator may, with the sanction of a special resolution of the Shareholders:

- divide among the Shareholders the whole or any part of the assets of the Company; and
- determine how the division is to be carried out as between the Shareholders or different classes of Shareholders, with the approval of separate general meetings of the members of each of the several classes (if applicable).

Any such division may not be otherwise than in accordance with the legal rights of the Shareholders and, in particular, any class may be given preferential or special rights or excluded altogether or in part. Where a division is otherwise than in accordance with the legal rights of the Shareholders, a Shareholder is entitled to dissent and to exercise the same rights as if the special resolution sanctioning that division were a special resolution passed under Section 507 of the Corporations Act.

(g) Shareholder Liability

As the New Shares to be issued pursuant to this Prospectus are all fully paid Shares, they are not subject to any calls for money and will therefore not become liable for forfeiture.

(h) Alteration to the Constitution

The Constitution can only be amended by a special resolution passed by at least 75% of the votes cast by members entitled to vote on the resolution. At least 28 days written notice specifying the intention to propose the resolution as a special resolution must be given.

(i) Listing Rules

While the Company is admitted to the Official List of ASX, then despite anything in the Constitution, if the Listing Rules prohibit an act being done, that act must not be done. Nothing in the Constitution prevents an act being done that the Listing Rules requires to be done. If the Listing Rules require an act to be done or not to be done, authority is given for that act to be done or not to be done (as the case may be). If the Listing Rules require the Constitution to contain a provision or not to contain a provision, the Constitution is deemed to contain that provision or not to contain that provision (as the case may be). If any provision of the Constitution is or becomes inconsistent with the Listing Rules, the Constitution is deemed not to contain that provision to the extent of the inconsistency.

6.7 Taxation

Shareholders should be aware that there may be taxation implications of participating in the Offer. Shareholders should consult their own professional taxation advisers to obtain advice in relation to the taxation laws and regulations applicable to their personal circumstances.

6.8 Legal Proceedings

The Company is not aware of any litigation, arbitration or proceedings pending against or involving the Company as at the date of this Prospectus. The Company has received notice of a dispute from its US distributor, Skywater Distributing, Inc ("SDI") concerning pre-payment of US$252,000 made by SDI for 2 containers of the Company's Skywater14 machines, in May 2010. SDI alleges that the Company's products were defective. The Company denies that allegation, and is currently seeking to resolve this dispute with SDI.

The Company is also seeking to recover machines held by a former Australian distributor Waternauts LLP, following the non-renewal of the non-exclusive distribution agreement with that company.
