Future Performance and forward looking statements

This Presentation contains certain “forward looking statements” about CMM which involve subjective judgment and analysis and are subject to significant uncertainties, risks and contingencies including those risk factors associated with the mining industry, many of which are outside the control of, change without notice, and may be unknown to CMM.

These risks and uncertainties include but are not limited to liabilities inherent in mine development and production, geological, mining and processing technical problems, the inability to obtain any additional mine licences, permits and other regulatory approvals required in connection with mining and third party processing operations, competition for amongst other things, capital, acquisition of reserves, undeveloped lands and skilled personnel, incorrect assessments of the value of acquisitions, changes in commodity prices and exchange rate, current and interest fluctuations, various events which could disrupt operations and/or the transportation of mineral products, including labour stoppages and severe weather conditions, the demand for and availability of transportation services, the ability to secure adequate financing and management’s ability to anticipate and manage the foregoing factors and risks.

Statements as to timetable and outcome of the Placement, use of funds, and statements about the plans and strategies of CMM are forward looking statements, as are statements about market and industry trends, which are based on interpretation of market conditions. Forward looking statements can generally be identified by the use of forward looking words such as “anticipate”, “expect”, “likely”, “propose”, “will”, “intend”, “should”, “could”, “may”, “believe”, “forecast”, “estimate”, “target”, “outlook”, “guidance” and other similar expressions within the meaning of securities laws of applicable jurisdictions and include, but are not limited to, the future performance of CMM and the outcome and effects of the Placement and use of proceeds.

No representation, warranty, guarantee or assurance, express or implied, is given or made in relation to any forward looking statement. In particular no representation, warranty or assumption, express or implied, is given in relation to any underlying assumption or that any forward looking statement will be achieved. Actual and future events may vary materially from the forward looking statements and the assumptions on which the forward looking statements were based, because events and actual circumstances frequently do not occur as forecast and future results are subject to known and unknown risks such as changes in market conditions and regulations.

Important Information and Disclaimer

Given these uncertainties, readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such forward looking statements, and should rely on their own independent enquiries, investigations and advice regarding information contained in this Presentation. Any reliance by a reader on the information contained in this Presentation is wholly at the reader's own risk.

Nothing in this Presentation will, under any circumstances (including by reason of this Presentation remaining available and not being superseded or replaced by any other Presentation or publication with respect to CMM or the subject matter of this Presentation), create an implication that there has been no change in the affairs of CMM since the date of this Presentation.

Mount Gibson Gold Project Resource / Reserve Updates⁽¹⁾

Compelling Resource & Reserve Growth

- Targeting data gaps between resource shells, parallel trends, at depth & along strike
- High value drilling - reserves added to date at $30/oz & 7.9oz/meter
- Average pit depth still only 160m
- ORE/Indicated MRE conversion consistent, simply drilling density constrained

Results drive our enthusiasm for UG opportunity - grade, width & continuing at depth

Strategy

- Follow up drilling to extend significant high-grade mineralisation zones beyond current resource shells
- Drilling methodically from known to unknown, understand structure, geometry & extent, maximising value & success.

