

OTCQB Uplisting Approved

Dateline Resources Limited (ASX: DTR; OTC: DTREF) announces that it has secured approval to upgrade its U.S. trading status from the OTC Pink Market to the OTCQB Venture Market, with the uplisting effective 6 June 2025. Trading on the OTCQB will commence under the ticker “DTREF” on that date, providing improved liquidity and easier access for American investors to purchase Dateline shares in U.S. dollars during U.S. market hours. This move aligns with the Company’s previously announced strategy to broaden its North American shareholder base and enhance market visibility in the United States. As an ASX-listed company, Dateline already meets the reporting standards required by OTCQB, meaning the upgrade imposes no additional compliance burden on the Company.

Key benefits of the OTCQB listing include:

- Enhanced U.S. investor access: Dateline’s stock will be more accessible to U.S. investors, who can trade the shares domestically in USD during U.S. trading hours, simplifying the process of buying and selling the Company’s stock.
- Improved liquidity and visibility: The OTCQB market is expected to boost trading liquidity and raise Dateline’s profile among North American investors, supporting a wider and more engaged shareholder base.
- No change in compliance obligations: Dateline will continue to meet its ASX disclosure obligations, which satisfy OTCQB disclosure requirements under U.S. foreign issuer exemptions. This ensures a smooth transition without additional regulatory filings.

Background and Increased U.S. Interest

The decision to pursue an OTCQB uplisting comes on the heels of heightened U.S. investor interest in Dateline's flagship Colosseum rare earth element (REE)-gold project in California. In a Truth Social post on 25 April 2025, U.S. President Donald J. Trump drew national attention to the Colosseum mine by highlighting that "The Colosseum Mine, America's second rare earths mine, has been approved after years of stalled permitting". This high-profile mention of the project's recent permitting approvals has significantly raised Dateline's U.S. profile, underscoring the strategic importance of the Colosseum Project and contributing to a surge of interest from North American investors.

Dateline Resources views the OTCQB listing as a timely step to capitalize on this momentum. By making its shares more readily available to U.S. investors, the Company is positioning itself to broaden its investor base and liquidity at a pivotal time for the Colosseum Project's development. Management will continue to keep the market informed on operational progress at Colosseum and any further strategic initiatives to enhance shareholder value, in line with ASX disclosure requirements.
