

Renewal of Collective Purchasing Agreement with Travellers Choice

29 May 2018

Helloworld Travel Limited (ASX: HLO) today announced that it had renewed the Collective Purchasing Agreement between Helloworld Travel Services Pty Ltd and Travellers Choice Limited.

The current five year arrangement was signed in 2013 and the new agreement will run from 1 July 2018 through to 30 June 2023.

Under the new agreement Travellers Choice has access to the commercial supply arrangements of Helloworld Travel Limited and will purchase the bulk of its travel products and services through these agreements. Travellers Choice has over 145 outlets across Australia.

In addition, Helloworld Travel and Travellers Choice also entered into a renewed five year agreement for Travellers Choice to use Helloworld's ticket consolidation business, Air Tickets.

Andrew Burnes, Helloworld Travel CEO said he was delighted to continue with the partnership between Helloworld Travel Limited and Travellers Choice Limited and he thanked Travellers Choice Limited Manager Director, Christian Hunter for his continued commitment to the partnership.

Mr Hunter said the partnership with Helloworld Travel was extremely important to the Travellers Choice network throughout Australia and their members benefit significantly from having access to the commercial deals that Helloworld Travel offers through its supplier partnerships within Australia and globally.

"This partnership has been going since 2010 and we are delighted to extend it for a further five years to 2023 as we have seen how well it works for our Travellers Choice Limited business, for our members and our supplier partners" Mr Hunter said
