June 2025 Quarterly Report

Project due diligence ongoing– Brumby CSIRO- ANU bioleach initial batch tests underway

KEY POINTS

Project Generation

- The Company is actively engaged in technical and financial due diligence on multiple high-calibre project opportunities, both within Australia and internationally
- Bellavista has reviewed in excess of 50 projects with the potential to host world-class scaled gold, silver or copper deposits. Bellavista is seeking Projects that can deliver substantial value growth for shareholders

Corporate

- As at 30 June 2025, Bellavista remains well funded with cash on hand of $4.15m

Exploration

- The Brumby Project Industry PhD program with CSIRO and ANU is underway. The study is trialling processing techniques for Brumby HEBS mineralisation focussing on bio-leaching the broad list of critical and strategic minerals present. Initial bench-top batch tests have commenced this quarter. Results from these initial tests will determine the preferred conditions to refine and maximise target mineral recoveries as the study progresses
- Recognising the immense scale of the Brumby Deposit and surrounding district to host critical and strategic minerals, Bellavista continues to engage interested parties regarding potential funding and development solutions for those assets.

Bellavista Resources Limited (ASX: BVR) (“Bellavista” or the “Company”) is pleased to present its June 2025 Quarterly Report.

The Bellavista team is dedicated to delivering shareholder value through value-accretive corporate transactions followed by well-executed exploration.

New Project Due Diligence

Bellavista is seeking complementary project opportunities that appeal to our financial backers and represent accretionary value to our shareholders.

The Company has been actively undertaking technical due diligence on several high-quality project opportunities, both domestically and abroad. The projects are initially vetted by our technical committee and are dominated by advanced precious and base metal opportunities, which show a pathway to rapid value realisation and/or the potential to host World-class deposits.

So far, the process has seen in excess of fifty (50) high-quality opportunities being reviewed in detail, with a number of these opportunities progressing through the due diligence process. Whilst no binding terms have been reached so far, the team is confident that an appropriate asset/opportunity can be secured, given the recent success of other companies with common directors, advisors and major shareholders, following similar acquisitions.*

Bellavista's Board and Management look forward to keeping the market and stakeholders informed of any material progress on this process.

Exploration

Bellavista's Brumby deposit is a potential world-class scaled hyper-enriched black shale ("HEBS") mineral system. The mineralisation appears continuous, consistent and seam-like in nature, being 20-30m thick and has been intersected in 1km spaced drilling along 12km of strike and 5km of breadth, within a shallow dipping and shallow plunging anti-form (refer ASX releases dated 8 September 2022, 12 December 2022, 15 June 2023, 12 December 2023, and 27 March 2024). Critical and Strategic minerals reporting to the HEBS horizon include Zinc, Vanadium, Copper, Silver, Molybdenum, Nickel, Gallium, Antimony, platinum group metals ("PGMs"), Gold and a number of rare earth elements ("REEs"), including Yttrium.

Recognising the immense scale potential of the Brumby Deposit as a prospective source of Critical and Strategic minerals, in parallel to the bioleaching studies discussed below, Bellavista continues to engage interested parties regarding possible funding and development solutions for the asset.

Industry PhD Program

Bellavista was approached to participate as an industry partner in the recently-formed Critical Resources Research Centre ("CRRC") at the University of Western Australia ("UWA"). The CRRC is a collaboration between Australia's preeminent science division, the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation ("CSIRO"), and Science Research Schools at Australian National University ("ANU"), UWA, Queensland University and University of South Australia, with support from the National and State based Mineral divisions.

The Brumby Project was identified as a candidate project to study innovative mineral processing techniques, after Bellavista's initial exploration activities quickly recognised that the mineralisation was a HEBS, similar to other super-giant critical and base metal deposits found globally (refer Figure 1).

Our PhD candidate will be examining the potential extraction of the contained metals from Brumby HEBS mineralisation using bioleaching techniques (similar to those used at Terrafame's Talvivaara Mine in Finland), under the guidance of CSIRO and ANU research supervisors.

The three (3) year study commenced during March with batches of Brumby HEBS mineralisation already delivered to CSIRO's laboratories in Perth. In the initial phase, attempts will be made to bioleach the mineralisation using bacteria the CSIRO already have in their possession. However, like Talvivaara, which uses indigenous bacteria identified and collected from the site, the study team are seeking to collect bacteria-rich material directly from the Brumby site.

Samples of ground water, soil sediment near the mineralised horizon, and oxidised mineralisation can be good sample media. These will be collected in an effort to identify and grow colonies of local bacteria that are already present and leaching sulphide mineralisation at and around the water table and weathered surfaces of the Brumby deposit.

If successful, this could improve the overall bioleaching effectiveness by utilising bacteria that is already present and active in the atmospheric and sub-terranean conditions at the Brumby Project.

On 27 May 2025, the Company announced that Nicolle Fleming had resigned as a Company Secretary to pursue other opportunities. Existing Company Secretary Ms Maddison Cramer continues as the sole Company Secretary of Bellavista.
