Funding Agreement Update

Cougar Metals NL (Cougar or the Company) (ASX: CGM) provides an update on the funding agreement with the Australian Special Opportunity Fund, LP, an entity managed by New York based, The Lind Partners, LLC (Together, Lind).

As previously announced, pursuant to the funding agreement Cougar has to date issued two tranches of convertible notes to Lind, with a combined face value of $960,000.

In order to minimise potential dilution to shareholders, the Company has negotiated to defer the conversion of the convertible notes held by Lind while the Company's share price is relatively low as a result of overall poor market sentiment.

Lind and Cougar have agreed to defer any convertible note conversion until 31 March 2019 in return for the issue of 25,000,000 fully paid ordinary shares in Cougar at a deemed issue price of $0.002 per share.

This share issue will utilise the Company's existing placement capacity. An appendix 3B and cleansing statement is following.

Further the Company has agreed to forgive Lind's collateral share liability.

The Cougar Directors believe the deferment of the convertible note is in the best interests of the Company given the current market conditions.

Enquiries for further information regarding the Company's activities can be sent to info@cgm.com.au.
