Victoria, South Australia and Tasmania

Veris recent entry into the Tasmanian and South Australian markets has resulted in Veris providing services to the following projects as well as its Victorian property services:

- Midland Highway between Launceston and Hobart - Cadastral and Engineering Surveys
- Land, aerial and hydrographic surveying for the replacement of bridges and roads affected by the 2016 flood in northern Tasmania
- APY lands in the north of South Australia, Road construction - Survey Support on culturally significant land
- Redevelopment of the Nyrstar smelter at Port Pirie - 3D scanning

Western Australia

Despite the Western Australian resources and property markets remaining subdued, Veris WA have been successful in procuring Surveying, 3D Spatial and Planning services to the following projects, which will commence later in the year, or early in 2018:

- The City of Greater Geraldton CBD Revitalisation Project
- A significant Rail Infrastructure Scanning Project in the Pilbara
- Tenure Consultancy services for The Alkimos Central Master planned Community and The North Baldivis Master planned Community
- Infrastructure services for the Gruyere Gold Project.

Australian Capital Territory

Veris' recent acquisition has facilitated entry into the Australian Capital Territory, where Veris has provided construction set out services in addition to complex titling solutions including Stratum Subdivision, Community Title and Unit Titles for:

- Geocon - Award of two major mixed use developments from one of the largest developers in Canberra
- Republic and Midnight projects - Comprising nearly 1,800 units, hotel rooms and commercial space that are destined to set a new benchmark for mixed use precincts in Canberra.

Commenting on Veris' recent awards and current market outlook, Veris Managing Director Adam Lamond said:

"Veris continues to support clients on significant development projects across Australia. Veris now has office locations in all states and territories and the insight and capabilities that we are able to deliver services to our clients on a national level will ensure a strong platform for further growth."
