Amcom appoints new Director

Amcom Telecommunications Limited ("Amcom") (ASX: AMM), a leading telecom and IT solutions provider, is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr Paul Brandling as a non-executive Director.

Mr Brandling has more than 27 years experience in the information technology industry. He was Vice President and Managing Director of Hewlett-Packard South Pacific from 2002 until 2012. In this role he was responsible for driving overall revenue growth and profitability for Australia and New Zealand and was heavily involved in the roll out of HP's global cloud strategy in ANZ. Prior to this position, he worked for Compaq Computer Corporation from 1993 where he held a variety of sales and divisional leadership roles and was appointed Vice President and Managing Director, Compaq Computer South Pacific in 2000.

Commenting on the appointment, Amcom's Chairman Mr Tony Grist said, "As most industry watchers are aware, there is substantial momentum in the convergence of IT and telecoms. Amcom is a dynamic business and we see opportunities to grow our hosted and cloud business in both our core markets and on the eastern seaboard."

"While stability of tenure and diversity of skills in senior management and board level has contributed to our continuing business success, we also recognise the need to continually evolve."

We're very excited to have someone of Paul's calibre join our board, bringing with him the skills and experience of an extremely successful executive career at the highest level of the IT industry, and a very strong east coast perspective," Mr Grist added.