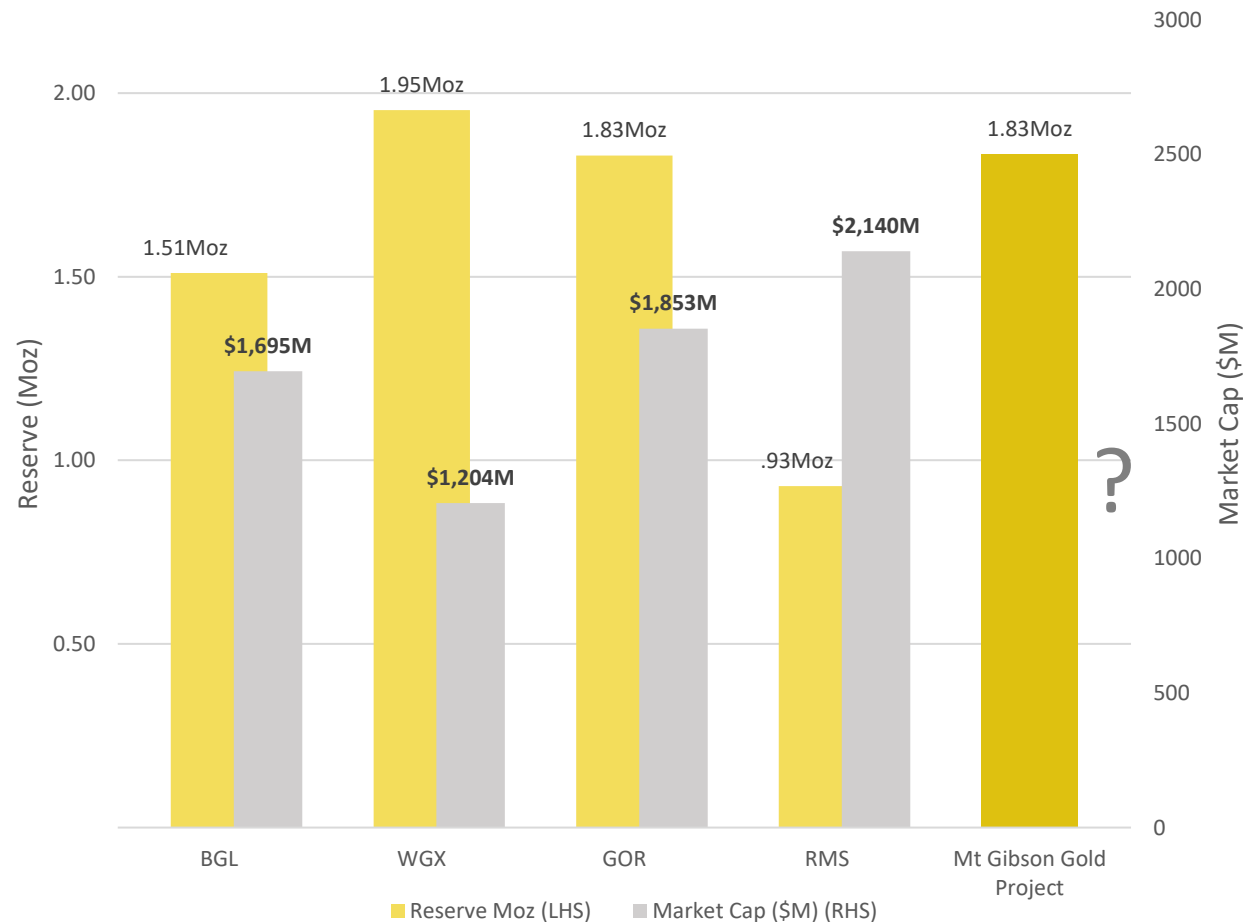

Next steps

- 4,500m diamond programme to commence Q1 after FY24Q4, 2,085m diamond drilling results:
 - 6 of 10 holes returned +30-gram metre intercepts
 - 7m @ 17.44g/t from 251m

What's the prize for developing MGGP?⁽¹⁾

What is the prize for developing MGGP?

1.83Moz ORE & forecast to be a >155kozpa lowest quartile AISC producer

The medium-term value creation opportunity of MGGP for CMM is compelling

CMM driving to permit & develop MGGP as rapidly and efficiently as possible. Permitting pathways take time, but the rewards will be worth it.

