RCR AWARDED $170M IN NEW CONTRACTS

Diversified engineering and infrastructure company RCR Tomlinson Ltd (ASX: RCR) is pleased to announce that it has been awarded contracts with a combined value of approximately $170 million. These include:

Visionstream

RCR's HVAC business operated by Haden has been awarded a contract with Visionstream Australia to supply HVAC maintenance services to more than 40,000 facilities and network assets across Australia. The five year contract is estimated at $50 million.

Additional Contract Wins Include:

- A new five year agreement with a major NSW utility provider for the provision of maintenance and shutdown services. The contract extends RCR's services and includes an option for a further two years.
- A contract with Sydney Water for a major upgrade to the Picton Recycled Water Treatment Plant. The project scope includes construction of new inlet works, biological process tanks and associated infrastructure.
- Rail and other contracts with BHP Billiton for rail signalling upgrade works at the Nelson Point train unloading station, supply of a cooling system for the Mooka ore car repair workshop in Port Hedland and a 5 year maintenance agreement for apron feeders across BHP's iron ore operations across Western Australia.

RCR's Managing Director & CEO, Dr Paul Dalglish said, "We are pleased to see the continued award of contracts across the businesses which supports our growth targets for this financial year. These new contracts further boost our order book for FY17 and beyond."

"Our relationship with long term clients continues to grow based on our approach of delivering innovative solution that provide improved cost and reliability to our customers operations."
