Air New Zealand Fleet Maintenance

Air New Zealand advises that as a result of recent Rolls Royce engine events on its Boeing 787-9 fleet there will be limited international flight cancellations and delays each day over the coming weeks.

Rolls Royce has informed Air New Zealand that some of its engines on the Boeing 787-9 fleet will require maintenance sooner than previously advised and that it does not have any spare engines available while that maintenance work is undertaken. Air New Zealand will be focussed on finding replacement aircraft capacity.

At this stage we do not anticipate any change to current guidance.