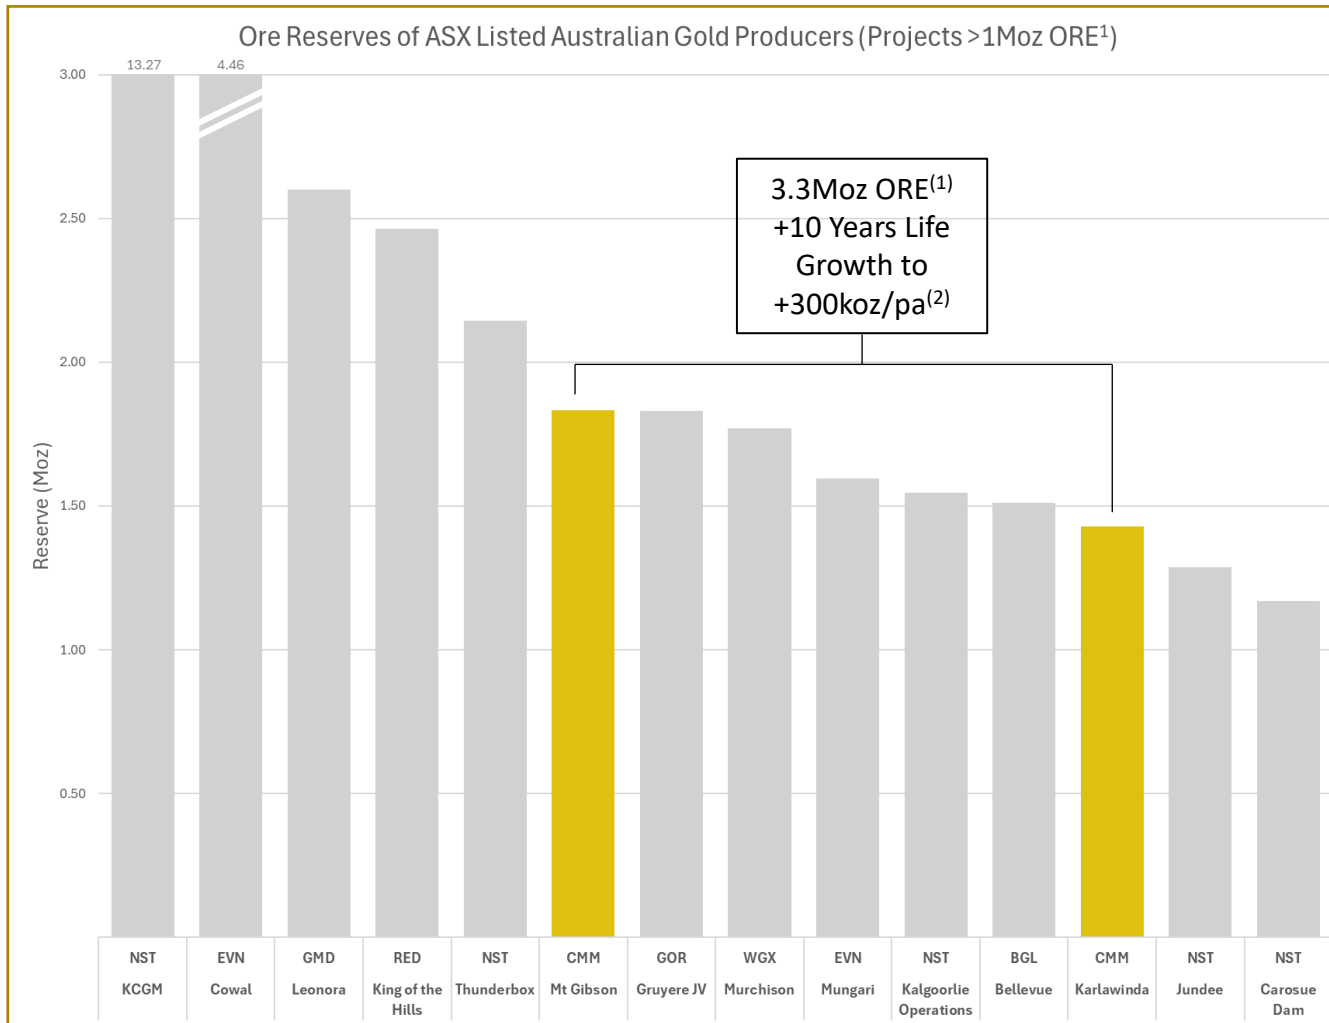

- The scarcity of large, quality Australian gold development assets is VERY real
- Scale & quality of MGGP stands out in the mid-tier sector
- Peer comparisons highlight the project’s significance at both project and “whole company” levels

Key Risks

Key Risks

Gold price volatility and exchange rate risk

The success of CMM's operations is primarily dependent on the price of gold bullion as substantially all of CMM's current revenue and potential revenues are derived from the sale of gold. Gold prices are volatile and may fluctuate as a result of numerous factors, which are beyond the control of CMM.

Such factors include, but are not limited to:

- a. speculative positions taken by investors or traders in gold;
- b. changes in global demand for gold (as an investment and/or for other uses);
- c. global and regional recessions or reduced economic activity and/or inflationary expectations;
- d. financial market expectations regarding the rate of inflation;
- e. the strength of the US dollar (the currency in which gold trades internationally);
- f. gold hedging and de-hedging by gold producers;
- g. decisions made by central banks and multilateral organisations to purchase, hold or sell portions of their gold reserves;
- h. changes in production costs in major gold producing regions, and
- i. domestic or international political or geopolitical events, unrest or hostilities.

Historically, the price of gold has fluctuated widely. The possible adverse consequences of future price declines could include the following:

- a. CMM's operations may become uneconomic because the projected future revenues no longer justify the costs of operation or development;
- b. CMM's revenues may decline to a point at which its operations are uneconomic, as a result of which CMM may cease production;
- c. the value of CMM's assets may decline, causing it to write down asset values and thereby incur losses; and
- d. CMM may be required to restate its gold reserves and resources

The PFS shows that the Mt Gibson Gold Project (MGGP) is financially robust with a short payback period and strong free cashflows at a much lower gold price to spot. Of all variables, the financial outcome is most impacted by changes to revenue factors. Negative changes to the recovered gold or Australian dollar gold price, either by US dollar gold price variation or AUD:USD exchange rate fluctuations would have a direct effect on revenue and derived cashflow.

Other revenue factors such as mining and processing recovery have less of an effect as their range of potential downside impacts has been limited by testwork and previous experience. The free cashflow sensitivity shows that strong economics remain with a A$250/oz change in gold price (from A$2,750/oz to A$2,500/oz), with the pre-tax free cashflow reducing from $1.2 billion to $0.9 billion.

Key Risks

Resource and Reserve estimates

Resource and Reserve estimates are expressions of judgement based on knowledge, experience and industry practice, including compliance with the 2012 JORC Code. By their very nature, these estimates are imprecise and depend on interpretations that may prove to be inaccurate which means that the reconciliation and performance of the Reserve model is a risk that is inherent until production confirms the modelling. Major variances to contained metal in the Reserve will have a negative impact on the revenue generated by the project.

