Mantle Minerals Limited (ASX:MTL) (“Mantle”) (“the Company”) is pleased to provide the following report on its activities for the quarter ended 30 September 2024.

SUMMARY OF EXPLORATION ACTIVITIES

Gold Projects – Mount Berghaus and Roberts Hill

During the quarter, the Company announced that first pass aircore drilling on the Mt Berghaus tenement E45/5899 returned excellent discovery results, indicating 800m strike length of gold mineralisation over 0.2g/t in six successive holes. The best composited intersection is 12m @ 1.37g/t gold, which includes 4m @ 3.57g/t gold, in drill hole MMAC 0218. These intersections come from basement rocks and are accompanied by anomalous arsenic, consistent with gold deposits associated with the giant Hemi deposit less than 10km away.

Table 1: Mount Berghaus Significant Aircore Intersections over 0.2g/t gold

Hole MMAC 0215 ended in mineralisation that was semi-fresh rock with euhedral crystals of pyrite; while mineralisation in hole MMAC 0220 was semi-fresh rock and associated with quartz and feldspar. These observations were consistent with primary gold mineralisation.

The re-interpretation of aeromagnetic data showed that the rocks in this area might be folded; and exploration experience in the greater region indicated that mineralisation is often focused in fold hinges, so the interpreted fold hinges between holes MMAC 0215 and 0227 are particularly prospective.

Isolated and about 5km to the northwest of MMAC 0220, drill hole MMAC 0209 returned a significant intersection of 8m @ 0.838g/t and 12m @ 0.038g/t gold and ended in mineralisation.

To reduce sampling and assay costs across the program, samples were aggregated into four metre interval composites. An end of hole sample, of one metre interval, provided an additional record for both rock type and oxidation, to confirm the drill hole reached maximum penetration in fresh rock.

Both the four metre composite samples and the one metre end of hole samples were submitted to ALS Laboratory to determine their gold content by fire assay method. ALS also analysed residual pulps for arsenic and other elements by XRF, and significant intersections were analysed for more detailed multi-element geochemistry.

In September 2024, the Company commenced deep reverse circulation drilling of 11 RC holes up to 280m deep at Roberts Hill and Mount Berghaus, to test gold mineralisation from the aircore drilling results, many of which contained over 0.5g/t gold in basement rocks.

These intersections were located within oxidised and semi-oxidised rocks. Many gold deposits in the area were discovered with RC drilling underneath similar aircore intersections, as gold mineralisation was depleted within the oxidised zone and deeper drilling intersected more gold in the fresh basement rocks below.
