ENGAGEMENT OF DR PETER CROWHURST

Coppermoly Limited is pleased to announce that it has engaged the services of Dr Peter Crowhurst on a contractual basis.

Over the last six years, Dr. Crowhurst was employed as a Senior and Principal Geologist for Nautilus Minerals. Previous technical roles have included engagement as Senior Project Geologist with Teck Cominco focussing on Cu-Au porphyry mineralisation in PNG and six years as a Research Scientist at CSIRO and as a structural geologist with Highlands Pacific.

Dr Crowhurst completed his BSc at Adelaide University, his MSc at Monash University and his PhD, on the "Tectonic History of Northern Papua New Guinea" at La Trobe University in 1999.

As a highly regarded and exceptionally well-credentialed geologist, his extensive exploration and structural geology expertise in Papua New Guinea bodes particularly well for Coppermoly's ongoing exploration activities in West New Britain.