Subject to the results of exploration and testing programmes to be undertaken, the Company has completed an initial scoping study, a prefeasibility study for the MGGP, and may progressively undertake a number of studies in respect to this and other of its projects. The company has also undertaken an expansion study for the operating KGP. These studies may include further scoping, prefeasibility, definitive feasibility and bankable feasibility studies. These studies will be completed within parameters designed to determine the economic feasibility of the projects within certain limits. There can be no guarantee that any of the studies will confirm the economic viability of the projects or the results of other studies undertaken by the Company (e.g. the results of a definitive feasibility study may materially differ to the results of a preliminary feasibility study for a particular project). Even if a study confirms the economic viability of a project, there can be no guarantee that the project will be successfully brought into production as assumed or within the estimated parameters in the relevant feasibility study (e.g. operational costs and commodity prices) once production commences. There is no guarantee production will reflect the resource model for any project. Further, the ability of the Company to complete a study may be dependent on the Company's ability to raise further funds.

Funding risks

The Company currently intends to partly fund the potential development of the MGGP & KGP expansion with free cash flow from KGP. KGP cashflow is currently allowing Capricorn to increase net cash holdings and is expected to continue to do so. Capricorn's corporate lender Macquarie Bank Ltd has provided Capricorn with a non binding, indicative term sheet for the extension of its current facility by an additional $200 million to fund MGGP.

In spite of these current indicative funding sources it is possible cashflow and market conditions could change to the extent that Capricorn may need to rely on access to alternative future funding to develop & expand the projects. An inability to secure project financing could delay the development of the MGGP & expansion of the KGP.

Approval risks

The Company will be reliant on environmental and other regulatory approvals to enable it to proceed with the development of the MGGP & expansion of the KGP. There is no guarantee that the required approvals will be granted, and delays in project permitting may delay the project from commencing production in the proposed timeframe. Early engagement with regulators to raise awareness of the project and the planned scope is ongoing.

Personnel and operating costs

The Western Australian resource economy is currently very active with strong commodity prices. As a result the skilled labour pool (management, technical and blue collar) is relatively inelastic. The cost of energy, labour, materials, services and other operating inputs are at historically high levels on a unit basis and inflationary pressures remain and may impact existing operations operating costs and estimated operating costs in the MGGP PFS.

Key Risks

Operational and development risks

The success of CMM's existing KGP operations will be subject to uncertainty with respect to (among other things): ore tonnes, mine grade, ground conditions, geology, metallurgical recovery or unanticipated metallurgical issues (which may affect extraction costs), infill resource drilling, mill performance, the level of experience of the workforce, operational environment, funding for development, regulatory changes, accidents and other unforeseen circumstances such as unplanned mechanical failure of plant or equipment, or the health and safety of its workforce, storms, floods, bushfires or other natural disasters. Mining operations could also suffer from poor design or poor reliability of equipment, impacts to supply chain, and transport of plant equipment and the workforce to and from site. The occurrence of any of these circumstances could result in the Company not realising its operational or development plans, or plans costing more than expected or taking longer to realise than expected. Any of these outcomes could have an adverse effect on CMM's financial and operational performance.

Possible future development of a mining operation at MGGP or expansion of KGP is dependent on a number of factors including, but not limited to, the acquisition and/or delineation of economically recoverable mineralisation, favourable geological conditions, receiving the necessary approvals from all relevant authorities and parties, seasonal weather patterns, unanticipated technical and operational difficulties encountered in extraction and production activities, mechanical failure of operating plant and equipment, shortages or increases in the price of consumables, spare parts and plant and equipment, cost overruns, and contracting risk from third parties providing essential services. As such, the ability of the Company to develop a mining operation at any of the Company's projects on a timely basis cannot be assured.

The Company's operations may be disrupted by a variety of risks and hazards which are beyond its control, including environmental hazards, flooding and extended interruptions due to inclement or hazardous weather conditions and fires, explosions or accidents or force majeure, hostilities or terrorism, industrial accidents, technical failures, labour disputes, unusual or unexpected rock formations. No assurance can be given that the Company will achieve commercial viability through the development or mining of its projects.

Capricorn's MGGP is at a pre-development stage and potential investors should understand that development of mineral projects is a high risk undertaking. There is no guarantee that the Company will achieve commercial viability through any of its projects, including the MGGP. The Company's success may also depend upon (amongst other things) the Company having access to sufficient development capital, being able to maintain title to its tenements, obtaining all required approvals for its activities and recruiting appropriately skilled personnel. Many of these risks are also beyond the control of the Company. The Company's development costs are based on certain assumptions with respect to the method and timing of development. By their nature, these estimates and assumptions are subject to significant uncertainties and, accordingly, the actual costs may materially differ from these estimates and assumptions. Accordingly, no assurance can be given that the cost estimates and the underlying assumptions will be realised in practice, which may materially and adversely affect the Company's viability.

