Biographies of nominated directors

Ian Plimer BSc (Hons), PhD, Hon. FGS, FTSE

Ian is Emeritus Professor of Earth Sciences at The University of Melbourne where he was Professor and Head (1991-2005). He was Professor and Head of Geology (University of Newcastle 1985-1991), Professor of Ore Deposit Geology at Ludwig Maximilians Universität (Munich, 1991) and Professor of Mining Geology (University of Adelaide 2006-2011). Professor Plimer has published more than 130 scientific papers (including scores of papers on Broken Hill), edited the five-volume Encyclopedia of Geology and is author of eleven books for the general public.

Mid-career, he was senior research geologist with North Broken Hill Ltd and has consulted worldwide to major exploration companies and governments on mineral exploration and ore deposits. He has served on the boards of the listed exploration companies Ivanhoe Australia Ltd (ASX:IVA, TSX: IVA, taken over by Rio), CBH Resources Ltd (ASX:CBH; taken over by Toho Zinc) and Kefi Minerals plc (AIM:KEFI); sits on the board of Niuminco Group Ltd (ASX:NIU) and represents Hancock Prospecting interests on the board of Lakes Oil NL (ASX:LKO); represented Hancock Prospecting Pty Ltd interests on the board of Sun Resources NL (ASX:SUR); sits on the boards of unlisted Hancock Prospecting Pty Ltd companies (Roy Hill Holdings, Queensland Coal Investments, Atlas Iron) and sits on the board of the Ivanhoe Mines unlisted entity HPXploration Inc.

For his scientific activities, Ian has won the Eureka Prize (twice), Daley Prize, Centenary Medal, Leopold von Buch Plakette, Clarke Medal, Goldfields Prize and had a new Broken Hill zinc mineral named after him. For his exploration activities, he has been awarded the Rio Tinto Excellence in Exploration Award, Sir Williss Connolly Medal of the Australasian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, Australian Mining and Exploration Council Identity of the Year, Excellence in Mining and Exploration Legend in Mining, Precious Metals Hall of Fame and Resources Stocks Best Industry Identity. He is Patron of Lifeline (Broken Hill) and Patron of the Broken Hill Geocentre.

Lindsay Gilligan PSM, BSc(Hons), MAppSc, MBA, FAIG, FSEG

Lindsay was formerly Director of the Geological Survey of New South Wales. His career has focused on the geology of mineral resources and fostering mineral exploration and discovery of NSW and he has over 40 years' experience as a geologist. Lindsay has extensive experience in government geoscience. He has published widely on aspects of mineral deposits. Whilst Director, he led the NSW State Government's highly successful New Frontiers exploration initiative. He has actively promoted mineral exploration investment in New South Wales both nationally and internationally.

He has a broad network across the exploration industry, government and research organisations, as well as internationally in both government and industry and has a high public profile in the minerals industry. He was non-executive Chairman of Thomson

Resources Ltd, a NSW-based junior explorer, from 2009 to 2019. He was a director from 2010 to 2018 on the governing body of the Deep Exploration Technologies Cooperative Research Centre (DET CRC). In 2019, he was appointed to the board of the newly formed Mineral Exploration Cooperative Research Centre (MinEx CRC) which is arguably the largest mineral exploration research organisation in the world. He has also consulted to Commonwealth and State agencies on government geoscience issues.

Lindsay has been on the committee of the Sydney Mineral Exploration Discussion Group (SMEDG) since 2002 and has played a major part in the organisation of the immensely successful Mines and Wines mineral exploration conference since its inception in 2006.

Lindsay was awarded the Public Service Medal in the 2008 Queen's Birthday Honours and, in the same year, was also awarded the Australian Mining magazine's "Most Outstanding Contribution to Australian Mining" Award.

Nicholas Martin BSc (Hons), MBA

Nick has over 25 years' experience in the mining sector as an exploration geologist, investment banker and corporate advisor.

Nick is a Partner at Blackbird Commodity Partners, an independent advisory firm focused on the mining sector providing advice in relation to structured finance, corporate acquisitions, equity raisings, transaction due diligence and general corporate advice to clients with projects located worldwide.

Prior to this Nick spent 10 years in investment banking with N M Rothschild & Sons (Australia), Westpac, WestLB and finally as Head of Natural Resources for Natixis (Australia). During this time, he developed an extensive track record of providing project finance facilities for new mine developments in Australia, SE Asia and the Pacific.

Nick started his career spending 7 years as an exploration geologist working throughout Australia and in Indonesia.

Nick holds a BSc (Hons) in Geology from the University of Adelaide plus an MBA from the Australian Graduate School of Management.
