Yojee Limited (Yojee or the Company) (ASX: YOJ), is pleased to announce the appointment of David Morton to its recently announced Advisory Board team. This is the final appointment to the existing Advisory Board, rounding out the strategic and operational growth focus of the Company for 2019.

David Morton

David Morton is an experienced Corporate Banker with a successful career spanning 40 years at Westpac and HSBC. He has recently returned to Australia after 12 years working in Asia (Vietnam, Malaysia, Hong Kong) in a number of pan Asian roles including Managing Director, Head of Corporate, Financials and Multinationals Banking, Asia-Pacific. David Morton is a Graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors, GAICD and holds a Business Studies degree (Accounting) from Victoria University. He also attended the Advanced Management program at Insead, Fontainebleau, France.

David Morton as an experienced senior banking executive, he brings strong, authentic leadership skills across a wide range of businesses, cultures and geographies. He has a very strong track record in both building and restructuring businesses to cope with volatile environments. Respected as a mentor and coach particularly in relation to gender and diversity, Yojee will benefit immensely from the appointment.

Commenting on his appointment to the Advisory Board, David Morton said, "I am excited about the opportunity to assist Yojee in executing its strategies within the Asian region and scale across the world. The Company has a wonderful opportunity for its platform to support all stakeholders in the supply chain and logistics ecosystem, from shipper to carrier and from governmental and financial institutions where data and transparency is key. It's recent announcement with a multi-national organisation shows the true potential of this early stage business."

Commenting on the Advisory Board appointment, MD Ed Clarke said, "The Company has been strategically building its board and advisory structure with globally proven talent across technology, supply chain, automation and finance and capital markets with David being a great addition to complete our advisory structure.

We are very pleased to have David joining us and look forward to our group of experienced board and advisors engaging the executive team in robust discussions around strategy and growth along with providing public market strategy and strong corporate governance."
