NEXTDC admitted to Federal Government Supplies Panel

BRISBANE, Aust. – July 9, 2014 NEXTDC Limited (ASX:NXT) ("NEXTDC" or "the Company") is pleased to announce its admission to the Australian Government Data Centre Facilities Supplies Panel ("Panel") administered by the Department of Finance on behalf of the Commonwealth.

Admission to the Panel enables NEXTDC to contract with Australian Government departments and agencies¹ for the supply of data centre services at any of its five colocation facilities. The Panel arrangements will be in place for an initial period of five years with options for further periods of up to five years.

NEXTDC CEO Craig Scroggie said, "NEXTDC's advanced facilities and rich business ecosystem will provide Government with a new level of scalability and flexibility in data centre services nationally."

Further information is available at the AusTender and Department of Finance websites.

About NEXTDC

As Australia's leading Data-Centre-as-a-Service (DCaaS) provider, NEXTDC is revolutionising cloud computing in Australia.

An ASX300 company and the only independent data centre operator with a strategic footprint in all major growth markets in Australia, NEXTDC offers a range of highly flexible, resilient and secure colocation services to corporate, government and IT services companies.

NEXTDC's purpose-built facilities have been designed to address the market's growing appetite for energy-efficient carrier-neutral data centres in which organisations can host critical IT infrastructure and selectively source services through their diverse national ecosystem.

NEXTDC is where the cloud lives.
