SenterpriSys Test Marketing Software

The Board of SenterpriSys is pleased to announce that all modules, but accounting, of the SenterpriSys Builder have successfully passed initial in house testing and have been distributed to first users. The system is significantly more advanced than any of the competitor software packages.

Housing Industry Association Limited ("HIA") is ready to commence marketing SenterpriSys software to its members. SPS is also considering alternative ways of acquiring multiple users for its software platform, including interstate and overseas merger and acquisition opportunities. The issues of initial training and technical support are in advance stages of discussions with HIA and are expected to be resolved in the near future.
