THAILAND L20/50 CONCESSION DRILLING TO START JANUARY 17

Raisama Ltd ("Raisama"), through its proposed subsidiary company, Peak Oil and Gas Ltd ("Peak"), will participate in the drilling of up to three petroleum exploration wells on the L20/50 concession in Thailand with the drilling program expected to begin on January 17.

Exploration program and L20/50 concession operator, Carnarvon Petroleum Ltd, has advised that drilling operations are expected to start on January 17.

Preparation of the first well site, Tapao Kaew, was essentially completed in late December, however operations will not commence until the other well sites have progressed significantly enough to be able to drill up to 3 wells back to back.

The second well site, Krai Thong, is nearing completion and will be ready by the end of January, well ahead of earliest release of rig from Tapao Kaew.

The third well site, Chalawan, will be ready by mid to late February and a decision on whether to drill this third well will depend on results from the first two wells.

Drilling operations are anticipated to take around 2 to 3 weeks per well, with a further 3-6 days rig move between wells.

If logging results show sufficient encouragement, testing operations will commence after the mobilization of appropriate equipment, expected around one month post the completion of the first successful well.

In consideration for the past costs of both acquiring the seismic data and development of the drilling prospects in the permit, Peak will carry 50% of the drilling expenses of the first well in the program (capped at US$1.3 million) to earn a 7.5% equity interest in the L20/50 concession. Following completion of the first well, Peak will be required to contribute only its 7.5% Working Interest share to subsequent drilling and permit expenses.

The upcoming multi-well drilling programme will test up to 90 million barrels of oil (speculative potential which is a best estimate based on gross recoverable oil).

Each well will take approximately two-three weeks to drill and complete, with each well testing multiple reservoir horizons where the potential for stacked oil pools exists.

Any discovery at L20/50 can be rapidly commercialised with crude oil transported by truck to one of Thailand's nearby oil refineries for sale.

Raisama managing director, David Berrie, said, "Raisama's participation in its first petroleum exploration drilling program via Peak is exciting for the company and potentially rewarding for all shareholders. We are looking forward to completing the acquisition of Peak in the coming weeks and becoming a truly diversified energy company."