Development of a commercial mining operation is also dependent on the Company's ability to obtain necessary titles and governmental and other regulatory and third party approvals. While the Company has been granted the Mining Lease for the MGGP by the Western Australian Department of Mines, Industry Regulation and Safety, the grant of the Mining Lease does not allow for the commencement of development which remains subject to statutory, including environmental approvals.

The risks associated with the development of a mine will be considered in full should the projects reach that stage and will be managed with ongoing consideration of stakeholder interest. The risk also includes that the Company may not be able to obtain adequate insurance at an appropriate price or at all.

Key Risks

In the event that the crisis management plans are not implemented adequately, the impact of a crisis can be significant and it can attract adverse media reports or reputational damage. The Company may incur additional costs or experience additional delays in responding and recovering. The Company has implemented a Crisis Management Plan. The CMP has linkages to the Company's Incident Management and Emergency Management Plans. The CMP, IMP and EMP all aim to reduce the impact on the people and assets of the Company and allow the Company to respond quickly to events and minimise risk.

Amount of Pre-Production Capital

The current capital expenditure estimates for the MGGP and KGP are at PFS level and are subject to change. The PFS mine development capital estimates do not include a contingency provision as has been the Company's practice on previous developments. Management will however seek to establish sufficient funding in order to cover cost escalation contingencies. Preproduction mining costs also include assumptions as to commissioning time-frames, costs and revenues.

Supply and third party risks

The equipment specified in the open pit mine plan for existing operations and the MGGP is relatively generic in WA, but the supply is less elastic in the short term as major items (trucks, excavators and ancillary equipment) are generally imported. Countering this supply risk, WA has well established equipment refurbishing capacity so that if new equipment cannot be immediately sourced, refurbished equipment may be available.

The Company will rely significantly on strategic relationships with material, equipment and service providers. The Company will also rely on third parties to provide essential contracting services. There can be no assurance that its existing relationships will continue to be maintained or that new ones will be successfully formed. The project could be adversely affected by changes to such relationships or difficulties in forming new ones.

Exploration risks

The Company's tenements (including those for which it may have rights to acquire) include a number of prospects which have had significant exploration works undertaken and are considered to be at an advanced stage. The Company intends to continue its extensive exploration work.

The exploration costs of the Company are based on certain assumptions with respect to the method and timing of exploration. By their nature, these estimates and assumptions are subject to significant uncertainties and, accordingly, the actual costs may materially differ from these estimates and assumptions. Accordingly, no assurance can be given that the cost estimates and the underlying assumptions will be realised in practice, which may materially and adversely affect the Company's viability.

There is no assurance that, exploration and development of the mineral interests currently held by the Company or any other projects that may be acquired by the Company in the future, will result in an economic deposit. Even if an apparently viable deposit is identified, there is no guarantee that these can be profitably exploited. Potential investors should understand these are high-risk undertakings.

Key Risks

Returns risks

The New Shares to be issued pursuant to this Offer carry no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, returns of capital or the market value of those New Shares, which are a speculative investment. The last trading price of shares in the Company on ASX prior to the presentation being lodged is not a reliable indicator as to the potential trading price of shares in the Company following completion of the Offer. There is no guarantee of liquidity. Further, the acquisition and disposal of shares will have tax consequences, which will differ depending on the individual financial affairs of each investor. The Company accepts no liability responsibility with respect to tax consequences for investors. Potential investors should consider that their investment in the Company is highly speculative and should consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to apply for New Shares pursuant to this Offer.

The Company's ability to benefit from any future mining operations will depend on market factors, some of which may be beyond its control. The world market for minerals is subject to many variables and may fluctuate markedly. General economic conditions, movements in interest and inflation rates and currency exchange rates may also have an adverse effect on the Company's exploration, development and production activities, as well as on its ability to fund those activities.

Regulatory risks

The Company's interests in tenements are governed by the Mining Act 1978 (WA) and regulations that are current in Western Australia and are evidenced by the granting of licences or leases. Each licence or lease is for a specific term and carries with it annual expenditure and reporting commitments, as well as other conditions requiring compliance. Consequently, the Company could lose title to or its interest in the tenements if licence conditions are not met or if insufficient funds are available to meet expenditure commitments.

There are no guarantees that the tenements that are subject to renewal will be renewed or that any applications for exemption from minimum expenditure conditions will be granted, each of which would adversely affect the standing of a tenement. A number of the tenements may be subject to additional conditions, penalties, objections or forfeiture applications in the future. Alternatively, applications, transfers, conversions or renewals may be refused or may not be approved with favourable terms. Any of these events could have a materially adverse effect on the Company's prospects and the value of its assets.

