Heritage Agreement Signed with Ngarluma Aboriginal Corporation

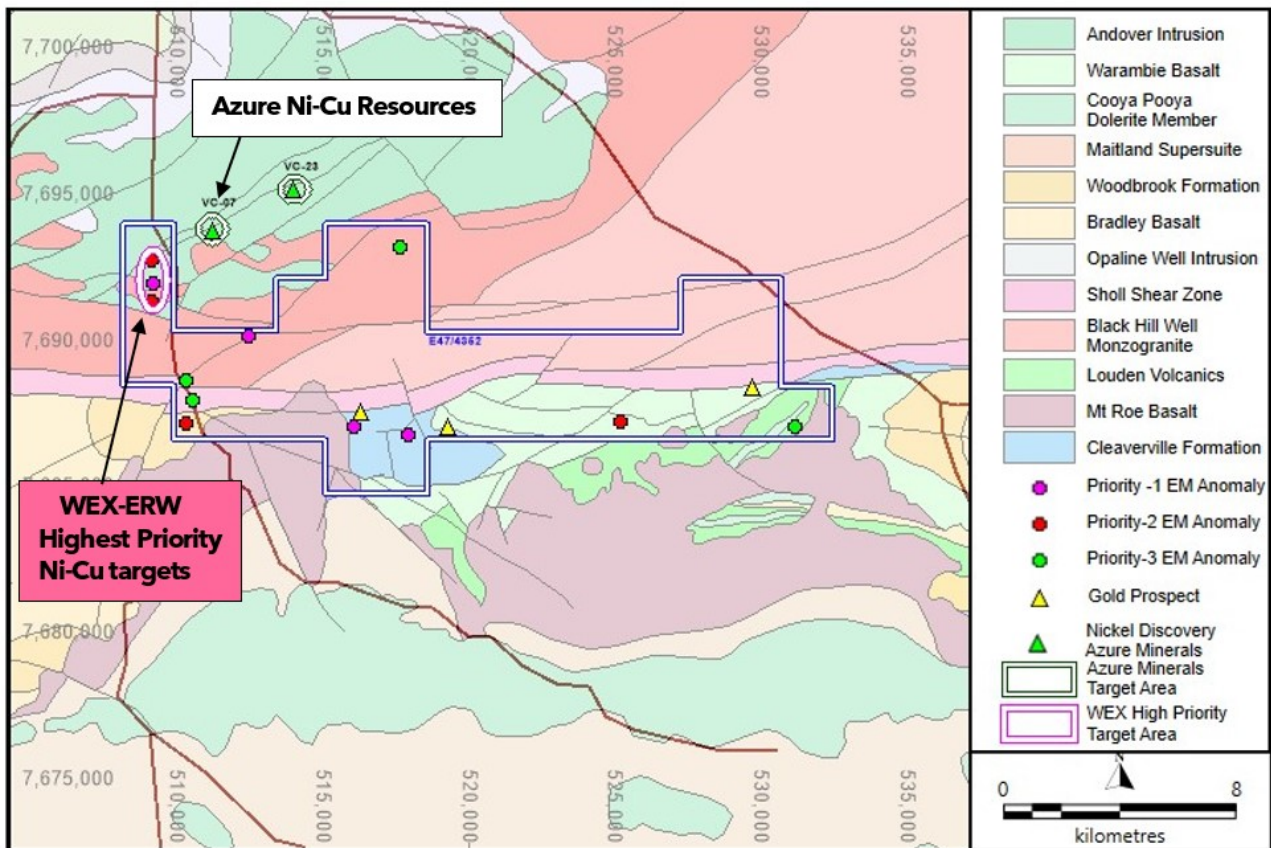

Errawarra Resources Limited (ASX: ERW) ("Errawarra" or "the Company") is pleased to announce that it has executed a Native Title and Heritage Exploration Agreement ("NTA") with the Ngarluma Aboriginal Corporation ("NAC") over its Andover West project licence application E47/4352 in the West Pilbara Region. This NTA allows the Company to engage proactively with the Traditional Owners, through the NAC, to conduct heritage surveys across the tenement area with the clear aim of ensuring the Traditional Owners knowledge of the area is used to avoid areas of cultural significance. A heritage survey covering Errawarra's highest priority target areas has been requested.

Thomas Reddicliffe, Executive Director of Errawarra commented: "We thank the Ngarluma Aboriginal Corporation for their support in reaching this significant milestone for Errawarra which not only clears the path for our tenement application to progress to grant but also provides the means to allow exploration on the tenement without impacting on those areas that are culturally significant to Ngarluma."

Although there are numerous exploration targets within the tenement area, Errawarra's initial focus will be the testing of its Andover West nickel target. This target is an historic untested VTEM/MLEM conductor anomaly which lies within the same Ni-Cu mineralised trend in which Azure Minerals have recently made significant discoveries. On 30 March 2022, Azure announced a maiden resource of 4.6Mt @ 1.11% Ni and 0.47% Cu which is located on Azure's adjoining tenement and 2.8km from Andover West.

To expedite the testing of Andover West, Errawarra has already submitted an application to Ngarluma for the undertaking of a Heritage Clearance survey.

This ASX announcement has been authorised for release by Thomas Reddcliffe, on behalf of the Board.
