Strike Energy Limited (Strike - ASX: STX) is pleased to announce it has been awarded the full 85 MWs of Reserve Capacity Credits and its requested Network Access Quantity by the Australian Energy Market Operator (AEMO) in the South West Interconnected System (in Western Australia) for its proposed fully integrated 85 MW peaking gas power station, as part of the development of the South Erregulla gas field in Production License L24 within the Perth Basin (100% net to STX).

AEMO has published the price for capacity credits in the 2026 capacity year of $216,092 per MW per year. This equates to a guaranteed minimum capacity revenue stream in the first year of the project of over $18 million.¹ This capacity revenue is in addition to Strike's forecast energy sales, which will be made in peak pricing periods into the Wholesale Energy Market within the SWIS. Strike expects to operate the facility around 4 hours per day (on average) and to generate further revenues from ancillary services to the grid. The South Erregulla Peaking Power Station will now be eligible to receive Reserve Capacity Credits each year of operation, with the price of those credits published approximately two years in advance.

These awards and notifications are significant milestones and conditions required for Strike's peaking gas power station project as it prepares for the taking of a Final Investment Decision in November 2024.

Strike's Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer Stuart Nicholls said:

"Today's awards confirm the need and requirement for Strike's 85 MW peaking gas power station at the northern end of the SWIS to firm the region's vast renewable energy. This project marks the next leg of Strike's gas development and decarbonisation strategy and demonstrates how Strike is using its gas endowment for a positive impact in Western Australia's energy transition."

This announcement is authorised for release by the Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer in accordance with the Company's Continuous Disclosure Policy.

¹ Capacity price is a floating price that can vary from capacity year to capacity year. The published price applies to the 2026 capacity year only.
