Diversified contractor Brierty Limited (ASX: BYL) is pleased to announce it has been awarded a $27 million contract by Main Roads Western Australia for the upgrade of Great Eastern Highway between Bullabulling and Coolgardie, in the Goldfields region of Western Australia.

Works will include designing and constructing 36 kilometers of widening, overlay and reconstruction of earthworks, pavements, drainage, and associated road infrastructure. Design works will commence this month with the contract expected to be completed by June 2015.

Brierty Managing Director, Peter McBain, said it was an important project to be selected by Main Roads Western Australia for Brierty's design and construction expertise of regional roads.

"Brierty has a long history with Main Roads and we have continued to win repeat business by consistently completing projects successfully and safely," Mr McBain said.

"In regional WA we have completed works for Main Roads, including upgrades to sections of the Great Northern Highway in the Wheatbelt and Port Hedland, and the Great Eastern Highway in the Eastern Wheatbelt.

"Most recently we were awarded a contract to upgrade part of the Coalfields Highway in the State's South West, where works are continuing.

"We greatly value Brierty's longstanding relationship with Main Roads and look forward to successfully and safely delivering on this project."
