West Gate Tunnel Project

Transurban acknowledges a Victorian House of Parliament has today voted to revoke the Planning Scheme Amendment (PSA) GC65 for the West Gate Tunnel Project, a scenario that was specifically addressed in the West Gate Tunnel Project Agreement executed by the State and Transurban in December 2017.

The Victorian Government has today publicly confirmed its intention to reissue planning approval for the Project by tomorrow allowing major construction work to recommence. In the interim, activities that do not require the PSA will continue by agreement with the State and the Design and Construct Contractor, as per the West Gate Tunnel Project Agreement.

The Project planning approvals remain the responsibility of the State and may take the form of a Planning Scheme Amendment or an alternative approval pathway.

Transurban Chief Executive Scott Charlton said major construction works have been underway on the Project since January this year, with over 800 people already employed.

“After nearly three years of planning, development and public consultation, we have an agreement with the State to build the West Gate Tunnel Project and are committed to providing Melbourne with this desperately needed infrastructure as soon as possible.”
