

ASX Announcement 3 October 2013

APPOINTMENT OF NEW DIRECTOR

The Board of Planet Metals Limited (ASX: PMQ) has today appointed Mr Adam Colrain as a non-executive director.

Mr Colrain has extensive experience as a civil engineer and has held senior positions within the civil construction industry. Mr Colrain has as a result of his background in civil engineering been involved with the approval processes at state government level for the mining sector. Mr Colrain has for a number of years run his own project management company dealing with many development projects and stakeholders.

The Board looks forward to working with Mr Colrain to advance current assets and the evaluation and generation of future opportunities.
