

December 2024 Activities Report and Appendix 4C

Key points:

- Prescient's IND application for the PTX-100 Phase 2 clinical trial in r/rCTCL has been successfully cleared by the FDA, allowing for the study's immediate initiation
- Significant progress was made in the clinical development of CellPryme and re-engineering of OmniCAR, with growing collaboration interest from channel and R&D partners
- Cash and term deposit balance of $8.4 million at 31 December, with an additional $3.7M R&D Tax Incentive Rebate received on 10 January (subsequent event)
- Spending in line with budget

MELBOURNE Australia, 31 January 2025: Prescient Therapeutics (ASX: PTX), a clinical stage oncology company developing personalised therapies for cancer, today reported its Appendix 4C quarterly cash flow statement and accompanying Activities Report for the December 2024 quarter.

Financial summary

Prescient ended the quarter with cash reserves of $8.4 million ($11.5 million on 30 September 2024) of which $2.0 million was held as a term deposit with maturity greater than three months. Net operating expenditure during the quarter was $3.0 million, in line with budget. A total of $2.0 million was invested in R&D and clinical development activities.

Subsequent to the end of the quarter, an R&D Tax Incentive Rebate of $3.7 million was received on 10 January 2025.

Payments to related parties of the entity and their associates amounted to $184,000 and were directly related to non-executive director fees, executive director salary and superannuation.

PTX-100 activity summary

Prescient was encouraged by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) clearing the Investigational New Drug (IND) application for the Phase 2 clinical trial of PTX-100, the company's first-in-class RAS-Family pathway inhibitor. The trial will focus on relapsed and refractory cutaneous T-cell lymphomas (r/r CTCL). The IND allowance paves the way for the commencement of the Phase 2 study and marks a significant milestone for Prescient.

Significant teamwork and dedication were invested to complete the IND application during the reporting period. Clinical and industry experts were engaged to provide valuable insights into the study design, clinical implementation strategy, and responses to key FDA inquiries.

The Prescient team will now commence the process of initiating trial sites for the study. Clinical sites in Australia, United States and Europe are being evaluated, and the study design envisages that up to 15 sites may be activated.

Prescient retains ongoing interest in Peripheral T Cell Lymphoma (PTCL) and is exploring ways to generate additional clinical data for PTX-100 in this patient population.

Cell therapy platforms

CellPryme's preclinical and clinical development platform continues to build momentum. Prescient presented data on cell therapy manufacturing and adjuvant enhancements at the CAR-TCR Summit in Boston and the American Society of Hematology conference in San Diego during Q4 2024. As a result, Prescient experienced an increase in interest in collaborative partnerships. Prescient has initiated several collaborations involving CellPryme-M with potential partner companies to explore ways to enhance their cell therapy programs. Prescient plans to update its investors on the progress of these collaborations when possible.

At the same time, Prescient is in the early stages of exploring the potential for first-in-human clinical trials for CellPryme-A. These trials, if initiated, will assess CellPryme-A's potential in combination with CAR-T therapies.

After extensive troubleshooting to resolve certain OmniCAR technical issues and then engineering of new, improved molecular variants, development efforts have yielded positive results. Based on this progress, development efforts will continue, with further validation work required.

New CEO Appointed

Prescient announced the appointment of James McDonnell as Chief Executive Officer, effective 20 January 2025.

Mr McDonnell is an accomplished senior biopharmaceutical leader with over 25 years of experience in the global pharmaceutical industry, including significant involvement in blood disorders and hematological malignancies such as Myeloma, Myelodysplasia, and CML. His strategic vision and leadership have been instrumental in delivering exceptional commercial results complemented by his ability to build high-performing team cultures.

The Board is confident that James's strategic vision and leadership will significantly contribute to the ambitious development plans of Prescient.

About Prescient Therapeutics Limited (Prescient)

Prescient Therapeutics (ASX: PTX) is a clinical stage oncology company developing personalised medicine approaches to cancer, including targeted and cellular therapies.