Further, the Company is subject to other laws and regulations, including relating to exploration, mining, processing, development, tax, labour, subsidies, royalties, environmental impact and land access. Any materially adverse changes to government application, policy or legislation in relevant areas, or community or government attitudes could impact the assets, profitability or viability of the Project.

The Company is not aware of any reviews or changes that would affect its current or proposed interests in tenements. However, changes in political and community attitudes on matters such as taxation, competition or foreign investment policy and environmental issues may bring about reviews and possibly changes in government policies. There is a risk that such changes may affect the Company's exploration and/or development plans or its rights and obligations in respect of the tenements in which it holds interests. Any such government action may also require increased capital or operating expenditures and could prevent or delay development of the MGGP & expansion of the KGP.

Covid-19

Supply chain disruptions resulting from the transmission of COVID-19 in the community and measures implemented by governments around the world to limit the transmission of the virus have impacted the mining industry over the past several years. Further outbreaks of COVID-19 or other pandemics could adversely impact the Company's operations, financial position, prospects and ability to raise capital.

Key Risks

Land access risks

Utilisation of land for exploration and development purposes can be adversely affected by land ownership, including private (freehold) land, pastoral lease and native title land or claims under the Native Title Act 1993 (Cth) (NTA) (or similar legislation in the jurisdiction where the Company operates). The effect of the NTA is that existing and new tenements held by CMM may be affected by native title claims and procedures. There is a potential risk that a determination could be made that native title exists in relation to land the subject of a tenement held or to be held by CMM which may affect the operation of CMM's business and development activities.

It is also possible that, in relation to tenements which the Company has an interest in or will in the future acquire such an interest, there may be areas over which legitimate rights of traditional owners or surface rights holders exist. In this case, the ability of the Company to gain access to tenements (through obtaining consent of any relevant traditional owner, body, group or landowner), or to progress from the exploration phase to the development and mining phases of operations may be adversely affected. The Company's mineral titles may also be subject to access by third parties including, but not limited to, the areas' traditional owners. This access could potentially impact the Company's activities and/or may involve payment of compensation to parties whose existing access to the land may be affected by the Company's activities.

The Company is a party to a number of heritage agreements in relation to the Company's tenements. The agreements set out the Company's obligations in respect of the management and preservation of Aboriginal Sites within the tenements which the Company considers to be on standard terms for an agreement of this type. In relation to tenements which the Company has an interest in or will in the future acquire such an interest, there may be other areas or objects of Aboriginal heritage. If further Aboriginal heritage sites or objects exist, the Company may need to enter into agreements with the traditional owners of the sites. The ability of the Company to implement its work programme may be adversely affected in both time and cost.

Personnel and labour risks

Poor ESG decisions, implementation of policies or practices can materially adversely impact the Company's social licence to operate.

The responsibility of overseeing the day-to-day operations and the strategic management of the Company depends substantially on its senior management and its key personnel. Key personnel are important to attaining the business goals of the Company. The Company believes that it has, in general, good relations with its employees and contractors. There can be no assurance given that there will be no detrimental impact on the Company if one or more of these employees cease their employment and handover process is not undertaken if replacement is not sought in time.

Critical functions of the Company's operations may be affected in the short to medium term as replacement key personnel are sought, which can incur additional costs or experience loss of productivity during the recruitment and onboarding phases. The Company is also exposed to a general resources industry risk of not being able to appoint operational personnel on reasonable terms if labour costs in the resources industry increase. In these circumstances the Company's operating and financial performance may be adversely affected.

There can also be no assurance that the Company's operations or those of its contractors will not be affected by labour related problems in the future, such as disputes relating to wages or requests for increased benefits. There are risks associated with staff including attracting and retaining key personnel and, no matter where located, staff acting out of their permitted authority and with contractors not acting in accordance with the Company's policies.

Key Risks

Health, safety and security risk

Mining activities have inherent hazards and risks. The Company is committed to providing a safe and healthy workplace and environment for its personnel, contractors and visitors. The Company provides appropriate instructions, equipment, preventative measures, first aid information, medical facilities and training to all stakeholders through its health and safety management system.

A serious site health and safety incident may result in significant interruptions and delays in the Project. A health and safety incident which results in serious injury, illness or death may also expose the Company to significant penalties and the Company may be liable for compensation. These liabilities may not be covered by the Company's insurance policies or, if they are covered, may exceed the Company's policy limits or be subject to significant deductibles. Also, any claim under the Company's insurance policies could increase the Company's future costs of insurance.

Accordingly, any liabilities for workplace accidents could have a material adverse impact on the Company's liquidity and financial results and reputation. In addition, it is not possible to anticipate the effect on the Company's business of any changes to workplace health and safety legislation or directions necessitated by concern for the health of the workforce. Such changes may have an adverse impact on the financial performance and/or financial position of the Company.

