Operations Completed at Hoadleys-1 Well Site

Rawson Resources Limited (ASX: RAW, “Rawson”) advises that the Plug and Abandonment (P&A) of the Hoadleys-1 well has been successfully completed. The well was plugged and suspended after drilling in 2011. Surface rehabilitation activities will commence and are likely to take several weeks.

As previously reported, once operations and final reporting are completed the Joint Venture will relinquish the entire ATP837P block.

Rawson holds 50% interest in the conventional exploration rights and 15% interest in the unconventional exploration rights of ATP837P. Securities held over the title will be released to Rawson once the title has been relinquished.