Targeted Therapy

PTX-100: is a first in class compound with the ability to block an important cancer growth enzyme known as geranylgeranyl transferase-1 (GGT-1). It disrupts oncogenic Ras pathways by inhibiting the activation of Rho, Rac and Ral circuits in cancer cells, leading to apoptosis (death) of cancer cells. PTX- 100 is believed to be the only GGT-1 inhibitor in the world in clinical development. PTX-100 demonstrated safety and early clinical activity in a previous Phase 1 study and recent PK/PD basket study of hematological and solid malignancies. The US FDA has granted PTX-100 Orphan Drug Designation for all T-Cell Lymphomas and recently cleared an IND for a Phase 2 study focussing on cutaneous T-Cell Lymphomas.

Cell Therapy Platforms

CellPryme-M: Prescient's novel, ready-for-the-clinic, CellPryme-M technology enhances adoptive cell therapy performance by shifting T towards a central memory phenotype, improving persistence, and increasing the ability to find and penetrate tumours. CellPryme-M is a 24-hour, non-disruptive process during cell manufacturing. Cell therapies that could benefit from additional productivity in manufacturing or increased potency and durability in-vivo, would be good candidates for CellPryme-M.

CellPryme-A: CellPryme-A is an adjuvant therapy designed to be administered to patients alongside cellular immunotherapy to help them overcome a suppressive tumour microenvironment. CellPryme-A significantly decreases suppressive regulatory T cells; increases expansion of CAR-T cells in vivo; increases tumour penetration of CAR-T cells. CellPryme-A improves tumour killing and host survival of CAR-T cell therapies, and these benefits are even greater when used in conjunction with CellPryme-M pre-treated CAR-T cells.

OmniCAR: is a universal immune receptor platform enabling controllable T-cell activity and multi- antigen targeting with a single cell product. OmniCAR's modular CAR system decouples antigen recognition from the T-cell signalling domain. It is the first universal immune receptor allowing post- translational covalent loading of binders to T-cells. OmniCAR is based on technology licensed from Penn; the SpyTag/SpyCatcher binding system licensed from Oxford University; and other assets. OmniCAR is in pre-clinical development.

The targeting ligand can be administered separately to CAR-T cells, creating on-demand T-cell activity post infusion and enables the CAR-T to be directed to an array of different tumour antigens. OmniCAR provides a method for single-vector, single cell product targeting of multiple antigens simultaneous or sequentially, whilst allowing continual re-arming to generate, regulate and diversify a sustained T-cell response over time.

Certain statements made in this document are forward-looking statements within the meaning of the safe harbor provisions of the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements are not historical facts but rather are based on the current expectations of Prescient Therapeutics Limited ("Prescient" or the "Company"), their estimates, assumptions, and projections about the industry in which Prescient operates. Material referred to in this document that use the words 'estimate', 'project', 'intend', 'expect', 'plan', 'believe', 'guidance', and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements and should be considered an at-risk statement. These forward-looking statements are not a guarantee of future performance and involve known and unknown risks and uncertainties, some of which are beyond the control of Prescient or which are difficult to predict, which could cause the actual results, performance, or achievements of Prescient to be materially different from those which may be expressed or implied by these statements. These statements are based on our management's current expectations and are subject to a number of uncertainties and risks that could change the results described in the forward-looking statements. Risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, general industry conditions and competition, general economic factors, global pandemics and related disruptions, the impact of pharmaceutical industry development and health care legislation in the United States and internationally, and challenges inherent in new product development. In particular, there are substantial risks in drug development including risks that studies fail to achieve an acceptable level of safety and/or efficacy. Investors should be aware that there are no assurances that results will not differ from those projected and Prescient cautions shareholders and prospective shareholders not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which reflect the view of Prescient only as of the date of this announcement. Prescient is not under a duty to update any forward-looking statement as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as required by law or by any appropriate regulatory authority.

Certain statements contained in this document, including, without limitation, statements containing the words "believes," "plans," "expects," "anticipates," and words of similar import, constitute "forward-looking statements." Such forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of Prescient to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Such factors include, among others, the following: the risk that our clinical trials will be delayed and not completed on a timely basis; the risk that the results from the clinical trials are not as favourable as we anticipate; the risk that our clinical trials will be more costly than anticipated; and the risk that applicable regulatory authorities may ask for additional data, information or studies to be completed or provided prior to their approval of our products. Given these uncertainties, undue reliance should not be placed on such forward-looking statements. The Company disclaims any obligation to update any such factors or to publicly announce the results of any revisions to any of the forward-looking statements contained herein to reflect future events or developments except as required by law.
