Trade Me appoints new Chief Financial Officer

Trade Me has appointed Jonathan Klouwens as its new Chief Financial Officer.

Mr Klouwens has been the CFO at House of Travel for the last three years. He was previously with Lion Nathan in Australia and New Zealand for 15 years where he held a variety of roles, including NZ strategy director and four years as NZ finance director. He will start at Trade Me in March.

Trade Me CEO Jon Macdonald said he was looking forward to Mr Klouwens joining the executive team. "It's fantastic to have someone of such high calibre joining us - Jonathan's experience will be a real asset for Trade Me and our shareholders."

Mr Klouwens said the role was an energising new challenge for him. "Trade Me is one of New Zealand's most well-known and exciting businesses and having only just listed on the NZX and ASX, it's a great time to be joining."

Vince Betham, Trade Me's acting CFO, will remain with the business and will develop Trade Me's financial performance function, as well as growing Trade Me's Pay Now service and other payments initiatives.
