

ASX ANNOUNCEMENT

Wrkr Pilot New Employer Services with Link Group's Rest Super

Sydney, 14 December 2023 — Wrkr Ltd (ASX: WRK) (Wrkr or Company), an innovator in workforce compliance solutions, is delighted to announce a strategic milestone following the recent contract update with Link Group (Link) as announced on September 25, 2023. Rest, one of Australia's largest profit-to-member superannuation funds and a strategic partner of Link, has agreed to trial the Wrkr platform with a selection of its employers. The trial will pilot a range of innovative solutions aimed at transforming superannuation onboarding and contribution processes.

Link's decision to opt for Wrkr's platform not only signifies a leap forward in shaping the future of workforce compliance solutions but also underscores Link's dedication to introducing new technology and innovation to their client funds.

Rest, with nearly two million members and around $75 billion in funds under management, is well-positioned to pilot new employer experiences. Rest is recognised as a leading super fund for digital experience, including through its "Rest App" used by nearly 10,000 members a day.

The previously announced collaboration with Link encompasses a branded Employer Portal, Clearing House, and Gateway services. These services plus Wrkr's digital onboarding will be piloted with a select group of Rest's employers, showcasing the platform's potential to improve the experience for members and employers during onboarding and the contribution payment process.

Rest Chief Service Officer Brendan Daly said: "Onboarding and payroll processes associated with superannuation can create friction for employers when it comes to meeting their obligations. This can flow through to how funds engage with members and therefore how well these members engage with their super."

"Employers will soon be expected to meet increased superannuation obligations. We are focused on helping employers through these changes as this will ultimately support members to achieve their best-possible retirement outcomes."

"We look forward to collaborating with Link and Wrkr on this pilot to help employers meet these obligations in an innovative way."

Wrkr has already observed significant benefits for employers using Wrkr solutions, including enhanced user security, improved productivity, reduced errors, enriched employee experiences and improved adherence to compliance requirements.

The addition of integrated Pay, Super and Single Touch Payroll functionality is expected to drive significant efficiency and support Payday Super reforms expected in July 2026.

Wrkr anticipates the program to result in a compelling platform and employer experience offering for Link to offer their client funds.

Trent Lund, CEO of Wrkr, expressed enthusiasm about the collaboration: "We are pleased to collaborate with Rest, one of Australia's largest profit-to-member superannuation funds committed to transforming the employer and member experience. Through our collaboration with Link and now Rest, Wrkr aims to set an innovative benchmark for funds in supporting their employers ahead of the proposed Payday Super reforms."
