

Market Update – FY24 Revenue Upgrade

SKS Technologies Group Limited (ASX: SKS) expects total annual revenue for FY24 to be approximately $130+ million, up from the previously expected forecast provided to the market of $120+ million.

This forecast revenue increase is based on the continually accelerating level of work on hand, boosted by a number of significant contract wins over recent months and weeks, as well as the general health of the business and its ability to fund a substantial level of further growth with its recently increased bank facilities. Moreover, the pipeline of opportunities for new work shows no sign of abating.
