Re: Request for Suspension

Intueri Education Group Limited (ASX: IQE) requests that its securities be suspended from quotation on the ASX with effect from close of trading on 10 January 2017 and provides the following information in accordance with Listing Rule 17.2:

- Intueri previously announced that it has sought and received approval to remove its ordinary shares from the official list of ASX Limited. The suspension will facilitate that delisting, which will occur on close of trading on 17 January 2017. Full details of, and the reasons for, the delisting are described in the letter sent to those shareholders on the Company's Australian register (and released to the ASX on 9 December 2016 and can be viewed on the Company's website.
- The suspension is expected to last until close of business on 17 January 2017 when the Company's ordinary shares will be removed from the official list.
- Intueri is not aware of any reason why its securities should not be suspended.
- Intueri securities will continue to trade on NZX Limited. Shareholdings remaining on the company's Australian register after delisting from the ASX will be transferred to the company's New Zealand register.

Yours faithfully
