PORTFOLIO REVIEW

The Glennon Small Companies portfolio returned +4.58% in April, compared to its benchmark S&P/ASX Small Ordinaries Accumulation Index of +1.84%, outperforming the index by +2.74%. While markets have performed well since the easing of tariffs for most countries, we are still concerned about the impact of Chinese tariffs and the flow-on effect that will have into the US, which is starting to demonstrate signs of weakness. As current inventories are used, we think that the US economy will struggle with inflation and the cost of living, with the cost of imported goods rising dramatically.

COG Financial Services (+28.70%), Superloop Ltd (+3.63%) and Promedicus Ltd (+14.83%) were the strongest contributors to performance during the month. We have increased our position in COG on the back of our confidence in new management to streamline the business and achieve revenue and margin efficiencies. After an aggressive sell-off in March, Promedicus is recovering with the announcement of further new contract wins.

Sequoia Financial Group (-22.80%), Zip Co (-16.19%) and Sandfire Resources (-9.62%) were the biggest detractors to performance during the month. We have exited our positions in both Zip and Sequoia during the month. The uncertainty surrounding Sequoia and the current ASIC investigation causes us concern. Zip may do well in a slowing US economy, with shoppers utilising their service. We are not confident however that bad debt will not rise, as the consumer struggles with living expenses.