Further, the production processes used in conducting any future mining activities of Capricorn can be dangerous. The Company has, and intends to maintain, a range of workplace practices, procedures and policies which will seek to provide a safe and healthy working environment for its employees, visitors and the community. The Company has also taken out and maintains what it considers to be an adequate level of workers compensation insurance.

The Company has in place a group health and safety management system to ensure significant risks have robust sustainable safety critical controls. If the health and safety management system is not implemented or complied with adequately, there is a risk that serious health and safety incident may occur which can result in delays in the Project as described above.

Third party risks

The Company, although it has no material litigation on foot, is exposed to the risks of litigation and disputes

The Company is and may in the future become a party to further joint venture agreements governing the exploration and development of its projects. There is a risk that one of the Company's joint venture partners or other contractors may default in their joint venture obligations or not act in the best interests of the joint venture. There is a risk of insolvency or managerial failure by any of the contractors or other suppliers used by the Company in any of its activities, or that any of those agreements are terminated in accordance with their terms. There is also a risk of legal or other disputes between the Company and co-venturers or contractors or other suppliers. This may have an adverse effect on the interests and prospects of the Company.

Environmental and climate risks

The operations and proposed activities of the Company are subject to State and Federal laws and regulations concerning the environment. As with most exploration projects and mining operations, the Company's activities are expected to have an impact on the environment, particularly if advanced exploration or mine development proceed. It is the Company's intention to conduct its activities to the highest standard of environmental obligation, including compliance with all environmental laws. The flora and fauna surrounding the Company's projects may require certain adjustments to project planning.

Key Risks

Mining operations have inherent risks and liabilities associated with safety and damage to the environment and the disposal of waste products occurring as a result of mineral exploration and production. The occurrence of any such safety or environmental incident could delay production or increase production costs. Weather events, such as unpredictable rainfall or bushfires may impact on the Company's ongoing operations and compliance with environmental legislation, regulations and licences. There is a risk that environmental laws and regulations become more onerous making the Company's operations more expensive than anticipated. Approvals are required for land clearing and for ground disturbing activities. Delays in obtaining such approvals can result in the delay to anticipated exploration programmes or mining activities.

Climate change is a risk that the Company has considered, particularly related to its operations in the mining industry. The climate change risks particularly attributable to the Company include the emergence of new or expanded regulations associated with the transitioning to a lower carbon economy and market changes related to climate change mitigation. The Company may be impacted by changes to local or international compliance regulations related to climate change mitigation efforts, or by specific taxation or penalties for carbon emissions or environmental damage. Climate change may cause certain physical and environmental risks that cannot be predicted by the Company. Subsequent to the Company's release of the PFS, new data may emerge that could require the Company to amend its climate change mitigation strategies which may incur additional costs. The Company will update the market if amended reports or submissions are required in relation to its climate change strategies.

Metallurgical risks

Metal and/or mineral recoveries are dependent on the metallurgical process that is required to liberate economic minerals and produce a saleable product and by nature contain elements of significant risk such as identifying a metallurgical process through test work to produce a saleable metal and/or concentrate, developing an economic process route to produce a metal and/or concentrate and changes in mineralogy in the ore deposit can result in inconsistent metal recovery, affecting economic viability.

Conditions and renewal of licences

The permits and agreements on the KGP and MGGP projects are governed by Australian legislation and are evidenced by the granting of permits and agreements and the extension of such permits and agreements. Each permit, agreement or extension is for a specific term and carries with it annual expenditure and reporting commitments, as well as other conditions requiring compliance. There is a risk that tenements, environmental consents and any other land use approvals may not be granted, obtained or renewed, may be granted, obtained or renewed on terms that are not satisfactory to the Company, or may be obtained granted or renewed but not within the timeframes anticipated by the Company. This could have a material adverse effect on the Company's operations and financial performance.

Insurance

CMM's business is subject to a number of risks and hazards generally, including adverse environmental conditions, industrial accidents, labour disputes, code of conduct breaches, unusual or unexpected geological conditions, ground or slope failures and natural phenomena such as inclement weather conditions (including cyclones), floods and earthquakes. Such occurrences could result in damage to mining or production facilities, personnel injury or death, environmental damage to CMM's properties and the properties of others, delays in development or mining, monetary losses and possible legal liability.

Although CMM maintains insurance to protect against certain risks in such amounts as it considers it to be reasonable, its insurance will not cover all of the potential risks associated with its operations. CMM may also be unable to maintain insurance to cover those risks at economically feasible premiums. Insurance coverage may not continue to be available or may not be adequate to cover any resulting liability. Losses from any of these events may cause CMM to incur significant costs that could have a material adverse effect on its financial performance and results of operations.

Key Risks

Cyber risk

Breaches of cyber security is a growing global risk as the volume and sophistication of threats have increased. Risks include unauthorised access to data and information leading to reputational damage and/or risk of litigation, malicious attacks that result in outages and service and, potentially, revenue disruption; ransom demands with direct financial consequence to the business; failure to comply with regulatory standards risks, financial fines or restrictions to conduct business; and business interruption and availability of systems following a breach. The Company and the Company's agents already rely and will increasingly rely on information technology platforms and software including enterprise resource planning systems to manage many or all aspects of their operations. These systems are potentially susceptible to malfunction, network failures, maintenance issues, outages, willful or accidental or mistaken use or data entry, theft or misuse, acts of vandalism, hacking, sabotage, viruses, spear phishing, and ransomware attacks. The occurrence of one or more of these events or attacks could significantly compromise the Company's operations resulting in loss or damage to the Company.

The Company may also collect personnel or sensitive information from individuals in connection with the conduct of its operations, both from individuals in Australia and from jurisdictions outside Australia. The Company or its employees may intentionally or inadvertently collect personal or sensitive information or use such information contrary to applicable laws, which could result in significant loss or damage, including reputational damage to the Company. In addition, the risks described above could also result in breaches of data security, loss of critical data, and the release, misuse or misappropriation of sensitive personal information, potentially leading to claims for loss or damage from third parties affected by, or civil or criminal claims from regulators arising from, such breaches, loss or release.

The risks outlined above are also applicable to circumstances where there are otherwise information technology and system outages or loss of data whether via system failure, power source, third party hosting failures or other adverse events.

Speculative investment

The above list of risk factors ought not to be taken as exhaustive of the risks faced by the Company or by investors in the Company. The above factors, and others not specifically referred to above, may in the future materially affect the financial performance of the Company and the value of its shares. Shares issued in the Company carry no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, returns of capital or the market value of the shares. Potential investors should consider that the investment in the Company is highly speculative and should consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to apply for shares in the Company.

Appendix C

International Offer Restrictions

International Offer Restrictions

This document does not constitute an offer of new ordinary shares (“New Shares”) of the Company in any jurisdiction in which it would be unlawful. In particular, this document may not be distributed to any person, and the New Shares may not be offered or sold, in any country outside Australia except to the extent permitted below.

Canada (British Columbia and Ontario provinces)

This document constitutes an offering of New Shares only in the Provinces of British Columbia and Ontario (the “Provinces”), only to persons to whom New Shares may be lawfully distributed in the Provinces, and only by persons permitted to sell such securities. This document is not a prospectus, an advertisement or a public offering of securities in the Provinces. This document may only be distributed in the Provinces to persons who are “accredited investors” within the meaning of National Instrument 45-106 – Prospectus Exemptions, of the Canadian Securities Administrators.

No securities commission or authority in the Provinces has reviewed or in any way passed upon this document, the merits of the New Shares or the offering of the New Shares and any representation to the contrary is an offence.

No prospectus has been, or will be, filed in the Provinces with respect to the offering of New Shares or the resale of such securities. Any person in the Provinces lawfully participating in the offer will not receive the information, legal rights or protections that would be afforded had a prospectus been filed and receipted by the securities regulator in the applicable Province. Furthermore, any resale of the New Shares in the Provinces must be made in accordance with applicable Canadian securities laws. While such resale restrictions generally do not apply to a first trade in a security of a foreign, non-Canadian reporting issuer that is made through an exchange or market outside Canada, Canadian purchasers should seek legal advice prior to any resale of the New Shares.

The Company as well as its directors and officers may be located outside Canada and, as a result, it may not be possible for purchasers to effect service of process within Canada upon the Company or its directors or officers. All or a substantial portion of the assets of the Company and such persons may be located outside Canada and, as a result, it may not be possible to satisfy a judgment against the Company or such persons in Canada or to enforce a judgment obtained in Canadian courts against the Company or such persons outside Canada.

Any financial information contained in this document has been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and also comply with International Financial Reporting Standards and interpretations issued by the International Accounting Standards Board. Unless stated otherwise, all dollar amounts contained in this document are in Australian dollars.

Statutory rights of action for damages and rescission.

Securities legislation in certain Provinces may provide a purchaser with remedies for rescission or damages if an offering memorandum contains a misrepresentation, provided the remedies for rescission or damages are exercised by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed by the securities legislation of the purchaser’s Province. A purchaser may refer to any applicable provision of the securities legislation of the purchaser’s Province for particulars of these rights or consult with a legal adviser.

Certain Canadian income tax considerations.

Prospective purchasers of the New Shares should consult their own tax adviser with respect to any taxes payable in connection with the acquisition, holding or disposition of the New Shares as there are Canadian tax implications for investors in the Provinces.
